G.O.P. GOVERNORS TO AGREE ON WAYS TO ATTACK F. D. R.

Dewey's 15-Point Program for Session Will Form Basis of Domestic Issues.

SEEKS TO RECONCILE DIVERGENT VIEWS

Session Expected to Amplify Platform, Particularly on U. S. Aid to States.

BY RAYMOND P. BRANDT
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

The 15-point program outlined by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York for the two-day conference of 26 Republican Governors beginning here Wednesday morning will form the basis of his presidential campaign on domestic issues.

The objectives of the session will be to define and amplify the party platform and Gov. Dewey's views on states' rights, to reconcile the divergent attitudes of various geographic regions on Federal aid and to find a common ground of attack on the Roosevelt Administration.

The New York Governor will remain in St. Louis until Friday evening to hold half-hour conferences with leaders of agricultural, Negro, labor, women, industrial, veteran and political organizations. These meetings will be part of his personal campaign to become acquainted with the voters.

Platform Covered Conflicts.

The platform adopted unanimously by the Republican convention was broad enough to cover the conflicting views of the western and eastern areas, and the "poor" and "richer" states. The final resolutions of the St. Louis meeting are not expected to renounce Federal aids and subsidies, but are likely to follow the thought of the platform that "The remedies we propose shall be based on intelligent co-operation between the Federal Government and the states and local governments and the initiative of civic groups, not on the panacea of Federal cash."

The phrase "intelligent co-operation" leaves the Federal Treasury open for continuation of payments to local groups, but with the spending supervised by local officials. On his way to St. Louis Dewey took the same view when he said the conference would produce "solutions to the frictions created during the past 12 years."

States' Rights on Insurance.

The nearest approach to the old states' rights doctrine probably will be unanimous approval of the platform plank on insurance. The platform insisted on "strict and

FEARFUL NEW U. S. WEAPON PROMISING DEVASTATION FOR JAPAN, 'PROVED' ON TINIAN

By CLINTON GREEN
Representing the Combined American Press.

ABOARD EXPEDITIONARY FLAGSHIP OFF TINIAN, Marianas Islands, July 31 (AP). (Via Navy Radio.)

ONE of the most fearful instruments of death from America's arsenal of secret weapons is aiding immeasurably in the whirlwind conquest of Tinian Island.

Effectiveness of the secret weapon has been definitely proved. It is truly fearful and it is extremely doubtful whether any human within 100 feet of its action would be able to live.

It is easy to forsee the devastation and death which would result from its use on such targets as the crowded cities of the Japanese homeland.

First use of the weapon came several days ago, but because of security reasons it is impossible to even hint at its construction or its manner of use.

NAZIS DENY REPORTS ROMMEL WAS KILLED OR BADLY HURT

German Agency Says Call to His Headquarters in France "Found Marshal Shaving."

LONDON, July 31 (AP).—German organs denied today that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had been killed or seriously wounded in France.

The German-controlled Scandinavian telegraph agency in Stockholm quoted Berlin official circles as saying that Rommel is "in good condition." A German Transocean agency broadcast said a telephone call to Rommel's headquarters today found the Marshal shaving and "this report speaks its own language."

Yesterday an American staff officer with the United States First Army in France said information from French civilians agreed with reports of German prisoners that Rommel had died of wounds suffered in a strafing on the Caen front. The officer said details given by the French civilians bolstered the report of Rommel's death, but it was not yet considered certain.

EISENHOWER WELL PLEASED WITH PROGRESS IN FRANCE

Highly Optimistic About Future of Campaign; Confers With Montgomery and Bradley.

ADVANCED COMMAND POST, SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 31 (AP). — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is most gratified with the results of the fighting in Normandy in the past week and views the immediate future of the campaign with high optimism.

He is understood to view the favorable trend of the campaign as proof of the soundness of the policies the Allies have pursued from the beginning—that of proceeding cautiously and getting the bottlenecks out of the way before going ahead.

Gen. Eisenhower conferred briefly Saturday with Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery and Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

WAR'S FIRST U. S. DRAFTEE IS KILLED NEAR CHERBOURG

WASHBURN, Wis., July 31 (AP).—Lt. James B. Manning, 30 years old, formerly of Washburn, first man to be inducted into the U. S. Army in World War II under selective service, was killed July 26 near Cherbourg in Normandy, his family has been informed.

Manning gained the distinction of being the nation's No. 1 draftee, Nov. 18, 1940, when as a resident of Oak Park, Ill., he was the first man to be accepted under the selective service program.

His parents were informed by his wife, Lt. Daisy Manning, United States Navy nurse stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla., that he was killed by a piece of shrapnel which struck him "while out in the field eating his army rations."

Pilot Shoots Gunner Off Roof.

A U. S. NINTH AIR FORCE AIRSTRIP IN NORMANDY, July 31 (AP).—Capt. Loren Herway of Indianola, Ia., sweeping his fighter plane low over a chateau west of Villedieu yesterday, spotted a man on the roof firing at him. He whipped his plane around and shot the gunner off the roof with one burst.

BRITISH HAMMER OUT SMALL BUT IMPORTANT GAINS BELOW FLORENCE

Taking Heavy Toll of Counterattacking Nazis—Tower of Pisa Neither Damaged Nor Destroyed, Observer Says.

ROME, July 31 (AP). — The British Eighth Army blasted out small but important gains on the approaches to Florence today, an Allied communique said, and a field dispatch reported that New Zealand troops were fighting their way up a 1000-foot ridge six miles southwest of the city, almost within sight of its historic buildings.

The Germans, apparently intent on making a last-ditch stand which would prove their loyalty to Adolf Hitler, threw concentrations of tanks and infantry into strong counterattacks against the Allied forces. The fighting was described as "very heavy" and massed Allied artillery was taking a severe toll of the enemy's depleted ranks.

The Germans were reported to have penetrated into San Michele, seven miles southwest of Florence Saturday night in a strong tank thrust, but later withdrew to high ground north of the town.

Gun Duels Continue.

Along the Fifth Army's 30-mile front on the lower Arno River big guns on both sides continued to trade fire across the stream. There were no indications the Americans had penetrated beyond the southern limits of Pisa.

An observer with the Fifth Army before Pisa said today that the leaning tower of Pisa had neither been destroyed nor damaged by artillery fire, refuting a German broadcast, designed for North American consumption, which said that the Americans had leveled the historic structure, which the Germans are believed to be using as an observation tower.

On the east coast the Polish troops last were reported fighting in the streets of Senigallia, about 40 miles below Rimini and 90 airline miles from the mouth of the Po River.

Aerial Support.

Veteran pilots of the Desert Air Force joined the artillery in raining explosives on the attacking Nazi columns south of Florence.

Expensive counterattacks appeared to be only a delaying action on the part of Florence's defenders. The hopelessness of their position became apparent when an Indian division cleared an area south of Arno between the Pesa and Elsa rivers, except for a few small pockets of the enemy.

Eighth Army units were well established across the railway line from Empoli eastward to the vicinity of Montelupo, within 11 miles of Florence's western outskirts.

A slight change was reported due south of Florence, where the

SENATE COMMITTEE CALLED FOR RECONVERSION ACTION

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP). —Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky and Senator Reynolds (Dem.), North Carolina, telegraphed absent members of the Senate Military Committee today to return to Washington at once to act on industrial reconversion legislation.

A session of the committee, headed by Reynolds, was set for Thursday.

THIRD ARMORED DIVISION WITH 400 MISSOURIANS FIGHTING IN NORMANDY

WITH THE AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE, July 31 (AP).

THE Third Armored Division is participating in the great American attack which is sweeping the German army out of Normandy's hedgerows, it was disclosed last night.

It shared with another armored outfit credit for the envelopment of Coutances and for driving of the first steel wedge across to the sea to entrap the first layer of Nazis retreating from the Lessay-St. Lo area. It was the first time the division had seen combat.

The Third Armored — its motto is "Always Dependable" —was activated April 15, 1941, at Camp Beauregard, La. Most of its men came from Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Texas, Wisconsin, Georgia, Minnesota, Iowa and Louisana—each of these states being represented by more than 400 soldiers. It went to England last September.

NAZIS SAY TURKEY PLANS COMPLETE BREAK WITH REICH

Hint Allies Will Be Given Air and Naval Bases and That Ankara Will Come Into War.

LONDON, July 31 (AP).—German reports indicated today the Nazis had given up all hope of holding any strings on Turkey. They predicted the Turkish Government would on Wednesday announce plans for breaking off economic and diplomatic relations with the Reich.

There were indications, too, that the Germans were losing their grip on Bulgaria, which until recently has been virtually under German control.

The Nazi news agency, Transocean said in a Berlin broadcast that German newspapers were carrying full reports from Ankara and Sofia, and had mentioned the possibility of the Allies getting air and naval bases in Turkey. This was an apparent effort to ease the shocks at home in the event Turkey takes steps that may lead to it becoming an active belligerent on the Allies' side.

Earlier the official German news agency DNB said the Turkish National Assembly would be informed on Wednesday of the decision to break with the Reich. Dispatches from Ankara said German diplomats were booking passage out of the country.

DNB went to the unusual length of saying it had obtained its information from "Soviet Russian sources" in Sofia. It added that Turkey would be asked to grant the Allies facilities for air and naval bases and predicted Turkey's participation in the war would come as a matter of course.

Nazi press comments, while carrying veiled threats, adopted an appealing tone in warning Turkey it was making a "mistake."

An Ankara dispatch said the German Ambassador, Franz von Papen, began moving his furniture from his private residence in An-

KAUNAS FALLS; BERLIN REPORTS WARSAW SUBURB UNDER ASSAULT

Stalin Announces Capture of Jelgava in Latvia—Russians 21 Miles From Prewar East Prussia Border.

LONDON, July 31 (AP).—Premier Stalin announced tonight the capture of the Latvian rail center of Jelgava, 21 miles southwest of the Baltic seaport of Riga.

The German radio reported other Russian forces had drawn up an arc of assault only six miles from Warsaw in the south, and were attacking Praga, the suburb on the east side of the Vistula River opposite the Polish capital.

Stalin also announced the capture of three places east and southeast of Warsaw — Siedlce, Minsk-Mazowiecki and Lukow.

The German high command acknowledged the Russians had captured Kaunas, former capital of Lithuania.

Germans Peril Increased.

Stalin's order described Jelgava as one of the main communications centers linking the Baltic area with East Prussia. Its seizure practically cut the Baltic republics in two, leaving the German forces in Estonia and northern Latvia cut off except by sea and a narrow land corridor with only one minor rail line.

Stalin made no mention of progress of Russian forces which yesterday smashed seven miles inside the Suwalki Triangle, annexed by Adolf Hitler to East Prussia in 1939 after the fall of Poland. Kaunas is 35 miles from East Prussia proper and Red troops west of the city were reported driving swiftly toward the frontier.

Kaunas, second city of Lithuania with a population of 152,365, is on the Niemen River. The Nazi Transocean news agency reported last Friday that Kaunas was evacuated but its fall was not officially acknowledged by the Germans until today.

Drive on Warsaw.

Stalin termed Siedlce, 50 miles east of the Polish capital; Minsk-Mazowiecki, 21 miles east of Warsaw, and Lukow, 58 miles southeast, "communications centers" and said all were taken by storm. The Russians previously reported the capture of Lukow on July 24.

Stalin ordered 20 salvos of red, white, blue and Green flares shot from 224 Moscow guns as a victory salute.

Earlier, the Germans reported the Russians had thrown five bridgeheads across the Vistula but that four were wiped out and a fifth was sealed off. Just where the bridgeheads were placed was not announced, though presumably they were in the area to the southeast where the Reds reached the east bank on a wide front last week.

Stokes Describes Slaughter Of Nazis Trying to Break Trap

Smoking Vehicles, Sprawled Bodies Mark Scene of Desperate Night Attack by Crack Panzer Battalion.

By RICHARD L. STOKES
Of the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch, now representing this newspaper on the Western Front as an accredited war correspondent.

CAMBRY, Normandy, July 31 (By Wireless).—Along an obscure country lane wandering eastward from this crossroads hamlet, itself six miles southeast of Coutances, there was on view yesterday morning a tableau of war and the utmost horrors of war such as are rarely concentrated in so minute a space.

For a mile one promenaded along a cavalcade of ruins where there were no less than 58 Nazi vehicles, mostly shattered by shell fire, many of them still smoking and a few with flames flickering from debris. And above all there were bodies, dead bodies of young men, bodies in hedges, huddled in ditches, sprawled in anguished postures across the dirt road, lurking futilely in the shelter of armored cars, lying singly or piled in heaps, one upon another. There were bodies with faces, brainpans and chests hollowed out or sliced asunder by high explosives as if cloven on a butcher's block. The whole atmosphere was rank with the peculiar piercing stench of roasted human flesh.

Sunday, one of the extremely few days of fair sunshine since D-day, began with no augury of so shocking a vision. Driving south beyond the rubble heap that is Lessay now, one rejoiced on approaching Coutances to find the village untouched by war. After nearly two months of habituation to scenes of appalling destruction, one could scarcely believe one's eyes when they reported houses, buildings and streets unscathed. The sight of unbroken window panes seemed too good to be true. As if by a miracle, the historic cathedral of Coutances stood intact. It was startling after having seen nearly every church steeple between Cherbourg and Periers blasted by artillery.

This absence of havoc is a precise measure of the haste of the German retreat.

As we neared the Cambry road to Gavray we overtook the commanding officer from Arkansas, who won fame Friday by leading the entrance into Coutances, driving before him a Nazi prisoner whom the officer compelled to disclose hidden mines. The officer declared the Germans were clearing out at full speed from the entire area and would not stop until they reached a prepared line on the farther side of the River See, running east from Avranches. He added that there was a sight worth seeing two miles down the road to the left.

Saturday night one company of

AMERICAN TANKS NOW THREATEN TO TURN GERMAN LINE IN FRANCE

Granville By-Passed, Then Captured; New Trap Closed on Enemy — British Advance 8 Miles Below Caumont.

LONDON, July 31 (AP).—Avranches has been captured by the Americans, a Reuters dispatch said tonight.

By GLADWIN HILL

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 31 (AP).—An American armored force drove into Avranches in a dash of 18 miles from last reported positions and threatened today to break into the interior of France.

The force entering the city at the west base of the Normandy peninsula was described as "fairly strong" and its position as "well into" the town. Avranches is 60 miles south of the D-day beachheads. The town lies on the south side of the See river, along which the Nazis had been expected to attempt a stand.

Headquarters said six German divisions (up to 60,000 men) have been virtually knocked out of existence since the current American offensive which began last Tuesday.

These were identified as the Fifth Parachute; the Seventy-ninth, Ninety-first, 243d, 352d and 353d Infantry Divisions. The Second SS Panzers, a tank outfit, and the Lehr Panzers are believed to be still in good enough condition to have retained their identities. Both have lost considerable equipment and personnel.

The sensational drive to Avranches, at the angle formed by the Normandy and Brest peninsulas, closed a new trap on Germans fighting to the north around Granville and along the line of Gavray to Tessy-sur-Vire. Already 10,500 prisoners have been taken since the start of the American offensive last Tuesday.

40 Miles in 7 Days.

Associated Press Correspondent Wes Gallagher wrote from the front that the Americans had "in effect broken out of the Cherbourg peninsula into France." He said that the German defeat in the course of the seven-day 40-mile American advance "may have turned into a debacle."

American armored columns were moving south so rapidly they were temporarily outstripping their communications. For the first time the Germans were being driven back in France with the speed they entered it in 1940. Gallagher said there was not the slightest sign of any German defense capable of checking the American offensive, let alone stopping it.

German prisoners said that the American onslaught had reduced companies from 150 to 25 men, and the survivors lacked the will to fight. What resistance there was at most places was by local commanders who set up two or three guns in attempts to block a road or bridge for a few hours.

The speed of the advance has spared French towns from the destruction suffered farther north and except for destroyed bridges the countryside is virtually untouched.

The hedgerows which have caused the Yanks so much bitter fighting and losses are now largely left behind.

Granville Captured.

The armored thrust to Avranches by-passed the coastal town of Granville, 13 miles to the north. A second American armored column, moving down the coast road from Coutances entered and captured Granville today.

Seizure of pivotal Avranches would place the Americans on a springboard for an eastward drive for Paris, 160 miles away, outflanking the remaining German forces to the north, or a southward plunge to cut off the Brest peninsula.

On the eastern end of the American front, doughboys captured Torigni-sur-Vire and drove on southward.

British Gain Eight Miles.

East of Torigni, a new British offensive had scored an eight-mile advance on a seven-mile front south of Caumont.

This British smash had taken a 900 foot height just east of St. Martin-des Besaces, the village of Galet at the point of the salient and a dozen other villages.

Cat Keeps Vigil at Shaft of Mine Where Trapped Master Lies Dead

BELLAIRE, O., July 31 (AP).—The lonely cat of Cat Run, keeping a hopeless vigil beside the shaft where 66 miners are entombed, still waited faithfully today for the master who never will return.

Tom, an alley cat, has fought off efforts to remove it from the sealed mouth of the pit through which the pet's owner, Odell Brown, and the others walked to their death at nearby Powhatan mine July 5.

The animal followed Brown to the Cat Run entrance of the pit the day the miners were trapped by flames deep in the shaft.

Tom watched while the work crews sealed the entrance to the mine to cut off the air and smother the flames. The cat refused to go home and grew weak from hunger.

Yesterday the seal on the shaft was broken so work crews could build barricades nearer the flames, making it possible to work two-thirds of the mine while the fire is burning itself out.

No sooner was the opening made than Tom darted into the pit and ran down the slope until blocked by a door 365 feet from the entrance. Carried outside, the cat remained at the mine entrance.

Estonians Impartially Declare War on Both Germany and Russia

By NAT A. BARROWS
The Chicago Daily News—Post-Dispatch Special Radio. Copyright, 1944.

STOCKHOLM, July 31.—Estonian patriots in the "underground parliament" have formally and impartially declared war against both Germany and Russia. Imbued with a fierce and unquenchable desire for independence, they are willing to die in an attempt to restore their small Baltic country to the status of a free republic such as it enjoyed between 1918 and 1939.

The formal announcement of this complicated declaration of war will be made tonight in Stockholm by Estonian Minister to Sweden Heinrici Laretei on behalf of the "National Committee for the Salvation of Estonia," now already holding sessions somewhere in the forests of Estonia across from Finland.

The underground parliament, which is made up of selected officials active in the capital city of Tallinn until 1939, claims to have the support of two divisions of Estonian nationalist troops estimated at more than 30,000 men, now fighting the Red Army push into Estonia, and also the support of a large number of partisans of the "Green Guard," at present harrying the Germans behind the lines, especially Nazi efforts to carry off Estonian literary and art treasures.

These Estonians know that nothing will halt the Red Army advance into Estonia and the other two Baltic states of Latvia and Lithuania, but their hatred of the Germans is equal to their fear of Russian intentions. They are willing to die or at least court death as a way of dramatizing their attempt to revive the status of independence which Estonia lost when the Soviet Union incorporated the country into the Russian political scheme five years ago.

Both Latvia and Lithuania are contemplating similar moves, I have learned.

YANKS SPLIT JAP FORCES ON GUAM; U. S. USING MAIN HARBOR, AIRSTRIP

Marines Sweep Past Tinian's Largest Town — American Air Forces Strike Co-ordinated Blows Far to Southwest.

UNITED STATES PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, July 31 (AP). —American forces have hammered a wedge across Guam and swept past Tinian's largest town, and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced yesterday that Guam's main harbor and airstrip already are in American use.

While the Yanks speeded their Saipan-born envelopment of key Marianas islands, the Far Eastern Air Force struck significant blows 1300 miles to the southwest. Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney's flyers hit Japanese bases in northwest New Guinea and Halmahera island, a stepping stone to the Philippines.

Liberators smashed at four Japanese airdromes in the Sorong sector at the tip of northwest New Guinea Saturday, while Mitchells bombed and strafed the east coast of Halmahera. The new attacks followed a raid Thursday on Halmahera in which 45 Japanese planes were destroyed.

A Liberator on patrol in the Philippines sector attacked a Japanese merchant vessel near the Talaud Island, midway between Halmahera and Mindanao. Halmahera is slightly more than 300 miles south of the Philippines.

Planes from the Kenney and Nimitz forces joined in attacks on Truk, Woleai, Nomoi and Ponape in the Carolines, Nauru Island and by-passed enemy bases in the Marshalls.

Casualties on Guam.

Nimitz announced that 958 soldiers and Marines had been killed and 4739 wounded on Guam through Saturday. Two hundred and ninety are missing. Japanese casualties were 4543 counted dead and 44 prisoners.

American casualties on Tinian through July 25 are • killed, 32 missing, 441 wounded. Japanese dead number 2089.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported an additional 1385 Japanese have been killed in the Aitape-Wewak battle sector of British New Guinea, bringing enemy fatalities since the start of the Aitape attacks July 11 to 2859.

American warships dramatically re-entered Guam's Port Apra, one-time United States naval base and the best harbor in the Marianas, after soldiers and Marines had cleaned the Japanese out of Orote Peninsula and captured the 4700-foot airstrip.

Airfield, Harbor in Use.

"Our ships are now using Apra harbor on the west coast of Guam," Nimitz announced. "Several of our aircraft have landed and taken off from the Orote Peninsula airfield."

He added that patrols from Apra had crossed the eight miles to Guam's east coast without encountering resistance, thus driving a wedge between the Japanese defending forces. American artillery shelled enemy east coast positions from captured mountain heights.

Marines on Tinian Island, 125 miles north of Guam, swept through Tinian town Saturday afternoon. Simultaneous gains of up to two miles were registered all along the trans-island front, but the 4000 or 5000 Japanese trapped in the southern third of the island, an area less than five miles square, were stiffening their resistance.

Light American planes already are using Tinian's Ushi airfield, largest in the Marianas.

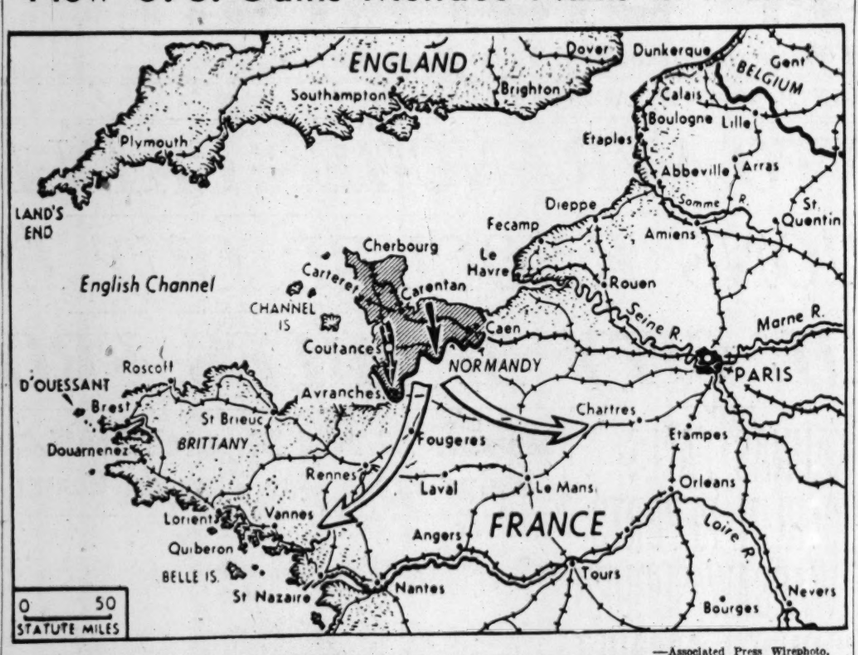

Some of the Marine units, Associated Press War Correspondent William Worden reported, have been cut by Japanese sniper and artillery fire to half of their early fighting strength, and many have only a fraction of their early fighting strength.

At the height of the daily heavy rain that fills ruts two feet deep and bogs down tanks and half-tracks, the front lines on Orote ran against what apparently was the main Japanese defense line near the old Marine barracks area. There were pillboxes, field guns and enfilading machine guns.

On the right end of the line Marine veterans took to a shoulder-deep swamp. Their lines formed to the north of the swamp and held despite Japanese artillery and counterattacks.

How U. S. Gains Menace Nazis in France

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

Open arrows indicate how the American end of the Allied line in France, now pushed to Avranches, might swing southwestward to chop off the Brest peninsula or thrust eastward around German positions toward Paris.. Shaded area is territory held by the Allies; solid arrows indicate drives in which American and British forces have scored new gains.

U. S. Tanks Smash Into Avranches

the British, this offensive was rolling ahead with the support of a sky full of aircraft.

Back of the most advanced American spearhead, more American armor was splitting a corridor between the Vire and the sea, driving to within two miles of Villedieu, 12 miles northeast of Avranches.

The advance to Avranches was described by a qualified observer as creating "immense possibilities."

To the east, the Germans were putting up appreciable armored resistance on a line running roughly from Gavray through Percy to Tessy-sur-Vire. But this will do them no good without Avranches as an anchor on the seacoast, because the Americans can move around behind them.

At least 600 tanks were disclosed officially to be participating in the American drive.

A pocket of Germans trapped in the Soulles area east of Coutances was being cleaned up. Three times the Germans tried to break out yesterday, losing heavily in men and armor.

The American drive rolled past Brehal, Gavray and Percy yesterday. American infantrymen, following in the wake of the armored units, mopped up by-passed German pockets.

Allied planes supported group operations on both sectors of the front Sunday and a terrific aerial barrage by more than 1000 Halifaxes and Stirlings preceded the British drive. Strong formations of medium bombers continued to support the advancing troops after the heavy bombers had softened up the enemy.

The United States Ninth Air Force announced 74 more tanks and 395 other vehicles were destroyed yesterday and field dispatches said pilots were impressed by the havoc they were spreading among German armor. In some places, roads were so cluttered with wrecked German vehicles that American tanks were slowed in their southward advance.

United States First Army headquarters disclosed yesterday that the Second Armored "Hell on Wheels" Division, once commanded by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., and the Third Armored Division were taking part in the sweeping American drive. It was the first time the Third Division has been in combat. The Second spearheaded the invasion of French Morocco in November, 1942, and a year ago it smashed across Sicily to cut the island in half and to capture thousands of Italian and German soldiers. There has been speculation that Patton is commanding the armored drive.

Supreme Headquarters also disclosed yesterday that it was the American Nineteenth Corps, and possibly other units, which broke the back of German defenses in the current offensive.

The Nineteenth Corps is commanded by Maj. Gen. Charles Corlett.

This corps is the third disclosed to be in France. The others are the Fifth and Seventh. A corps consists of two or more divisions.

Besides the Second and Third Armored divisions, it was announced that the First, Fourth, Ninth and Thirtieth Infantry divisions also are taking part in the push. The first three divisions previously have been identified as in action with the Fifth and Seventh Corps. The Ninth Division is one of the most famous in the Army, having spearheaded the drive which cut off Cherbourg.

The Berlin radio asserted the Allies for the last three days had been using the harbor of Cherbourg for the debarkation of troops.

A group of American infantrymen, teamed with a company of 105-mm. howitzers, broke a crack SS. Das Reich division combat unit's back in a furious battle at St. Denis-le-Gast yesterday. This climaxed the complete collapse of the German will to fight in a pocket from Brehal to Tessy-sur-Vire, 30 miles inland.

A captured order by Field Marshal Keitel revealed the German army was terribly short of motor transport, due largely to losses inflicted by the Allied air force.

As the American drive continued southward French civilians lined the roads and gave the doughboys a hysterical welcome. American and French flags appeared and many an American armored vehicle was decorated with flowers. Knife-brandishing French youths helped round up pocketed and isolated Nazi soldiers.

The German air force in France has shrunk from 4000 planes to less than 1000, it was estimated.

This force is now under the command of heavy-jowled Field Marshal Hugo Sperrle, a 100 per cent Nazi.

SIR BRUCE FRASER IN CHARGE OF BRITISH NAVY IN EAST

LONDON, July 31 (AP).—Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, who as commander of the British home fleet sank the German battleship Scharnhorst and crippled the Tirpitz, was appointed commander-in-chief of the British Eastern fleet today. He succeeds Admiral Sir James F. Somerville, who will take up another assignment in the near future, the Admiralty said.

The assignment of Sir Bruce to waters adjacent to those prowled by the Japanese fleet indicated major British, as well as American, naval operations forthcoming against the Nipponese.

British submarines and surface forces have been increasingly active in the Bay of Bengal during the last few months. Japanese and German reports have told of the transfer of major British naval forces to the Orient.

NAZIS ORDER PARACHUTING ALLIED FLYERS SHOT ON SIGHT

The Chicago Daily News-Post-Dispatch Special Cable. Copyright, 1944.

STOCKHOLM, July 31. — German homefront soldiers, the police, the SS elite guard and other armed Nazis have received orders to shoot parachuting Allied airmen on sight, either as they float down to earth or when they reach ground.

This edict supplements an earlier order, given shortly after D-Day, when the Germans were afraid that Allied parachutists might be bringing weapons and uprising orders to the 12 million foreign workers inside the Reich.

A French refugee tells how soldiers and other guards in Hamburg boast that they are shooting everything that drops from Allied planes.

"I got one American today as easy as picking off a balloon," a Nazi told this refugee.

BOBBY JONES LEAVES FRANCE

NINTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS IN NORMANDY, July 31 (AP).—Lt. Col. Robert T. (Bobby) Jones has returned to Britain from France for reassignment and was believed today to be planning to return to the United States.

The former Atlanta golfer, recently promoted from the rank of Major, has been in the service of the Ninth Air Force as an intelligence officer and was one of the early arrivals in France.

kara to the central German Embassy Building.

All Turkish newspaper editors were reported to have been called for a conference with the Government today and Ankara buzzed with reports that they were to be informed of the Government's plans to break with the Reich.

Japanese Leaving.

Reports from Turkey said that scores of Japanese recently had arrived in Istanbul from German-occupied Europe and Berlin, and the Japanese, too, were booking rail passage, presumably for Soviet Russia where they might return to their homeland.

Cevat Acikalin, Turkish Secretary General of Foreign Affairs, received Von Papen Saturday, it was announced.

Von Papen was said to have told Acikalin that if Turkey would limit its action to an economic break, the Germans would evacuate the Aegean and Dodecanese Islands and a strip of territory along the Bulgarian and Greek frontiers facing Turkey.

Similar Bulgarian Action.

Istanbul quoted a traveler from Sofia as reporting that the Turks and Bulgars were engaged in talks aimed at "preventing hostilities or misunderstandings between the two nations in event of a sudden change of position towards Germany."

Bulgaria has been reported negotiating with the Allies on a way out of the war.

Transocean's Ankara correspondent said it was "highly significant that the Turkish fleet was about to hold maneuvers with all Turkish vessels in the Aegean and Black seas" assembled in port.

ARGENTINA FAILS TO KEEP PROMISE TO FREE NEWS

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP). —Acting Secretary of State Stettinius said today that censorship in Argentina on all news is continuing despite the promise of Argentine Foreign Minister Gen. Orlando Peluffo last week that restrictions would be lifted.

Stettinius also said that apparently Argentine newspapers still are not permitted to publish names and information about firms on the Allied blacklist. Publicity is one of the main methods of making the blacklist effective.

Stettinius made his comment in reply to a request for information about a Montevideo report that censorship is unabated.

MUTINY OF GERMAN TROOPS ON EAST FRONT REPORTED

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—A Blue network broadcast from Cairo yesterday quoted an agent of the Polish underground as reporting a mutiny among German soldiers on the Russian front.

The Blue network correspondent said the agent, who left Poland five days ago, saw whole trainloads of German troops, including many officers, rolling back from the front without weapons.

The agent was quoted as saying, "The Germans told me the war was over and they were going home. They were not traveling under military orders; they just picked up and left the front."

3000 U. S. PLANES ATTACK ROMANIA, REICH AND FRANCE

1700 Big Bombers Strike From Britain and Italy —Munich Area Is Principal Objective.

LONDON, July 31 (AP).—More than 3000 American planes, 1700 of them heavy bombers, attacked the Munich area, central Germany, French airfields and Romanian oil works at Bucharest and Ploesti today.

While 1200 Flying Fortresses and Liberators and 1000 fighters from Britain were casting new destruction on Germany and France, another force of more than 500 heavy bombers of the United States Fifteenth Air Force in Italy struck the Romanian objectives.

Other hundreds of planes operated tactically before the advancing Americans and Britons in Normandy. About 200 American Marauders and Havocs bombed a wide area behind the battle zone in spotty weather, striking rail yards and bridges from Domfront to Evreux and as far south as Tours.

Liberators started fires at Bucharest at the Prahova refinery and the Morgasaia fuel dump. Other Liberators bombed the Targoviste oil tank farm west of Ploesti and the Creditul Minier refinery nearby. A third objective, not named in the Rome announcement, was obscured by a smoke screen and was bombed by instrument. None of the bomber formations encountered enemy planes, but Mustang fighters over Bucharest knocked down several interceptors.

Munich Main Target.

Munich was the main objective of the British-based armada.

Some of the bombers encountered thick clouds, forcing them to use overcast bombing technique. The Air Force announcement identified the German targets only as military objectives.

It was the sixth bombing this month of the Munich area by forces of more than 1000 British-based American heavy bombers. The city has five trunk railroads, one through the Brenner Pass to Italy, and numerous aircraft and chemical works used in manufacturing flying bombs.

The German radio said Augsburg, also an aircraft center, was bombed.

British medium bombers attacked targets in northern France last night, including Seine River crossings and their approaches, railway installations and river barges.

Royal Air Force Bostons operated as far south of the battle area as Tours and Angers, while Mosquitoes swung almost to the Belgian border, bombing and strafing road movement between Arras, Doullens, Amiens and Rouen.

One Boston and one Mosquito were missing from the overnight operations. The Mosquitoes were credited with downing four German planes, including three JU-88s, over the Normandy beachhead.

Seven German planes were shot down in a fierce battle within sight of the Norwegian coast yesterday by six Polish pilots of an R. A. F. Mustang squadron who were outnumbered three to one.

Flying more than 500 miles from base, the Poles tangled with 15 to 20 Germans off the southwestern tip of Norway. Despite the odds, the Poles sent seven German aircraft crashing into the sea without a single loss.

U. S. Fighters Active.

Three of yesterday's kills over France were by American fighters. They also shot up nine planes on the ground and destroyed or damaged 150 railway cars, 28 locomotives, 50 trucks, two staff cars, an oil storage tank, a railway station and an electric power plant.

Mediterranean Allied Air Force planes roamed over much of southern Europe yesterday. As many as 500 heavy bombers from the Fifteenth Air Force attacked the Duna aircraft works and the Tokol airdrome south of Budapest; the Lipse-Budafapuszta oil installations in Southern Hungary and the Brod railyards at Yugoslavia.

Medium bombers pounded Po Valley bridges. Six enemy planes were shot down and nine Allied aircraft were lost.

Stokes Says Two-Week Tip-off Let Nazis Avoid Coutances Trap

Powerful U. S. Forces, Striking in Wake of Mighty Air Assault, Met Only Small Units of Suicide Rear Guards.

By RICHARD L. STOKES
Of the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch, now representing this newspaper on the Western Front as an accredited war correspondent.

PERIERS, Normandy, July 31 (By Wireless). — Now that Coutances has fallen and American detachments have driven to the coast, it is possible to cast up a realistic estimate of the most ambitious Allied undertaking since the capture of Cherbourg. With these developments, Gen. Omar N. Bradley's First Army closed the jaws of an imposing trap designed to ensnare a number of German divisions reported to be in the area south of La Haye de Puits, but when the deadfall was sprung, the prey was found to have escaped.

Contrary to the experience in the Cherbourg campaign, the enemy saved virtually all his materiel, while prisoners were reckoned in the hundreds instead of the expected tens of thousands. The operation turned out to be no break-through as hoped, but a follow-up on the heels of a brilliantly planned and executed withdrawal by the Germans, who here, as often in Russia, have shown themselves to be masters of evasion.

Had Two Weeks' Notice.

The Allied campaign was plotted with elaborate secrecy, infinite caution and pains, but the German intelligence seems to have penetrated the designs probably two weeks before the enterprise was launched with last Tuesday's grandiose air attack. At any rate, the enemy effected an orderly and leisurely retirement, moving stealthily at night with the lines of vehicles camouflaged during the day to resemble hedgerows. Despite our monopoly of air observation, the withdrawal was not detected until too late.

In the sense of liberating a noteworthy zone from enemy occupation and achieving an indispensable step toward gaining elbow room in which to swing the full Allied resources, the undertaking may be held to have been successful. But in the fundamental purpose of canceling important hostile forces from the war, it must be admitted that it is disappointing. The job that could have been accomplished if it had been started two weeks earlier now remains to be done all over again.

Took Plenty of Time.

There is every sign that the Germans took plenty of time in which to retreat. Foxholes were cleaned out to the last scrap of paper, garbage was buried and few articles of clothing or equipment were found abandoned. The region about Lessay is the most profusely mined and booby-trapped of any yet encountered in Normandy. Such preparations require days, if not weeks.

The Germans were able to evacuate most of their dead and wounded, in striking contrast to the situation in this respect in the upper peninsula. They achieved the withdrawal in the face of grave handicaps. There was no vestige of air cover. Transportation was crippled by the shortage of vehicles and fuel. They dared to stir only at night, due to the incessant strafing by American dive and attack bombers. They had a large proportion of slave troops, eager to surrender at the first opportunity. They are inferior in artillery, tanks and the number of troops and are operating wholly without reserves. Reinforcements drawn from other theaters have been thrown piecemeal into the battleline.

Yanks in Great Strength.

On the other hand, Gen. Bradley had overmastering air power, unlimited observation and a boundless volume of artillery and ammunition. Yank convoys choked the road with impunity day and night. Endless motor transport for the troops was available. The assault units were veteran soldiers and even the untried divisions were of the best American quality.

Aggressive and confident, the Americans' whole instinct was to move forward. Their morale was bolstered by the sense of victory, that of the Germans depressed under the long experience of retreats.

In the narrow Norman peninsula the Americans already had landed multitudes of troops and vehicles and supplies that, if known, would make the home front gasp.

After a devastating attack by a force of 3000 planes, of which 1500 were Flying Fortresses and Liberators, two powerful tank columns were driven south and west across the Lessay-St. Lo highway. Then the area was jammed with combat teams of infantry, guns and armor, but they struck the empty air. The Germans, except for suicide rear guard units, had gone. They had retired with nearly all their men and equipment to prepared positions south of Coutances.

Area Largely Empty.

Having just completed a tour of the air bombardment zone, I can testify that there is every evidence that the Germans had withdrawn most of their artillery, tanks and troops before the Allied planes attacked.

I saw only a half-dozen dead Germans in the area and heard of small nests of 20 to 50, left behind to cover the retreat with small-arms fire, which had to be wiped out. Otherwise, the scene was one of indescribable havoc. I traveled over roads that had been turned into roller coasters by bomb craters which thickly pitted pastures and orchards. Everywhere was the wreckage of French hamlets and farm houses such as endows the term "liberation" with cynical undertones.

I understand that there were few French casualties. Most of the population had taken alarm and fled or had been evacuated by the Germans to build fortifications at the rear. It is safe to say that the air bombardment killed more cows and hogs than Germans.

Agonies of Animals.

A chapter should be written about the agonies inflicted on four-footed innocents by the warfare of men. I have seen dead horses and cattle all the way from St. Lo to Cherbourg, but nothing to approach the carnage of livestock in the region from Pont Herbert to St. Gilles. Every pasture is crowded with animal carcasses in herds of dead. Some were torn asunder. Others, with no marks of wounds, were killed by concussion. Often they lay on their sides, their legs rigid, their hooves in the air.

There was a pathetic resemblance to Noah's ark toys scattered about the nursery, painted in gay colors. Throughout the region I saw only six animal survivors—two cows and four calves. They were feeding contentedly, already oblivious, as human soldiers and civilians must learn to be in war, of the fearful slaughter that had just passed over their kind.

U. S. LIBERTY SHIP CREWMEN BEATEN, MURDERED BY JAPS

Only 23 of 100 Survived Abuse After Torpedoing in Indian Ocean, N. B. C. Man Reports.

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP). — Roy Porter of the National Broadcasting Co. broadcast from Chengtu, China, today a story of the killing of about three quarters of the crew of a United States Liberty ship in the Indian Ocean in mid-June by seamen of a Japanese submarine.

Porter said the story was substantiated by an American who recently arrived in China. Of about 100 crew members of the ship, only 23 were saved and hospitalized following their rescue by a United States scouting plane. Among the survivors, Porter said, are Capt. John Gussack of Brooklyn, and the ship's first engineer, Charles Pyle of Lodi, Cal.

Porter said the American ship was first torpedoed, the crew members taking to lifeboats. Then the submarine surfaced and ordered all the Americans to the foredeck, where they were beaten and tortured, their hands tied behind their backs. Many were killed and their bodies kicked overboard, Porter said. The orgy ended only when a scout plane approached and the Japanese vessel submerged, leaving the surviving seamen in the water, their hands still tied. The 23 were rescued after 15 hours in the water.

NEW GUINEA TROOPS READ OF LAKE'S HUNGER STRIKE

Soldiers in the Southwest Pacific have read of Chester Lake's hunger strike against "political domination" of the Rural Electrification Administration in Bomb Daily, a service men's newspaper, Lake reported today.

The former REA official said Warrant Officer Robert M. Welch of Sumter, S. C., stationed at a hospital in New Guinea, wrote a St. Louis friend that he had read of the REA's factional troubles.

Lake, who has eaten no solid food since June 28, said the right to have electricity on farms is one of the things Americans are fighting for. "Farm boys who fought on Tarawa, Saipan Island and at Anzio beach are going to be extremely unhappy if they return home to find their ideals destroyed by cheap politicians," he declared. "They are not going back to antiquated farms and farming methods."

103 ITALIANS SLAUGHTERED FOR KILLING OF TWO GERMANS

ROME, July 31 (AP).—Capture of the files of the Fascist police chief at Arezzo, southeast of Florence, disclosed a mass reprisal execution of Italians occurred in the town of Stia last April 11, Allied headquarters announced yesterday.

Headquarters said the documents proved that 1500 troops of the Hermann Goering division, aided by Fascist civilians, made the towns folk pay a heavy price for the killing of two Germans by Italian Partisans.

The announcement said 103 bodies, including those of many women and children, were found.

"The refusal of so many householders to be forewarned, their stubborn persistence in improvidence, will mean actual suffering in St. Louis next winter. Many people will suffer from cold unless they act now, and act quickly.
"When cold weather comes, people who won't learn will complain. They will say that the smoke control ordinance is the cause of their trouble. POLLS WILL OPEN AT 6 A. M. OVER STATE TOMORROW

Nominees to Be Chosen for U. S. Senator, Governor, 13 Congressmen, Other Officers.

Voters of St. Louis and the rest of Missouri will select in tomorrow's primary election Republican and Democratic nominees for United States Senator, Governor and five other state offices, the state's 13 Congressmen, half of the state Senate, all of the State House of Representatives and numerous local offices.

In St. Louis nominees for a five-month unexpired term as Mayor, for Circuit Attorney, Sheriff and four other offices will be picked. St. Louis County will nominate for 10 county offices, including the entire personnel of the County Court, or administrative body, and Sheriff.

St. Louis voters will pass on 11 bond issue propositions for post-war work, totaling $43,527,000, each item requiring a two-thirds majority for adoption.

Committee Elections.

Members of the Republican and Democratic party committees will be elected in St. Louis and each of the 114 counties. Some of the bitterest fights of the primary, not attracting general public attention, are involved in the filling of the 56 places on each committee in St. Louis. There are only 13 Republican ward candidates without opposition and 22 Democratic.

Polls will open throughout Missouri at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and will close in St. Louis, University City and the four other cities with population exceeding 25,000 at 7 p. m., but in the rest of St. Louis County and Missouri they will be open until sunset, 8:13 p. m. St. Louis will have 784 precinct polling places, the county 243.

A light vote is anticipated by politicians, because of various war factors, including absence of about 100,000 St. Louisans and 200,000 other Missourians in the armed forces. Estimates of the vote are: St. Louis, 75,000 Republican and 75,000 Democratic; St. Louis County, 30,000 Republican and 20,000 to 30,000 Democratic; rest of Missouri, 120,000 to 145,000 Republican and 205,000 to 295,000 Democratic.

Each voter must specify whether he wants a Republican or a Democratic ballot. Where there is a contest for the nomination, the voter must draw a line through the name of each candidate he opposes, leaving unscratched only the name of the candidate he favors. St. Louis voters will receive automatically a separate ballot on the bond issue. To vote for each of the 11 propositions they must scratch no and let yes stand; to vote against it, scratch yes and let no stand.

Service Vote.

Men and women in the military services are expected to cast about 25,000 Missouri votes by mail, under a special wartime law. Possibly about one-fifth of these will be cast in St. Louis and St. Louis County. It would be possible for the "soldier vote" to decide a close contest.

Outstanding contests are for Senator and Governor on both tickets, with the greatest interest in the strong bid of Attorney-General Roy McKittrick to defeat Senator Bennett C. Clark, Democrat, for renomination, attacking Clark as an isolationist, and next greatest in the battle between Charles Ferguson and Jean Paul Bradshaw, Republicans, for Governor, with the boss issue raised by Ferguson. The issues of a lasting peace, postwar planning and care for war veterans have spilled over from the senatorial campaign into the discussion for almost every State and local office.

All of Missouri's present Congressmen—eight Republicans and five Democrats—are seeking renomination. The only St. Louis Congressman without opposition is the veteran John J. Cochran, Thirteenth District, where Charles Straub, Republican, also is unopposed. The only candidate for State office without opposition, on either ticket, is State Auditor Forrest Smith, Democrat, seeking renomination.

Mayor Unopposed.

Mayor A. P. Kaufmann, Republican, is unopposed for the short-term mayoral nomination. There is a hard Democratic contest between former Director of Public Welfare Joseph M. Darst and Patrick J. Burke, a business agent of the AFL Milk Wagon Drivers' & Inside Dairy Workers' Union. Dr. R. Emmet Kane, who worked with Darst in selection of professional personnel for city hospitals in 1933, charged in a statement today that "powerful special interests" were opposing Darst because he led the fight for the standard milk ordinance. He praised Darst's qualifications and said Burke lacked qualifications for Mayor.

Chairman George M. Murphy of the Democratic City Committee, participating in a radio program for Darst last night, asserted that Burke could not be elected, if nominated, and said: "I think we commit party suicide when we allow a little group or clique to pick our candidates for us and to pick them, not on the basis of real merit, but because some deal has been made and one candidate traded for another or because some special interest seeks to dominate the party."

This will be the first election since the redistricting of wards became effective in the city May 7, 1943. The change in ward boundaries has caused much confusion and uncertainty among politicians, particularly because of the effects on ward organizations and party committee personnel.

The Citizens' Committee backing the city bond issue has pointed out that the bond fund for post-war work would be augmented by about 20 million dollars in existing city funds. It said there had been no objections voiced against the bond proposal but that it had been indorsed by "all civic groups," the AFL and CIO and leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties.

In answer to claims that Senator Clark was the chief sponsor of the recently enacted G. I. Bill of Rights, a veterans' committee supporting McKittrick, headed by Martin A. Beffa, has issued a statement declaring that credit for drafting and passage of the bill should go to an American Legion committee, many Legion members and "all the friends of the Legion who helped so generously on all occasions." Clark's campaign literature says he introduced this bill and "piloted it through Congress in record time." In a radio talk last night, Clark said he regarded the measure as one of the most important ever to go before Congress and that it was in line with President Roosevelt's program.

Storm-Wrecked Chester Bridge

The storm-wrecked Chester (Ill.) Bridge as it appeared today from the Missouri side of the Mississippi River. The entire center span lies in the water. A portion of it may be seen near the base of the pier at left.

Chester Bridge Apparently Toppled By Clashing of Tornadoes Above It

Witness Tells of Cloud Masses Colliding at Span When It Fell Into Mississippi—Motorist Sees Gap, Turns Back.

What appeared to be two small tornadoes, meeting and causing a tremendous atmospheric disturbance above the Chester (Ill.) Bridge, apparently toppled the 1300-foot center span into the Mississippi River Saturday night, an eye-witness told the Post-Dispatch today.

W. A. Smith, a brakeman for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, who lives on a bluff downstream from the bridge, related the following story:

"My family and I were out in the front yard watching the storm. The sky was full of lightning flashes, so that we could see pretty well. The wind was so strong some of the children were hanging on to trees to keep on their feet.

"We noticed a roaring like a freight train makes, only louder. Looking upstream we could see a mass of light clouds rolling over and over on a horizontal axis and approaching the bridge. Then we saw another mass of clouds spinning on a vertical axis and angling toward the bridge from the upstream on the Illinois shore.

Motorist Stops in Time.

"They seemed to meet directly above the bridge. The red warning light went out. The bridge seemed to lift a little and then fall over downstream. Sparks flew from electric wires leading to the light. The cloud mass moved on toward the Missouri shore."

Smith said that immediately after the high steel span fell into the water he could see the lights of an automobile approaching the gap at high speed from the Missouri side. Several of the children, he said, screamed and ran into the house, assuming the automobile would plunge over the edge of the approach.

The driver, however, saw what had happened just in time and was able to bring his automobile to a stop a few feet from the end of the pavement, Smith said. He added that shortly before the bridge went down an automobile started over from the Missouri side. The lights went out before the driver reached the span which later was wrecked, and Smith did not know whether he turned and went back.

There is only one toll station, on the Illinois side, so that it was not possible to tell what vehicles may have started across the bridge from Missouri. The last machine to cross from Missouri was a truck which was blown violently against the side of the span, the driver reported. No cars had started across from Illinois for some time.

Leo F. Jones, toll taker on duty, knew nothing about the wreck until "one of the fellows from the ice plant a couple of hundred yards downstream called up and said 'Your bridge has blowed into the river.'"

"I didn't believe it," Jones said. "I told him I thought he was fooling. I sure was surprised."

The Chester Bridge Commission, municipal body which has charge of the bridge, was taking depositions today from all persons with information on the subject.

John I. Parcel, member of the firm of Sverdrup & Parcel, consulting engineers who supervised construction of the bridge, said there was some evidence in the way in which the fingers of the expansion joint of the Illinois approach were damaged to indicate one end, at least, of the bridge may have been lifted bodily from the pier.

Parcel said, however, he would not hazard a guess as to what happened. The bridge, he said, is of the through continuous truss type and is similar to bridges at Hannibal, Hermann and Weldon Spring. He added these bridges all are built to withstand winds of hurricane velocity.

Damage Estimated at $650,000

Parcel estimated the damage at about $650,000, and said that it would take a year to rebuild the damaged part if priorities could be obtained. He said he did not think the Government would grant priorities at the present time. The bridge, opened two years ago, cost $1,385,000.

Until the wreckage is cleared from the main channel by Army Engineers tows will be routed through the remaining open channel along the Illinois shore. This is about 150 feet in width and the Coast Guard will direct traffic through it. Col. Lawrence B. Feagin of the Army Engineers said a navigation bulletin would be issued to river interests today.

LIVING COSTS IN ST. LOUIS SHOW .3 PCT. RISE IN MONTH

Cost of living of St. Louis families increased three-tenths of one per cent between mid-May and mid-June, the Dallas regional office of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

The increase reflected an advance in retail prices of all principal family budget items except rent, fuel, electricity and ice, the report stated. Principal increase was seven-tenths of one per cent in food costs.

The St. Louis cost-of-living index for June was 124.3, an increase of five-tenths of one per cent over June, 1943, the report said.

NEGRO UNITS WIN EISENHOWER'S PRAISE

Antiaircraft Balloon Battery and Quartermaster Truck Company Cited.

By HOWARD COWAN
(Associated Press Correspondent Representing the Combined American Press.)

ADVANCED COMMAND POST, SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 31 (AP).—Negro troops of an anti-aircraft balloon battery and a quartermaster truck company yesterday drew official commendation from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for their work in Normandy since D-day.

"Your battalion landed in France June 6 under artillery, machine gun and rifle fire," Eisenhower said in a citation to the antiaircraft troops.

"Despite the losses sustained, the battalion carried out its mission with courage and determination and proved an important element of the air defense team. The cheerfulness and devotion of its officers and men have been commented on by personnel of other units. This report is most gratifying to me. I commend you and the officers and men of your battalion for your fine efforts which have merited the praise of all who have observed it."

Eisenhower spoke to the Quartermaster company of its landings against intense enemy opposition, and said:

"Nevertheless you salvaged most of your equipment at once and within three days 90 per cent of your vehicles were operating on a 24-hour basis, a scale which was maintained for five weeks. I want you to know that I appreciate your splendid work. Your accomplishments are a source of gratification to me and to your army commander."

WOMAN ROBS MAN OF $703 CASH AND CHECKS FOR $2500

Police today sought a woman who stole $703 in cash and five cashier's checks totaling $2500 from William C. Bodanske, an automobile salesman from Springfield, Mo., after entertaining him briefly in her apartment at 3707 Olive street.

Bodanske, who said he had come to St. Louis to purchase used cars, told police he met the woman on the street at Grand and Lindell boulevards. After spending about five minutes in her apartment, he said, she was called to a telephone in a downstairs hall by a man who knocked at the door and informed her it was a long-distance call.

When she did not return in a reasonable time, Bodanske said, he prepared to leave and discovered the money and checks missing from his trousers pocket.

17 OF 24 ON BUS INJURED IN UPSET NEAR SCOTT FIELD

Soldier, Two Belleville Men Hospitalized — Driver Says Brakes Failed.

Seventeen persons were injured when a Belleville-St. Louis Coach Co. bus overturned shortly before 8 o'clock this morning at the interesection of State Highway 161 and Scott Field road, six miles east of Belleville, Illinois Highway Police reported. Only three of the injured required hospitalization.

The driver, Anthony Muckensturm, 316 South Ninth street, Belleville, said the brakes failed as the bus was making a left turn into Scott Field road. The bus, which carried 23 passengers, overturned on the shoulder of the road, coming to rest on its left side.

Staff Sgt. Leland G. Scroggins, Pickton, Tex., was admitted to Scott Field Hospital with a fractured left shoulder blade. Two Belleville residents, August Holtkamp, 1006 South Fifth street, and Charles Beyer, 210 West E street, were admitted to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville for treatment of right shoulder injuries.

The driver and 13 other passengers escaped with minor cuts, bruises and abrasions, it was reported.

The accident occurred one mile south of Scott Field. Ambulances from the field took the injured, including five soldiers, to hospitals.

75 OF 160 STRIKERS RETURN TO JOBS AT TITANIUM PLANT

Seventy-five of 160 striking Negroes at the National Lead Co. titanium plant, River DesPeres and Mississippi River, returned to work this morning and others were expected to follow, a company spokesman said. Production had been described as normal during the three-day strike.

C. Y. Pfoutz, plant manager, said the company had expressed willingness to rehire all except three of the strikers. He said it was considered inadvisable to discuss the issues involved at this time.

The strikers met last night at the Pine street branch of the Y. M. C. A. to discuss returning to work at the instance of the United Inter-Racial Labor Victory Committee, comprising Negro and white union leaders. Alleging discrimination, they left their jobs without sanction of their union, the CIO United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers.

ST. LOUIS 27.5 PCT. ABOVE BOND QUOTA ON LAST DAY

Sales of all types of war bonds in St. Louis and St. Louis County totaled $230,691,949, or 27.5 per cent in excess of the quota, as the Fifth War Loan drive entered its final day today.

The latest report on E bonds listed sales totaling $24,593,846, or 76.4 per cent of the quota, but this total did not include the final tabulation on bonds sold for admission to seven motion picture premieres Saturday night.

I. A. Long, campaign chairman, expressed the hope that E-bond sales today would constitute a considerable addition to the total.

'Missy' Le Hand Dies; Served As Aid to Roosevelt 22 Years

President Praises Devotion, Efficiency of Personal Secretary Who Retired in 1942.

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—Miss Marguerite Alice (Missy) Le Hand, who served as Franklin D. Roosevelt's personal secretary for 22 years, died today at Chelsea, Mass., of cerebral embolism. She was 46 years old.

Her death was announced by the White House, where it was said she had been stricken unexpectedly. She retired as the President's secretary Dec. 18, 1942, because of poor health, but had improved somewhat since that time.

President Roosevelt issued this statement:

"Memories of more than a score of years of devoted service enhance the sense of personal loss which Miss Le Hand's passing brings. Faithful and painstaking, with charm of manner, inspired by tact and kindness of heart, she was utterly selfless in her devotion to duty.

"Hers was a quiet efficiency, which made her a real genius in getting things done.

"Her memory will ever be held in affectionate remembrance and appreciation, not only by all the members of her family, but the wide circle of those whose duties brought them into contact with her."

MISS MARGUERITE LE HAND

Miss Le Hand had one of the most important secretarial jobs in the world. She was in on national and international secrets of utmost import—and she kept them. All telephone calls went first to her. If she decided the message or person calling warranted it, the President was awakened.

From the President down, Miss Le Hand was known as "Missy." She got this nickname when the Roosevelts' daughter, Anna, now Mrs. John Boettiger, tried as a child to pronounce the name of her father's new secretary.

NEW EFFORT TONIGHT TO END STRIKE OF 300 AT STEEL PLANT

Another effort to end the unauthorized strike which has halted production at the Granite City plant of General Steel Castings Corporation since Friday will be made tonight at a conference of union and management representatives, Federal Labor Conciliator A. J. Hummert announced after a series of conferences yesterday failed to effect a settlement.

The 300 Negro chippers who walked out in protest against "abusive" tactics on the part of a white foreman must return to work and submit their grievance through channels provided in a union-management contract, Hummert said, emphasizing that consideration of the men's grievance must be preceded by resumption of work.

The strikers are members of Local 1022, CIO United Steel Workers of America. More than 4300 employes have been thrown out of work by the walkout at the plant, which produces castings for Army, Navy and railroad equipment.

WOMAN IS HURT BY AUTO; NEARBY DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Mrs. Agnes Nowak, 2739 Allen avenue, suffered severe abrasions late Saturday night when she was struck by an automobile as she crossed Russell boulevard at California avenue. She was taken to City Hospital.

A witness, Everett Medley, 2733 Russell, said the driver parked the car in the 2700 block of Russell after the accident, and police later arrested a resident of the neighborhood who admitted owning the machine, but denied hitting a pedestrian. The vehicle had a dented front fender, police said.

Woman Accused of Fatal Shooting

Ruby Davis, Negro, was in jail at Venice, Ill., today charged by police with killing John W. Davis, Negro, with a shotgun, as he sat on the porch of his home in the 200 block of Hoover avenue, Venice. Witnesses said that they were former friends.

3 SOLDIERS IN ILLINOIS KILLED ON MANEUVERS

Boom and Pole Collapse on Men From Granite City Engineers Depot.

Three soldiers from the Granite City Army Engineers Depot were killed yesterday when a boom and pole being used to shift heavy equipment collapsed and crushed them during training maneuvers near Troy, Ill.

Staff Sgt. Willard V. Nelson, 32 years old, of Los Angeles, and Pfc. Fred B. Stackley, 31, of Melrose Park, Ill., suffered fractured skulls and died instantly. Technician Fifth Grade Bernard Rosen, 22, of Philadelphia died en route to Scott Field hospital of internal injuries.

At the time of the accident the hoisting equipment was being used to move a part of a heavy tractor. An investigation is under way to determine the cause of the accident.

BOY ADMITS FATAL SHOOTING

Talmos Trice, 18 years old, a Negro, was arrested yesterday at his home, 3428 Lawton boulevard, and admitted, police said, that he had shot Earl Hester, 16, a Negro, at Fairfax avenue and Whittier street last Thursday. Hester died the following day.

Police said the shooting was the outgrowth of a teen-age Negro gang war. Trice identified himself as a member of one of the gangs, police said, and shot Hester when the latter drew a knife after Trice accosted him. Five other boys are held as witnesses.

FIVE WAR PLANTS SHUT BY STRIKE OVER OUTPUT RATE

7000 Men Idle in CIO-General Motors Dispute After 5 Unionists Are Suspended.

DETROIT, July 31 (AP).—Five war plants producing parts for Pratt & Whitney airplane engines and employing approximately 7000 men were left virtually idle today by a strike of CIO unionists over rates of production.

The plants were in a group of six of the Chevrolet gear and axle division of General Motors Corporation where an original walkout in one plant last week spread to four others. The sixth plant, described as used largely for apprentice training, was not affected.

Suspension of five workers for failure to meet production rates preceded a strike by 356 employes in plant No. 3 last Thursday by members of Local 235 United Automobile Workers (CIO).

Union officers said the workers complained they could not meet new production rates which the company said had been arrived at through time studies with the union.

General Motors had refused to offer to negotiate the dispute, a corporation spokesman explaining that General Motors would stand by its policy not to attempt a settlement while a strike was in progress.

Nestor B. Dessy, president of Local 235, said members at a meeting last night voted to remain away from work until grievances were settled, and demanded that the War Labor Board intervene or the dispute be sent to President Roosevelt.

H. W. Anderson, vice president in charge of General Motors personnel, had said earlier that the corporation had expected the UAW-CIO international leadership would, "in keeping with its established public policy in wartime," take "immediate positive steps" to end the strike.

NEW WATER MAIN PLANNED FOR SECTION OF FIRST STREET

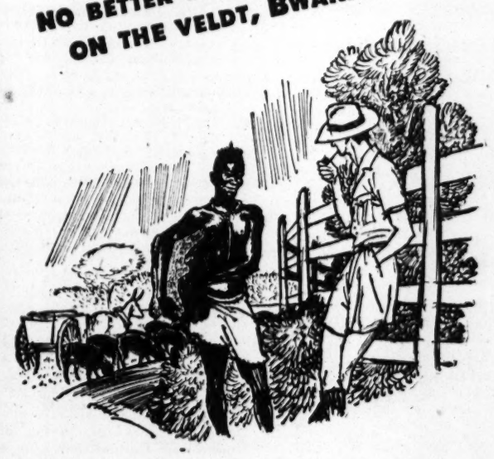

Plans for installation of an eight-inch water main along First street between Gasconade and Guthrie streets at a cost of $13,511 were announced today by Director of Public Utilities Thomas J. Skinker.

He said 51 of 80 residents on First street petitioned the water department for the main, which also will make water available to residents of "Shantytown," east of First street at the foot of Chippewa street.

Skinker said he would recommend that the Board of Public Service instruct the water department to construct the main at the department's expense. Length of the main will be 2880 feet.

DEWEY SAYS U.S. CAN'T STAND NEW ROOSEVELT DEPRESSION

Asserts New Deal Has Failed to Plan for Postwar Reconversion and That Next 4-Year Term Will Be Mostly in Peacetime.

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 31 (AP).—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, asserting that the New Deal had failed to plan for postwar reconversion, asserted today "it may not be long before the most vital thing that faces every American is his opportunity to work."

Arriving for conferences with political, business and labor leaders, the Republican presidential nominee told a press conference the country should remember that in November it will be electing a President, "most of whose term will be in peacetime."

"As I see it," Dewey said, "the United States simply cannot face another period like the Roosevelt depression which lasted for eight years, with more than 10 million unemployed continuously from 1933 through 1940."

Dewey, who was greeted by a large crowd at the railroad station and spectators lining the streets on a circuitous parade to a downtown hotel, said he had come to Pennsylvania to begin work on "the too-long delayed preparations for reconversion of industry" which he said vitally involved employment after the war ends.

As to Changing Horses.

"I think proper government policies can contribute enormously and I believe successfully in avoiding unemployment which so many now regard as inevitable under an administration that failed for eight years to meet the problem despite tremendous deficits."

A reporter asked what the Republican nominee thought about the "don't change horses in the middle of the stream" slogan which some Democrats had voiced, in the light of that party's nomination of Senator Truman (Dem.), Missouri, for Vice President. Truman replaced Vice President Henry A. Wallace on the ticket.

"I should say that idea was demolished in Chicago — they changed one half of the horse," Dewey replied.

No Governmental Progress.

"We are making gratifying progress in the fighting of the war," he said, "but governmentally we are making no progress toward what happens after the war."

He said he was "entirely satisfied that the opportunities in this country are still unlimited," adding: "We don't need to surrender our liberties to a totalitarian New Deal.. We can't afford to."

He chatted with 41 labor leaders, most of them officers of AFL unions. The CIO and United Mine Workers had a few men present. To this group Dewey has said authoritatively to have given his personal assurance that he approved the party platform plant declaring a union member should serve in the Cabinet.

Thomas Mallon, district director of the AFL at Philadelphia, said Dewey's labor views "got a very good reception in our group and we feel he is the candidate for labor to support."

Dewey and his party will be met at the Union Station here by a reception committee composed of Gov. and Mrs. Forrest C. Donnell; Mayor and Mrs. Aloys P. Kaufmann; Barak T. Mattingly, national committeeman; Mrs. Frances J. O'Meara, national committeewoman and vice chairman of the Republican State Committee; Grover W. Dalton, chairman of the State Republican Committee; C. Wheeler Detjen, chairman of the St. Louis County Republican Committee; Mrs. J. M. Hutchison, vice chairman of the County committee; Fred W. Evers, chairman of the City Republican Committee; Miss Eva Marie Schopp, vice chairman of the city committee; Adjutant Gen. and Mrs. Clifford W. Gaylord of the Missouri State Guard; Director of Public Welfare and Mrs. Henry S. Caulfield; former Gov. and Mrs. Arthur M. Hyde; E. W. Bromwich, treasurer of the State Republican Committee; and Mrs. Clara Hempelmann, secretary of the State Republican Committee.

The train on which Gov. Dewey and his party will arrive is scheduled to get into St. Louis at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday. Gov. Dewey and his party will have had breakfast on the train, and the first session of the Governors' Conference will start at 10 a. m. in the Daniel Boone room at Hotel Statler.

Conference Sessions Closed.

Since all sessions of the conference will be closed to the public and the press, newspapermen will be granted interviews and conferences at 12:30 p. m. This will be followed by an informal luncheon at 1 p. m. for the Governors and their wives.

Afternoon sessions, starting at 2:30 will continue until 6:30, when there will be a press conference. An informal dinner will begin at 7 o'clock and conferences will start again at 8 p. m. The second day of the conference will follow the same program, ending with a general press conference, arrangements for which will be announced later.

Labor leaders today said they had not yet received invitations to attend the Friday conference. John I. Rollings, executive secretary of the AFL Central Trades and Labor Union, said he "thought it would be well for the AFL to have a representative there if we get an invitation."

Richard J. Brazier, chairman of the CIO Political Action Committee, which has indorsed President Roosevelt for a fourth term, said he had not yet been informed that representatives of PAC were wanted at the half-hour labor conference with Dewey.

"Anything Dewey may say at the conference," Brazier said, "could hardly change the course of action PAC is following. We are pledged to re-elect Roosevelt."

If the PAC is invited to the meeting, however, Brazier said he would attend the conference with William Chambers and Adolph Nesbit, co-secretaries of the committee.

The following Governors have informed the committee here of their times of arrivals: Andrew F. Schoeppel of Kansas, 8:28 a. m., Wednesday; Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, 5:18 p. m., tomorrow; Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, 8:40 a. m., Wednesday; Earl Snell of Oregon, 2:40 p. m., tomorrow; Earl Warren of California, 10:23 p. m., tomorrow; Dr. Robert O. Blood of New Hampshire, 4:58 p. m., tomorrow.

Harry F. Kelly of Michigan, 7:08 a. m., Wednesday; C. A. Bottolfsen of Idaho, 5:15 p. m., tomorrow; John W. Bricker of Ohio, 4:45 p. m. tomorrow; Arthur B. Langlie of Washington, 5:15 p. m. tomorrow; Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, 4:58 p. m., tomorrow; Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut, 8 a. m. Wednesday; Sumner Sewall of Maine, 7:08 a. m. Wednesday, and Walter S. Goodland of Wisconsin, 7:43 a. m. tomorrow.

exclusive regulation of the business of insurance by the several states where local conditions are best known and where local needs can best be met." Despite the notorious Missouri insurance scandal, the 26 Governors are expected to affirm, as Gov. Dewey has affirmed for New York, that their state insurance offices are competent to handle "exclusive regulation" of the insurance companies, which the Supreme Court has held is "commerce" — not business—within the meaning of the interstate commerce clause.

Dewey's agenda merely called for consideration of "regulation of all kinds of insurance."

Virtually every other item in Dewey's 15 points is similarly touched on in the party platform. During the two-day sessions Dewey will have an opportunity to elaborate his views and obtain those of his colleagues.

Modified States' Rights.

The extent to which the old states' rights doctrine has been modified during the past years, despite the huge cash surpluses built up by states during the war period, is illustrated by the platform's position on public works, which said that the "Federal Government should plan a program for flood control, inland waterways and other economically justified public works." Dewey, in his 15 points, went beyond this when he offered for discussion: "Public works—the extent of direction by national government and finance by national government, by states and locally, and highways, including transcontinental roads and national defense projects."

As yet no definite program for the two-day session, with the assignment of specific topics of discussion, has been announced. In Pittsburgh today Dewey is setting the pattern for his informal discussions with labor, business and other leaders. He expects to follow the same procedure tomorrow at Springfield, Ill.

NEW PLANTS SPEED 100-OCTANE PRODUCTION

NEW AVIATION GASOLINE UNITS of most modern design at Sinclair refineries, are now producing 100-octane gasoline. Sinclair's output of this vital fuel runs into thousands of barrels a day.

TO BACK OUR BOYS in the Army, Navy and Coast Guard, Sinclair is also producing vast quantities of fuel oil for battleships, lubricating oil for planes, tanks and jeeps, toluene for bombs and butylene for synthetic rubber.

When they're passing out the medals, they may pass him by.

When they're looking for headline heroes, he may be overlooked.

But on every battlefront of the war, from New Guinea to Normandy, you'll find him up where the shooting is...rolling supply trains in.

He's the G. I. "boomer"—the soldier-railroader of the Military Railway Service. And he risks his neck 24 hours a day to keep fighting equipment on the move.

He builds his own tracks when he has to. He repairs his own rolling stock. He runs ammunition, medicine and food right up under the enemy's guns. It's the toughest railroading in the world ... and it gets tougher with every mile he moves toward Tokyo and Berlin.

Our railroading job over here ... the job of backing him up ... gets tougher every day, too. For now, in addition to moving more men, more guns, more fighting supplies to embarkation ports, we are faced with a new responsibility—that of carrying the wounded from hospital ships to hospitals throughout the country. And these returning heroes are entitled to first priority on every railway line in America.

All this adds up to the biggest job the railroads have ever tackled ...

And only by even closer cooperation between the railroads and the shippers and receivers of freight ... only by even greater understanding on the part of railway passengers ... can this bigger job be done.

NAVY TO REDUCE CONSTRUCTION OF UNDERSEAS CRAFT

Losses Are Lighter Than Expected; Workers Are Required on Other Types of Weapons.

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—The Navy announced a cutback in the submarine building program today and attributed the step to two factors—loss of fewer submarines than was expected and need for at least eight other types of ships or weapons.

The announcement gave no figures either on the cutback or the existing fleet of underwater craft.

"The reduction will be accomplished by not starting a number of submarines which were scheduled for completion toward the end of the building program," the announcement said.

General Program to Increase.

"While some adjustments in the working forces in the six submarine building yards will be involved, the submarines completion schedule will be maintained at present levels throughout the next seven or eight months. Such men and women as are released over the next few months can be employed advantageously on other parts of the Navy shipbuilding and repair programs—and will be given opportunities for such employment.

"The reduction in the number of submarines in the building program does not mean that the over-all Navy production program is declining. The total Navy program will continue to increase in size at least until the first quarter of 1945. There are eight classes of weapons and supplies which the Navy urgently needs at the present time."

The Navy said these munitions are: Aircraft carriers and cruisers, new types of assault ships (fast, armed cargo carriers and transports), tankers, bombardment ammunition, rockets for firing from both planes and ships, 40 millimeter guns, machinery for advanced bases and high octane gas.

Hunting Grounds Shrink.

"Past and prospective advances in the Pacific limit the area in which Japanese shipping can operate and correspondingly limit the future hunting grounds for our submarines," the Navy said.

The Navy acknowledged that in the case of assault ships "we are behind schedule—in some instances months behind."

Production schedules for bombardment ammunition have been increased more than 3000 per cent since 1942, yet "we are barely keeping our nose above water."

The 40-mm. guns are needed above everything from landing craft to battleships, with production behind schedule. The Navy said it was short about 200 guns and had about a 13 per cent deficit in 40-mm. ammunition.

Farther east the British forces working slowly along the north banks of the upper Arno, established themselves in Castelfranco, 19 miles northwest of Arezzo. One Nazi position there hoisted the white flag when British tanks opened fire.

Lapia, seven miles north of Arezzo, was found unoccupied.

MONTH'S LIQUOR PRODUCTION TO EQUAL AVERAGE YEAR'S

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—In the 31 days beginning tomorrow distillers expect to produce as much whisky and gin as are made in a full year under normal conditions.

This is possible, liquor sources said today, because distilleries will be on a 24-hour basis and their facilities have been expanded vastly by war production of alcohol. In normal times they operated only a few months of the year.

About 40 million gallons of high-proof alcohol are expected from the one-month holiday granted the distilleries by the War Production Board. Most of this will be blended with stocks now aging.

ST. LOUISAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN BOMBER OFF ITALY

A chance encounter with a Nazi submarine while on bomber patrol off the Italian coast was the occasion for the narrowest escape in two and half years overseas of Chief Petty Officer Frank Roemer, veteran of the invasions of Africa, Italy and France, who is spending a furlough with his aunt, Mrs. Isabelle Roemer, 5024A Kensington avenue.

Bombs had just been unloaded on the submarine, Roemer related, when three German fighters zoomed down from the clouds. The plane had been hit twice and was beginning to falter when five R. C. A. F. fighters appeared on the scene to take over the fight and enable the bomber to escape. German fighters did not have a chance to send up so much resistance during the invasion of France, Roemer said.

Roemer, 24-year-old gunner and bombardier, was formerly employed at the Royal Mogul Corporation here. He is to report for duty as instructor at the Naval Flight School at Pensacola at the end of his furlough.

TWO BURGLARS ADMIT PART IN THEFTS TOTALING $567

Ernest Brown, 1417 Madison street, one of two men arrested Thursday, has admitted participating in three burglaries in which a total of $567 was taken from safes, it was announced today by police. A companion, Robert James Donovan, 5116 Kensington avenue, has admitted taking part in one of the burglaries, police said, and two other men are being sought.

Police reported that Brown said he, Donovan and a third man took $68 from the Christian Science Reading Room, 5009 Delmar boulevard, on June 24; he and another companion obtained $485 from Brown's Department Store, 4062 Olive street, on July 4; and he and the two who entered the reading room robbed the safe of the Merchants' Ice and Fuel Co., 4233 Chippewa street, of $14 on July 5. Donovan has admitted the latter burglary, police said, but denied taking part in the others.

A Message to America

DR. THOMAS PARRAN

Surgeon-General, U. S. Public Health Service

CONCERNING THE FUTURE OF AMERICA'S SERVICEMEN

As broadcast over C. B. S., on the Schenley Laboratories' program, "THE DOCTOR FIGHTS"

"AMONG every 100 men who are wounded in battle and reach a hospital, 97 will live, according to Surgeon-General Kirk of the U. S. Army.

This means that most of our heroic servicemen will come back alive—not necessarily whole. Blood plasma, the sulfa drugs and penicillin, in addition to other medical discoveries since the last war, are saving a large proportion of the most seriously injured men.

We have a special responsibility to these men we love who come back with permanent handicaps. Our doctors have preserved their lives. It is for us to see that they live in liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Each of us must receive our returned soldier with pride, neither repelled by, nor over-solicitous as to his injury. Most of his anxiety about it will stem from worry about its effect upon us and upon his chances for livelihood. We must convince him, and prove it by our actions, that he has the capacity to be useful and happy.

From what I have seen in our Army, Navy and Public Health Service Hospitals, very few handicapped men want to become the permanent wards of the Government and spend the rest of their days in idleness. They have worked hard. They have stood on their feet and slugged it out with the enemy. They have endured more than they dreamed it was possible to endure. They will ask of us—and they will have every right to ask—useful work which they are mentally and physically able to do.

Industry, however, needs to retool its thinking before retooling its machinery for postwar production. In the past, men have been ruled by the needs of the machine. After the war, jobs, tools, machines and national planning must be fitted to the men who fought to preserve the nation. There is another thing to consider: Many of our fighting men have learned new skills. So far as is humanly possible, they should go on from there. Men who have learned the intricacies of radar will not be satisfied peddling magazine subscriptions. Men who have flown bombers will not be happy untangling red tape. Men who have learned to build and use the lightning calculators used in anti-aircraft fire will not accept with grace a job pushing buttons on an electric elevator.

The end of the war may be near or far away. The world that follows the war will be what we choose to make it, beginning now. Certainly it will be different. We must adapt a rich and vigorous part of that changed world for the participation of those men who have returned and will in increasing numbers return from the battlefronts, broken, perhaps, of body but high of heart."

Russians Capture Rail City 21 Miles From Port of Riga

kers military caste. Giby, seven miles inside the triangle, was taken by the troops of Gen. Ivan D. Cherniakhovsky, 37 years old, a Jewish General commanding the Third White Russian Army.

German reports said Cherniakhovsky also was attacking to the south at Augustow, eight miles from East Prussia proper.

The Soviet command announced the capture of 1144 towns and villages yesterday on the 1000-mile winding front from the Baltic to the Carpathian mountain approaches to Czechoslovakia.

Cherniakhovsky's troops, attacking from bridgeheads west of the Niemen River from Kaunas southward through Alytus, hurled the Nazis out of 300 towns and villages on a 68-mile front, and scored gains up to 15 miles. Shlyanova, five miles east of Kaunas, was among the places taken.

The Russians surged to within nine and one-half miles of the town of Suwalki itself in the wild borderland country east of the Masurian lakes. At Shlyanova they were 69 miles southeast of the East Prussian rail city of Insterburg.

The First Baltic Army under Gen. Ivan Bagramian captured 300 Latvian towns and villages, nicluding Gulda, eight miles southwest of Jelgava and 25 miles from the gulf of Riga.

A Moscow dispatch said three strong Russian columns had turned north on Riga in a supreme effort to trap German forces in Latvia and Estonia.

On the southeastern Estonian front Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's Third Baltic Army, well inside the Estonian frontier west and southwest of Pskov, took 100 localities. These included Lissitski, 12 miles west of Pskov, and the rail city of Irboska, 17 miles southwest of Pskov and 144 miles northwest of Riga.

Russians Gain West of Bug.

West of the Bug River, the northern wing of Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's First White Russian Army took 200 localities in the triangle formed by Brest Litovsk on the east, Seimiatycze on the northwest, and Siedlce on the west.

West of Brest Litovsk Red troops finally liquidated a large force of Germans trapped there three days ago, killing 15,000 and capturing 2000, Moscow said.

Between Brest Litovsk and Bialystok, Gen. Georgi Zakharov's Second White Russian Army captured 61 villages, including Bielsk, 38 miles south of Bialystok; Augustowo, three miles west of Bielsk, and Sredzinskie, 14 miles southwest of Bialystok.

Units of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukraine Army, clearing the Germans steadily out of the Carpathian foothills, captured 103 populated places, including Komarno and Krukience, 21 and 38 miles, respectively, southwest of Lwow, and Dolina, 32 miles west of Stanislawow.

GEN. IVAN CHERNIAKHOVSKY

REPUBLICAN FOR RETAINING TRUMAN AS COMMITTE HEAD

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—A move to retain Senator Truman (Dem.), Missouri, as chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee was under discussion today.

Senator Burton (Rep.), Ohio, a member of the group, told reporters he thought Truman's candidacy for the vice-presidency would not interfere. "He's done an excellent job," Burton said, "and the committee's work is entirely nonpartisan."

Truman told a press conference shortly after his nomination that he would resign not only his chairmanship but his membership on the committee. The question will be decided at a meeting of the committee Thursday.

THE REV. ALFRED MEYER DIES

The Rev. Alfred E. Meyer, 71 years old, pastor of Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church in Belleville from 1899 to 1905 and former secretary of the South Illinois District of the Evangelical Synod, died yesterday in Chicago.

A native of Cape Colony, South Africa, the Rev. Mr. Meyer came to the United States in 1897. At the time of his death he was pastor of Ravenswood Evangelical Church in Chicago. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Meyer, three daughters and three sons. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Funeral for Sam P. Cerf.

Sam P. Cerf, co-owner of the Cerf Brothers Bag Co., died yesterday at his home, 321 Belt avenue, of heart disease. He was 69 years old. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ruth Cerf, a brother and three sisters. The funeral will be conducted from the Mayer undertaking establishment, 4356 Lindell boulevard, with burial in Mt. Sinai Cemetery.

Hot-Water Tank Curb Off.

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—Consumers no longer will require priority ratings to purchase hot-water storage tanks and expansion tanks, the War Production Board announced today. The restrictions were removed, WPB said, because such tanks are used mainly to replace existing tanks which cannot be repaired.

93 COUNTIES IN TEXAS PLEDGED TO F. D. R.

29 Against Him and 132 Are Not Yet Committed on Issue.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 31 (AP).—Texas Democrats remain at odds over the question of supporting the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

From the state's turbulent county conventions Saturday—in which fist fights were reported from several counties—there emerged 93 county delegations pledged to support Roosevelt and 29 instructed to support the present "regular" electors named in state convention here May 23. Texas has 254 counties.

The "regular" electors remain unbound to support the national Democratic ticket because the national convention failed to meet certain conditions.

Whether the state convention in Dallas Sept. 12 will break precedent and overrule the actions of the May convention by proposing a new set of electors remains a question.

Political leaders said today that, if the September convention turns down the previously-named electors—who have been certified to the Secretary of State for places on the November ballot—the matter likely will be settled in court.

Some pro-Roosevelt supporters remarked that the least the Sept. 12 convention might do would be to adopt a resolution asking the non-pledged Texas electors to support party nominees.

RINGLING CIRCUS ENROUTE TO OHIO TO RESUME TOUR

SARASOTA, Fla., July 31 (AP).—The Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus is enroute to Akron, O., to resume its summer tour.

The big show returned to its winter headquarters here for repairs after fire swept its main tent in Hartford, Conn., July 6 with the loss of more than 160 lives.

Circus officials said that performances for the remainder of the season will be in the open in stadiums and baseball parks—without the canvas "big top."

Nazis Trying to Break Trap Slaughtered by Americans

armored infantry and one company of medium tanks, both of the same armored division, bivouacked in meadows adjoining the lane in question. They were warned to be on the alert for desperate attempts at a break-through by Nazi units cut off from the main forces by the American advance.

In command was Capt. W. C. Johnson, 26 years old, of Monroe, La., former football coach at Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Lafayette. He posted units at strong points to block roads and trails, placed two tanks and two squads of infantry at each lane debouching into the road, thus preparing a possible ambush.

Suddenly, just after midnight, it was reported from outposts nearest Cambry that enemy foot soldiers were trying to filter through American positions and that two of our own tanks had been captured.

In one advanced post was Pfc. Manual Hoffman, a rifleman, of St. Louis; also in the scene was a half-track driven by Technician Mike Bevlow of East St. Louis. Later from the outposts came definite news that an enemy armored column was approaching, led by a 45-ton Panther tank with a long-barreled 76-mm. rifle turret.

PFC. MANUEL HOFFMAN is the 27-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Hoffman, 5585 Waterman boulevard. A brother, Herman Hoffman, 24, infantryman, is also participating in the Normandy campaign.

Attack From 3 Sides.

The Americans found themselves under attack from three sides, the front, rear and right flank. The Germans poured in small arms, mortar and 75-mm. howitzer fire. The Yanks replied with everything they had, rifles, machine guns, mortars, grenade launchers, bazookas, 75-mm. guns, Sherman tanks. A lucky enemy shot set off a display of fireworks by hitting a Yank half-track loaded with phosphorous shells and ammunition. American patrols sent out were driven back again and again by terrific hostile fire down the main road.

The shooting continued during the night, the most devastating ever seen, according to officers who were veterans of Carentan. The Americans, unable to dig in, suffered casualties.

Finally the supreme enemy attempt to drive straight through was made by a column of vehicles, identified as the division headquarters battalion of a crack SS. Panzer unit, Das Reich. In the lead was the Panther tank, then a self-propelled 170-mm. gun, followed by two 170-mm. towed guns, four 88-mm. towed guns, one self-propelled and one towed 75-mm. rifle, one ammunition carrier, 12 staff cars, 24 supply trucks, nine half-ton troop carriers and 11 Volkswagons or jeeps. The column, probably in the belief that the Americans had been routed, stormed forward in close order, fender to fender.

Germans Blocked.

A Sherman tank in ambush on the right side of the road opened fire and riddled the thin armor of the 170-mm. self-propelled gun before the huge cannon could fire a shot, killing all the crew. It then smashed the Panther tank in a rain of 75-mm. shells, also killing the enemy tank crew.

The disablement of the two leading vehicles blocked the entire German column. American tanks then closed in for the kill, summoning to their aid four nearby batteries of 105-mm. light artillery.

By 7 a. m., the whole German line of vehicles was out of action and the infantry was in flight.

Five hours later when we arrived the mopping up of stragglers was in progress. The occasional ping of a Yank carbine from adjacent meadows was answered by the curt, sharp chatter of a Nazi machine pistol. The wounded were still being collected.

Led by General.

It was decided after the battle that the attack was made by the German headquarters battalion cut off by the American advance. The battalion was making a do-or-die effort to break through to its own lines. The extreme tenacity of the enemy was thought to be due to the presence of a general officer, perhaps the divisional commander. He was not captured or killed in action and his identity and fate is unknown at this time. But the Americans took his ornate command car, complete with sleeping berth, a library of recent German novels, an elaborate wardrobe of uniforms and a bag of a dozen starched collars.

In all, it was estimated that 350 Germans were killed, 350 prisoners were rounded up during the morning; the wounded are not yet counted. American losses were much less, but by no means light.

MEMBERS OF TWO FAMILIES HAVE REUNIONS IN ITALY

The recent reunion of two St. Louis families of soldiers somewhere behind the battle lines in Italy, was reported in Army dispatches received today.

Joe, Warren and Don Stewart, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Stewart, 7711 Farlin avenue, and their cousin, Phil Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart, 4346 Penrose street, met at a Red Cross club for the first time and talked over many months of overseas experiences.

Two other brothers, Everard F. and Edwin A. Barnes of 7840 Cornell avenue, University City, both Lieutenant Colonels, met for the third time in Italy after having previously had reunions in North Africa and Sicily.

ST. LOUIS AIRMAN KILLED IN PLANE CRASH AT ATLANTA

ATLANTA, Ga., July 31 (AP). —Staff Sgt. Daniel A. Monan of St. Louis was killed late yesterday when a light plane crashed while taking off at the Atlanta Army Air Base.

Several hundred persons gathered at the field for an air show celebrating the thirty-seventh anniversary of the founding of the Army Air Forces, saw the plane rise, falter, and plunge to the top of a small hill adjacent to the runway.

Monan is not listed in the city and County directories.

QUALITY DAIRY SEEKS USE OF GRADE C MILK IN SKIM MILK

The Quality Dairy Co., 4630 West Florissant avenue, has asked permission of the City Health Department to use grade C milk in making cultured skim milk and chocolate milk, Dr. Milton Fisher, chief of the milk control section, said today.

The request, similar to one made last week by the Pevely Dairy Co., was taken under advisement while the department investigates the necessity of the proposed change.

SS. Nazis' Wild Charge on Village Stopped Dead by St. Louisan's Men

Capt. Charles Berra Leads Troops That Force Germans to Turn and Run After Two-Hour Tank Attack.

CAPT. CHARLES BERRA

Wildly charging German tanks and storm troops of the crack SS Das Reich combat team seeking escape from the American armored trap in Normandy were stopped dead yesterday by infantrymen commanded by Capt. Charles Berra of St. Louis at the little town of St. Denis-le-Gast, a dispatch from France reported.

Capt. Berra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Berra, 4130A Folsom avenue, who attended McKinley High School and was graduated from West Point in 1942, led a fierce predawn assault on the village streets. After two hours, bloody and desperate, the Elite Guard unit turned and ran south, leaving Berra with 130 prisoners. United States 105-millimeter howitzers up the road a few miles finished the Germans.

Capt. Berra, 26 years old, described as looking "natty even without a shave," told Wes Gallagher of the Associated Press: "It was real close-quarters work. You just stuck your pistol into someone's face and fired." He said the Germans "acted crazy," yelling and throwing grenades so close that many blew themselves up. The SS assault was preceded by the capture or a 20-man German patrol from the unit. It came about 10 hours after Capt. Berra's company had moved into St. Denis-le-Gast.

Two weeks ago Capt. Berra wrote home that after 20 days without removing his clothes, he managed to take a bath in his helmet and felt like a new man, his mother told the Post-Dispatch. She said he never wrote anything in his letters about the war itself. He went overseas in February 1943, and fought in North Africa and Sicily.

Drowned Man Identified.

A Negro who ended his life by drowning in the Mississippi River at the foot of Tesson street Saturday, has been identified as Milton Tringle, 83 years old, of Mexico, Mo., by his nephew Victor Ball, Negro, of 2821 Lucas avenue. Coast Guardsmen recovered the body less than an hour after Tringle was seen walking into the water.

Wacs at Army School.

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP). —The Army's School of Military Government has been opened to women for the first time with four WAC officers selected as the first feminine students in the Charlottesville (Va.) Far Eastern civil affairs class, the War Department announced yesterday.

Browns Lead by 4 1-2 Games After Winning Twice From Senators

Margin Largest Sewell's Men Have Held Over the Field This Season

Gutteridge's Tenth-Inning Double Wins Opener, 2-1—Galehouse Has Easy Time in Second, Gaining 7-3 Victory—Kramer and Wolff Hurl Tonight.

By W. J. McGoogan

In the matter of courage, the Browns don't have to take their caps off to any other big-league ball club. And because of that great asset they are today four and one-half games ahead of the second-place Boston Red Sox and five in front of the third-place New York Yankees in the race for the American League pennant.

That's the longest lead they have enjoyed all season and when that Boston writer stated they would have to win the pennant the hard way, if they win it, he knew whereof he spoke, because things just don't come easy to Luke Sewell and his men.

They'll have another crack at the Washington Senators tonight with Jack Kramer doing the pitching against Roger Wolff. Kramer has won 10 and lost an equal number, Wolff has gained three decisions, dropped six.

To pick up a game on the other contenders, the Browns yesterday won two from the Senators, the first 2 to 1 in 10 innings, the second 7 to 3, in the regulation nine, to run Washington's losing streak to nine straight. They now have won both ends of five doubleheaders, lost the same number and split even in nine, while in extra-inning contests they have won eight and lost eight. In games decided by one run they have won 13 and lost 16.

Real Pennant Noise.

All of which goes to show that the Browns now are really making more of a noise like a first-place club than they have in the past. It appears that they play something like the opposition: if it is good, the Browns play well, if it is not so good, the Browns follow suit.

Anyway, it was a thrilling show the club put on for the faithful to top Washington twice, particularly in the first game, when a double by Don Gutteridge with two men on base in the extra inning decided the contest after all seemed hopelessly lost.

Bob Muncrief and Mickey Haefner hooked up in a tight hurling duel, with neither side able to score in nine innings, although the Browns had the better chance with runners on second and third and one out in the sixth. But they couldn't make it. Muncrief was in trouble occasionally, too, but he always pitched out of the holes or a grand piece of defensive play by a mate pulled him out.

So when Rick Ferrell started the final frame with a harmless fly to right field which Chet Laabs misjudged and it went for a double, things looked dark indeed. Evans ran for Ferrell and Sullivan sacrificed.

Haefner, allowed to bat for himself, justified Manager Ossie Bluege by banging a real double to left field after Muncrief had two strikes on him, and Evans scored.

Little Don to the Rescue.

That run looked awfully big, and bigger after Zarilla and Christman were polite outs in the last half, but Frank Mancuso kept hope alive with a single to left. Tom Hafey batted for Muncrief and walked, Tex Shirley taking his place on base.

Gutteridge sent up a little foul fly behind third base which neither Clift nor Sullivan reached and Don had a life. Another little foul fly to the screen behind the plate followed, then Don cracked one on the nose, the ball hitting the right field wall on the fly, Mancuso and Shirley scampering over the plate with the runs which decided the game in favor of Muncrief for his eleventh triumph against six losses. The runs were the first Gutteridge had driven in since a game in Washington, July 9.

The lift that fine victory gave the Browns carried them through the second game. They pounded Wynn, Carrasquel and Candini for 14 hits to lead all the way.

Denny Galehouse hurled and while he didn't have much, he worked hard to pitch his first complete game of the year, bringing his record to three and three.

Five hits in the first inning really settled the issue as the Browns scored four runs on the blows, including doubles by Gutteridge, Kreevich and Zarilla together with singles by McQuinn and Christman.

Moore tripled and counted on Zarilla's single in the third. They added another in the seventh when McQuinn walked and took third on Stephens' single, Junior's only hit of the day. George scored as Moore hit into a double play.

Christman, who had been flirting with the left field wall all afternoon, finally made it in the eighth when he banged a double against it for his third hit of the game and he scored on Gutteridge's single, his third of the contest.

Myatt tripled to open the first against Galehouse and scored on Kuhel's infield hit. But after the Browns' first inning rally the Senator attack failed until the sixth when Stan Spence, who had been keeping the fans in suspense, banged his eighth homer to the roof of the right field pavilion.

In the seventh, Evans led off with a tap in front of the plate which he beat out and took second when Galehouse made an Al Sothoron throw over first base. Sullivan's hit scored him. Galehouse pitched out of that jam without further trouble and got out of another in the eighth. In the ninth, too, two Senators were on base with only one out but Denny got Myatt on a pop to Stephens and Kuhel on a grounder to Gutteridge to end the game.

Brownies Get Catcher Turner From White Sox

Tom Turner, a catcher, has been purchased by the browns from the Chicago White Sox, Bill De Witt, general manager of the St. Louis club, announced today, and he has been asked to report here immediately, by plane this afternoon, if possible, else by train tonight.

To make room for Turner, Outfielder Tom Hafey was sent to the Washington Senators for the waiver price of $7500. Hafey has been ordered to report at Jefferson Barracks Aug. 1 for his induction examination but on a previous test he was rated 4-F.

Turner has been with the White Sox for five seasons, having gone to Chicago from Houston. He's a righthanded hitter and pretty good catcher all around.

According to latest averages, Turner is batting .229 with 25 hits in 109 times at bat, which include two home runs. He has batted in 13 runs.

Neither of the Brownie catchers are hitting that well and Turner's experience should make him valuable to the Browns for the rest of the year.

At the moment, the club has but one receiver, Frank Mancuso, as Myron Hayworth is at his home in High Point, N. C., because of the serious illness of his mother. How long he will be absent is not known.

Hafey has played little since he has been with the Browns, but there is a feeling among the players that if he could get into the lineup regularly he would prove to be a pretty good hitter.

BROWNIE NOTES

Attendance was 14,305, including 12,170 paid.

George Case picked a drive by Mark Christman off the wall in the first game which would have decided the issue had it been a foot farther, as Laabs was on second at the time.

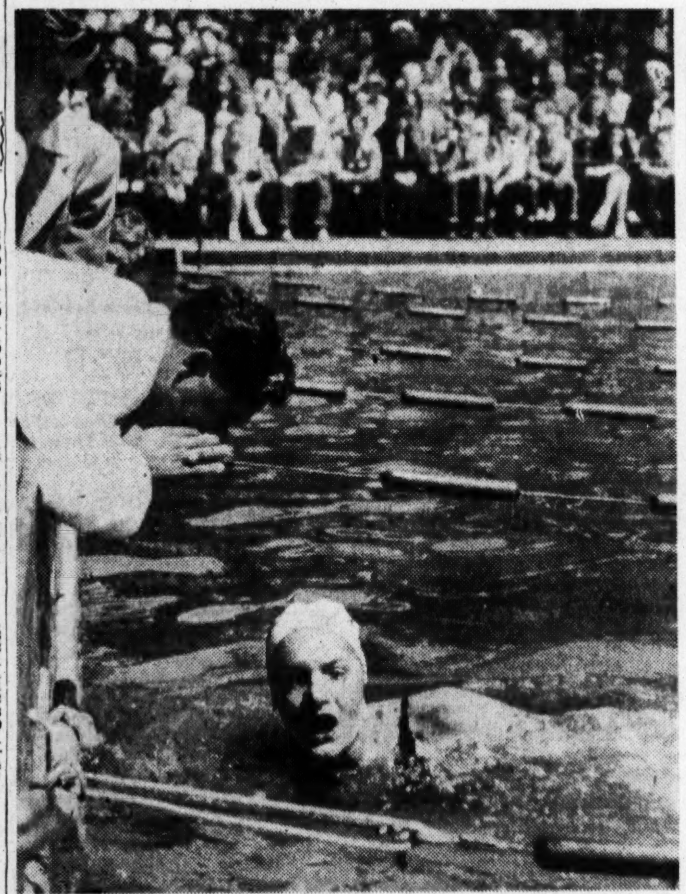

Nelson Potter, who has been spending his suspension days at his home in Mount Morris, Ill., returned to the club yesterday morning and is ready to take his place on the mound. His time is up today.

Al Zarilla kept up his good hitting with three hits in eight times up. He has hit safely in 10 straight games, getting 21 safeties in 35 times at bat for a mark of .600. His blows included three homers, a triple, five doubles and 12 singles. He has batted in 14 runs. One of his hits yesterday was against Haefner, a lefthanded pitcher.

Great fielding plays were numerous on both sides, with Stephens, Kreevich and Gutteridge shining particularly. McQuinn, of course, always stars on the defense and plays first base so well you hardly notice it until he makes an error, which is seldom. Spence roamed all over center field making good catches, while Sullivan shone at shortstop.

Many fans thought that Sewell removed Laabs from the second game because of his unfortunate break in missing Ferrell's drive. The fact is Chet was used in the first game because Haefner, a lefthander, was pitching and Gene Moore was used in right field against Wynn, a righthander.

Ziervogel and Light Defeated At Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 31 (AP).—Three seeded juniors advanced with ease today in initial matches of the National Junior and Boys' Tennis Championships at Kalamazoo College.

Two St. Louis representatives were quickly eliminated. Bob Light made a valiant but futile recovery in the second set of his match with Robert Doll of Tampa, Fla. The other St. Louisan, little Bobby Ziervogel, won only one game in dropping two sets to Billy Smith of Orlando, Fla.

Of the three successful seeded players, Herbert Flamm of Beverly Hills, Cal., 1943 boys' champ seeded third in the junior division this year, turning back Shelton Horsley, Richmond, Va., 6-3, 6-4.

Ed McGrath, Brooklyn, N. Y., seeded No. 6, defeated William King of Indianapolis in another junior maths, 6-1, 6-1. Alan Watson, Short Hills, N. J., seeded 8, beat Charles Schaaf, Highland Park, Ill., 4-6, 6-0, 6-0.

Bob Falkenburg, of Hollywood and Merced Field, Cal., defending champion, was slated for action this afternoon against Robert Steketee, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Hurbert Rance, Chicago, downed Peter Lemon, New York, 6-0, 6-1.

Bill Sayres, Detroit, defeated William Schreebeck, Cincinnati, 6-3, 6-1. Sanm Handel, Philadelphia, defeated Scott Donaldson, Minneapolis, by default.

St. Louisan Wins Casting Honors

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 31 (AP).—Kansas City's Northeast Casting Club won the annual Missouri State bait and fly tournament yesterday, scoring 458 out of 500. St. Louis Carondelet was second and Heart of America's women's team third.

Charles Schall of St. Louis was outstanding caster of the tournament, winning the allround championship and a leg on the new Budweiser Cup.

Zenthoefer Pitchers Win.

Led by Lefty Steinman who pitched 157 ringers, including 52 doubles in 230 shoes for an average of .683, the Zenthoefers handed the Centrals their second defeat of the season, 9 to 7, in the Carondelet division of the Municipal Horseshoe League yesterday. In the other contest, Spehs won from Wacker-Helderles, 11-5.

Knute Rockne Jr. in Aleutians.

Knute Rockne Jr., son of the former Notre Dame football coach, is in the Aleutians with the armed forces. His younger brother, Jackie, has taken preliminary vows in the Franciscan order.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Gotta Quit Kickin' Our Dog Aroun'.

ISN'T it about time the country's Brownie-phobes quit kickin' our Browns aroun'? . . . And also the fair city of St. Louis? . . . The way the experts are cartooning and lampooning us, you'd think baseball authors and artists had something to be peeved about. . . . Instead we seem to be furnishing them with columns of material to help them earn their salaries.

A writer for the Boston Globe (the article was reprinted in Extra Innings yesterday) recently socked the ankus into Luke Sewell, the Browns' owners and the city of St. Louis, apparently because the "begging" Browns are running ahead of the four-million-dollar Red Sox.

In New York a widely-known cartoonist pictured the St. Louis club management as a hill-billy hunter and labeled him "poor white trash," while his sleepy-eyed listless hound (the Browns) flopped on the ground and refused to pursue the American League pennant rabbit, hiding behind the hunter.

But the Browns keep on about their business whether their owners belong to the "affluent" plutocracy of baseball or the small bank-roll group. . . . At any rate our "poor white trash" club is now four and one-half games in front of its nearest rivals, with the season two-thirds gone.

At this writing the team appears to have something the other clubs lack, and that's consistency. . . . For, with but a few days excepted, the Browns have remained at the top throughout the race despite the challenges of all rivals. If you had to pick a team to beat them, you'd ask for odds on that club.

So why don't the carpers shut up and let the race take its course? . . . Neither the Browns nor St. Louis has done anything worse to the American League than contribute an unexpected interest in its race.

Great Guy

BOB QUINN, who made a lot of money with the St. Louis Browns and then lost it in Boston. Our Hub-town critics might learn a little about St. Louis from Bob.

Boston Has Little To Be Proud of.

THAT Boston scribe, instead of stabbing our fair city with the poisoned pen, might have vented some of his spleen on his home town. . . . It has been 25 years since Boston produced a pennant. . . . That goes for both teams which, in that quarter of a century, have achieved a grand average final standing of SIXTH.

Furthermore its teams have been heavy losers at times. Ask Bob Quinn. . . . Bob has taken a whirl at both Boston clubs and lost all the money he had saved from years of successful connection with the St. Louis Browns—believe it or not!

Bob bought the corpse of Harry Frazee's Boston Red Sox and went broke. . . . Then he went to the Braves and you can learn with what financial success by scrutinizing the club's standing through the years.

Boston clubs serve an area population of 6,500,000, according to major league figures, while St. Louis has to get along with 2,500,000. . . . In that time it has turned out seven pennants, four world titles and has been able, with its poor man's build-up, to beat the powerful and wealthy Yankee system in two of four world series!

Boston is just having some hard fortune. . . . Yawkey has done everything to give his city a winner, spending money lavishly. . . . Bob Quinn has tried to give the city a team the poor man's way. . . . We wish them both luck if the Browns and Cards don't beat them to it.

The carping and kidding to which our Browns have been treated could have a good effect. . . . The jibes may get Sewell and his players hot under the collar and so redouble their efforts.

Turning on a little more heat would just about win the flag race for "St. Looie," as they say in Boston.

. . . We have only 55 more games to play, with about half of them at home and we finish with a home stand of two weeks.

Think that one over, Harold.

Mort Cooper Seeks 14th Victory; Bums End Birds' Winning Streak

By J. Roy Stockton
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

BROOKLYN, July 31.—The Cardinals' nine-game winning streak was broken at Ebbets Field yesterday afternoon before a howling mob of 20,136 persons, including 18,968 cash customers, but Billy Southworth's men came back in the nightcap and won an 11-inning thriller, and so today their first-place margin remained at 15½ games.

It was a great show that the last-place Dodgers and the first-place Redbirds gave the surprisingly large crowd in this most loyal of all baseball cities. For three innings of the first game the Dodgers were their inept recent selves, fumbling and faltering. But with the score 4 to 0 against them, Leo Durocher's men suddenly took inspiration from the crowd. Johnny Hopp misjudged a line drive off Dixie Walker's bat to help the Brooklyns and then they went out and helped themselves. They crowded nine of their 11 hits off Al Jurisich and Fred Schmidt into the fourth, fifth and sixth innings and the wallops were good for 10 runs.

Tom Warren, previously without a victory for Brooklyn, shared in the crowd-inspired new strength of the club and held the Cardinals in check through the remainder of the game, to win 10 to 4.

The second game was a thriller and for the sake of the crowd, a remarkable turnout considering that the Dodgers had lost 26 of their last 29 games, it was too bad the Cardinals had to win. And it was a narrow squeak at that and the crowd finally went home in the late evening twilight, happy over the fact that their beloved Bums had been able to make such a showing against the best 1944 team in baseball.

Stan Musial hit his sixth homer of the year in the first inning of the nightcap, with two mates on base, but Luis Olmo duplicated the feat with a three-run four-bagger in the home half to tie the score. Brooklyn went ahead with one in the fourth and then in the fifth Ray Sanders found a good pitch and his three-run homer over the scoreboard in right-center put St. Louis ahead again, 6 to 4.

The Dodgers, however, gamely bounced back in their half of the fifth with a run and in the sixth they knocked out Blix Donnely. That was something. Usually the Dodger pitchers are the ones who are being cuffed around and here, in one afternoon the fans saw Jurisich knocked out, Schmidt pummelled and Donnelly chased to cover.

Harry Brecheen stopped that rally, but pinch-hitter Howard Schultz drove in the tying run in the eighth and after the Cards scored in the ninth on a single, a sacrifice, an intentional pass, an unintentional pass and a hit batsman, Dixie Walker, Brooklyn's great hero, tied it up again with his tenth home run of the year, a drive over the right field screen.

After the hit batsman that nudged the run over for the Cardinals in the ninth, Tom Warren, pitching hero of the first game, took over the mound and the stands roared with hope that the young Indian brave might make his brother Creeks happy, not to mention all the breeds in Brooklyn, by winning two games in one day.

But it was not to be. In the eleventh inning Hopp singled and Stan Musial walked. On Sanders' bunt, Hopp was forced at third, but Musial then stole third and continued home with a tie-breaking run when Mickey Owen threw wild and out along the left foul line. Sanders reached second on the error and scored the second run on Marion's single after Kurowski had been passed intentionally, to make the score 9-7. Brecheen then held the Dodgers in their eleventh and everybody went home, not too downcast.

CARDINAL NOTES.

In the fifth game of the series tonight, Mort Cooper will be trying for his fourteenth victory of the season. Hal Gregg is due for Brooklyn, Durocher's pitching staff being what it is.

In the final tomorrow Manager Southworth had planned to use Brecheen, but Harry picked up his tenth victory in the nightcap and had to pitch five and two-thirds innings, so Billy will have to find another starter. And that isn't easy to do when you're playing six games in four days with a seven-man pitching staff.

Kurowski, rested recently whenever possible, because of a batting slump, was out of the second game until the late innings. He made a couple of valuable plays after returning to bolster the defense.

Walters Has Yielded 28 Runs In Last 22 Innings Pitched

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—Two weeks ago, after blanking the St. Louis Cardinals for his fifteenth victory of the Cincinnati Reds' first 77 games, it was an even bet that Bucky Walters would win 30 games this year. Now it appears that he will have a difficult time winning 20.

The Redlegs' ace righthander failed yesterday in his fourth attempt to notch his 16th win as the New York Giants bumped him for 10 hits for his fifth defeat, 8-0, in the first game of a doubleheader.

Last year Bucky got off to a bad start winning only five of his first 15 games, but came back to win five in a row and nine of his next 10. This year, after winning 15 of his first 17, Walters has dropped three in a row.

In his first 18 games, Walters gave up 29 runs in 151 innings, but in his next four, he was nicked for 28 runs in only 22 innings. And except for the Giants, Walters has faced Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia, all second division teams.

The Reds rebounded after garnering only five hits off Rube Fischer in the opener to take the nightcap 9-3 and gain a split. Frank McCormick hit a pair of homers, driving in five Redleg runs in the afterpiece.

The New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers divided a double header before the day's largest crowd, 47,936 paid admissions, the Yankees winning the opener 10-2 and the Tigers annexing the nightcap, 13-7. Hank Borowy won his 13th game, ending the Yankees' five-game Brigg Stadium losing streak, and Hal Newhouser gained his 16th triumph in the finale.

The Chicago Cubs made it six straight by taking both ends of a twinbill from the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2 and 11-2 to climb to within a half game of the first division. Hank Wyse won his 10th in the curtain-raiser and Les Fleming his seventh in the nightcap.

The Red Sox lost a full game to the Browns by splitting a twinbill with the Cleveland Indians, the Red Sox coming from behind to win the opener 5-3 and the tribe grabbing the finale 3-2, when manager Lou Boudreau doubled home the winning run in the ninth inning.

With Alva Javery snapping a six game losing streak by hurling a two-hitter, the Boston Braves swept a double bill from the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4 and 2-0. Catcher Stu Hofferth got four for the Braves in the opener.

Bill Dietrich turned in his 12th victory as the Chicago White Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics halved their two games, the Sox winning the first 6-4 and the Mackmen, behind Jesse Flores' seven-hit pitching, taking the second, 3-0.

Spencer's 297 Wins Golf Meet

Jim Spencer, former Muny League champion, gained top honors in the Forest Park Golf Club's War Bond tourney with a total score of 297 for the 72 holes of medal play competition, concluded yesterday afternoon on the Muny 18-hole course. Spencer shot 74 on his final trip.

The new champion also shares the best single round honors with Frank Maloney, both golfers having shot 70 during the play.

Second place went to Cecil L. Fryman, who had 298, Maloney being third with 299.

Jim Theodore was forced an extra hole before defeating William Westerhof in a Class A semifinal match. The winner meets George Blair for the class title. Blair had won from J. W. Meredith, 4 and 3. F. Brew opposes G. A. Shadwick in the Class B final.

Veterans Hodge And Serrano in Matches Today

Two players who have aided materially in making St. Louis tennis history, Edmund H. Serrano and Karl Hodge, will command attention in their Municipal invitational singles matches today at Forest Park. Hodge is pitted against George Stemmler Jr., an up-and-coming junior performer, and Bob Savitt meets Serrano.

The 1944 Municipal singles champion, Wayne C. Smith Jr., who toppled the veteran Elmer Haub yesterday, 6-3, 6-2, takes on Ed Deffaa in the third round. Serrano, making his first appearance on the Jefferson Memorial courts in many years, defeated Wilbur Eckstein, 6-1, 6-3.

Ward Parker, district titleholder and four-time Muny champion, gained a default from Eric Mattern in the first round and then eliminated Barrett Scallett, 6-0, 6-1. The Triple-A titleholder, Allen Richardson, is still ahead of the singles field as a result of the 7-5, 6-1 victory he scored over Fred McAvoy in the third round.

There are three outstanding women's singles matches on today's card. The Muny women's champion, Mrs. Wilma Smith, plays Mrs. Bernice Reilley, while Mrs. Ward Parker opposes Mary Margaret Hulbert. The third duel finds Mrs. Rita Broderick playing against La Veryn Ray, the Maplewood High School star.

Miss Ray defeated Barbara Hoffman, 6-0, 6-3, in the first round. Betty Ruth Hulbert, district indoor titleholder, won easily from Marie Prange, 6-0, 6-0. Mrs. Parker had little trouble beating Eunice Beimdiek, 6-0, 6-2, while Jean Sobieraj defeated Pat Potje, 6-0, 6-0. Gloria Thompson reached the quarterfinals on a default and meets Sarita Loeb tomorrow.

Sarita Loeb Wins Title.

Coming back strong after trailing at 5-3 in the first set, Sarita Loeb yesterday defeated LaVeryn Ray, 7-5, 6-3, to win the Municipal girls' junior tennis championship. The final was played at Jefferson Memorial courts in Forts Park.

QUARTERFINAL: Mrs. Ward Parker vs. Mary Margaret Hulbert, 4.

No-Hit Softball Game.

The Roth Lanes scored three runs in the first inning and defeated the Midwest Finance girl softball team of Evansville, Ind., 5-2, last night, in a girls' intercity softball exhibition contest at St. Louis Softball Park. Dot Bray of the Roths had the visitors shut out until the ninth inning, when they pushed across two runs on three hits and an error.

'In the girls' game at North Side Softball Park, the Hi Clays gained their sixteenth league victory of the year against only one loss as they defeated Hollywood, 9-1, with Bea Stein hurling a no-hit game. The lone run was scored in the fifth inning on a base on balls coupled with an out and an error.

PREFERRED STATUS OF SOME ITALIAN CAPTIVES EXPLAINED

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—Non-Facist Italian captives, members of service units aiding the American war program, have been given a preferred status, the War department says, because Italy has been accepted by this country, Britain and Russia as a co-belligerent against Germany.

In replying to assertions that Italian war prisoners have been "coddled by the army, the department said in a statement yesterday that members of such service units made "substantial contributions to the American war effort."

There are 35,000 members of the service units at various stations throughout the country. The Italian prisoners are investigated after they volunteer for non-combat war duty, and those with pro-Fascist leaning are excluded, it was said. Criticism of the handling of Italian war prisoners have come from some veterans' groups and from members of Congress.

MUSIC PHONED SO U. S. BAND CAN PLAY POLISH ANTHEM

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, July 31 (AP).—Gen. Kazimierz Sosnkowski, commander in chief of all the Polish forces in Italy, was coming to visit Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark and no one in the Fifth Army band knew the Polish national anthem.

WAC Cpl. Mary Ann Kosierowski, Houston, Pa., had an idea. She phoned the Polish liaison officer in Rome and asked him to hum it. Band Leader Warrant Officer Wilmont Trumbull, Worcester, Mass., listened, hung up and made his own arrangement.

Gen. Sosnkowski commented politely when he heard it. Apparently it was a success because he didn't ask "What is it?"

NAZIS RELEASE 900 BRITONS

IRUN, Spain, July 31 (AP).—Three trainloads of British civilian internees—518 persons, 20 of them suffering from mental ailments—arrived in Spain yesterday after nearly four years of internment at a German prison camp near Vittel, France.

The group completes a contingent of 900 Britons being exchanged for that many German internees. Some 400 Britons already are in Lisbon awaiting departure of the diplomatic ship Drottningholm. Most of the internees are British colonials taken prisoner at the time of the German occupation of France, Holland and Belgium.

PORT CHICAGO, Cal., July 31 (AP).—While Navy planes scattered flowers on bay waters, memorial services were conducted yesterday at Port Chicago naval magazine depot for the 322 dead and missing of the July 17 explosion of two ammunition ships. Bodies of 45 of the victims have been recovered and 12 tentatively identified.

U. S. Coast Escapes Hurricane.

MIAMI, Fla., July 31 (AP).—A small tropical storm in the Atlantic Ocean east of the Bahama Islands swept north northwestward today along a course which offered no immediate threat to the United States coastline. The Weather Bureau said the disturbance, of small diameter, was accompanied by winds of 50 miles an hour.

Alpha Brazle, last season with the Cardinals, was one of the winner's pitchers.

JACK McMANIS, California player, won the New York State clay courts tennis championship, defeating Charles Oliver, Perth Amboy, N. J., 6-2, 6-3, 6-4. . . . PAUL SHILDNECK of Decatur won the Central Illinois singles tennis championship, winning from Ken Black of Peoria, 1-6, 7-9, 8-6, 6-2, 7-5.

APPLETON won the Wisconsin American Legion junior baseball championship, defeating La-Crosse, 13-3. . . . JOHN GREENE, Michigan tackle, and WILLIAM MAYTHER, Oregon center, have accepted bids to play with the College All-Stars against the Chicago Bears at Dyche Stadium, Aug. 30. . . . FORRESTAL HOPES FOR ACTION TO LET WAVES GO ABROAD

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal hopes that eventually Congress will permit Waves to serve at naval stations overseas.

"You will have many opportunities for varied and interesting service, certainly here, and we hope ultimately in shore establishments abroad," Forrestal told a gathering of Waves at a celebration of the second anniversary of the founding of the women's naval unit yesterday.

Forrestal said the "stepped up push for victory" would increase the work of the Waves, who now number 72,000. Forrestal, Adm. Ernest J. King, Navy commander, and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz all praised the work of the Waves, Nimitz in a message from his Pearl Harbor headquarters. Legislation authorizing the use of Waves overseas has been indorsed by the House Naval Committee, but the Senate Naval Committee has postponed action.

FLYER GETS $100 FOR EACH JAP PLANED DOWNED, BAGS 19

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP).—Lt. Alexander Vraciu Jr., 25 years old, of East Chicago, Ind., who once declined a furlough from the Pacific because "there are a few things I want to clear up," was en route home today with 19 Japanese planes and $1900 to his credit.

He stopped off at the home of his uncle, John Tincu, Chicago manufacturer, to "collect on a little wager." Tincu had promised Alex $100 for each plane he shot down.

"I didn't know then that the big guy would turn out to be a record breaker," Tincu said. "Sure, I'm going to pay off. I'm glad he came home now because if he stayed there any longer I'd have to buy the Jap air force."

F.D.R OFFERS NO WAY TO AVOID WAR III, NORMAN THOMAS SAYS

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—Norman Thomas says President Roosevelt's policies contain "no formula for avoiding that Third World War."

Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, made the statement in an open letter to Prof. Reinhold Niebuhr, chairman of the Union for Democratic Action, asking why Niebuhr was "supporting the Democrats."

The letter said the President's "underwriting of white supremacy in the Far East and the Balkanization of Europe between Moscow and London is an invitation to new war."

Sketches of 26 G. O. P. Governors Coming for Conference; 339 of 531 Electoral Votes Are Represented

They Govern Three-Fourths of the Population, Range in Age From Dewey's 42 to Goodland's 80, With an Average of 55—Only 8 Republican Governors in 1938.

By CHARLES G. ROSS
Contributing Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE meeting of the Republican Governors in St. Louis Wednesday and Thursday, at the call of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, will dramatize the fact that the G. O. P. now has 26 Governors, as against only eight in 1938. All 26 have indicated they will be here.

The states they represent have 339 votes in the electoral college out of 531 and contain, as Gov. Earl Warren of California emphasized in his keynote speech at the Republican national convention, three-fourths of the population of the United States.

Seventeen of the 26 governors are in their first term, seven are serving for a second time and two for a third time.

Their ages range from that of Gov. Dewey—42—to that of Gov. Walter S. Goodland of Wisconsin—80. The average age is 55.

Fifteen of the 26 are lawyers, three are newspaper publishers, six are primarily business men, active or retired; one is a doctor and one a farmer. A composite of the 26 would be a middle-aged lawyer who went into politics early and worked his way up from minor public office; who joined one or more fraternal orders along the way; who belongs to a Protestant denomination; who has a record of service, at home or abroad, in the last war.

Appended are brief biographies of the 26:

GOV. EARL WARREN OF CALIFORNIA, who could have had the Republican vice-presidential nomination, was born in Los Angeles March 19, 1891, and has had a steadily upward career in the public life of his state. He is a graduate of the University of California with the A. B. and J. D. (doctor of jurisprudence) degrees. He was successively deputy city attorney of Oakland, deputy district attorney, chief deputy and district attorney of Alameda County and attorney general of California—a post for which he was nominated on the Republican, Democratic and Progressive tickets and from which he went on to the governorship in January, 1943. In 1940-41 he was president of the National Association of Attorneys General, and since 1938 he has been vice chairman of the American Bar Association's section on criminal law. The United States Flag Association gave him its award for law enforcement in 1934. Gov. Warren enlisted in the first World War as a private and came out as a captain in the reserve corps of the Army. He is a Mason (grand master for California, 1935-36) and an Elk and a member of Phi Delta Phi and Sigma Phi.

GOV. JOHN C. VIVIAN OF COLORADO was born at Golden in that state June 30, 1887, studied at the University of Colorado and received a law degree from the University of Denver. Beginning as special counsel to the city attorney of Denver, he went up the political ladder to the office of lieutenant governor and thence, in 1943, to the governorship. He served with the Marines in the first World War, and in 1924-25 headed the American Legion in his state. He is a member of Phi Alpha Delta and Sigma Nu.

GOV. RAYMOND E. BALDWIN OF CONNECTICUT, born at Rye, N. Y., Aug. 31, 1893, is a graduate of Wesleyan University and of Yale, from which he received a law degree in 1921. He has practiced law in New York and Connecticut and served as prosecuting attorney and judge of the Town Court of Stratford and a member of the Connecticut General Assembly. Enlisting in the Naval Reserve in April, 1917, he rose to the rank of Lieutenant (j.g.) in the Navy and served overseas on destroyers. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Phi, an Episcopalian and a Mason. First elected governor for the term 1939-41, Gov. Baldwin was defeated at the polls in 1940 but won a second term in 1942. One of the more internationally minded of the governors, he favored Willkie for the presidential nomination.

GOV. WALTER W. BACON OF DELAWARE was born at Newcastle, Del., Jan. 20, 1880, was educated in the public schools of Newcastle and was successively a newsboy, a timekeeper for the United States Steel Corporation, a department head for the duPont Co. and treasurer of the Buick Motor Co. He retired from business in 1930 and five years later was elected Mayor of Wilmington, Del., in which capacity he was still serving when elected Governor in 1940. He is a Mason.

GOV. C. A. BOTTOLFSEN OF IDAHO was born at Superior, Wis., Oct. 10, 1891, and attended public school at Fessenden, N. D., where he became a printer in 1905. Since 1910 he has been owner and publisher of the Arco (Idaho) Advertiser. He was a member of the Idaho Legislature for four terms, including one as speaker of the House. He was elected Governor in 1938, lost to his Democratic opponent two years later and regained the office in 1942 for the term beginning January, 1943. Service as an army corporal in the first World War qualified him for the American Legion, of which he was state commander in 1934-35. He is a Mason.

GOV. DWIGHT H. GREEN OF ILLINOIS, who won national repute as the Federal prosecutor of Al Capone and other gangsters for income tax frauds, was born at Ligonier, Ind., Jan. 9, 1897, and attended Wabash College, Stanford University and the University of Chicago, from which he received the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence in 1922. His work as a special assistant in the fraud cases led to a term, 1932-35, as United States district attorney for the Northern Illinois district. Five years later he rose to the governorship. He was a second lieutenant in the Army Air Service in the first World War and served as a pilot and flying instructor. He is an Episcopalian, a Mason and a member of the American Legion and the Kappa Sigma and Phi Alpha Delta fraternities.

GOV. BOURKE B. HICKENLOOPER OF IOWA was born at Blockton, Ia., July 21, 1896, of parents born in that state of Dutch-English descent. He is a graduate of Iowa State College and the University of Iowa, which gave him the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence in 1922. As a Cedar Rapids lawyer, he became a member of the Iowa House of Representatives in 1935 and served there till 1939, when he ascended to the lieutenant governorship. This proved a springboard to the governor's office in 1943. One of his campaign dodgers showed a picture with the caption "Hickenlooper — Father and Son — in France"; it was taken in 1918 when Gov. Hickenlooper was a second lieutenant of field artillery and his father a Y. M. C. A. worker. Gov. Hickenlooper is an American Legionnaire, a Phi Delta Phi, a Sigma Phi Epsilon, a Mason, an Odd Fellow, an Elk and a Moose. He belongs to the Methodist Church.

GOV. ANDREW F. SCHOEPPEL OF KANSAS was born at Claflin, Kan., Nov. 23, 1894, and began the practice of law at his home, Ness City, after studies at the University of Kansas and the law school of the University of Nebraska. He was an all-American football end at Nebraska. He has served as City Attorney, County Attorney, Mayor and chairman of the State Corporation Commission. In 1942 he resigned from the commission to run for Governor, and was elected. He is also chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. He had a term of service with the United States Naval Reserve Flying Force, and is a member of Sigma Nu, Phi Alpha Delta, the Rotary and Lions clubs, the Masons and the Methodist Church.

GOV. SIMEON S. WILLIS OF KENTUCKY, beneficiary of the political upset in that State last fall, was born in Lawrence County, Ohio, Dec. 1, 1879, and was educated in the common schools of Kentucky. Admitted to the bar in 1901, he became city solicitor of Ashland in 1918, later a member of the Board of Bar Examiners for the State, and in 1927 an associate justice of the Court of Appeals (Supreme Court) of Kentucky. He was on the bench till 1933 and then resumed practice at Ashland. Gov. Willis is editor of Thornton's Law of Oil and Gas, 1931. He is a Methodist.

GOV. SUMNER SEWALL OF MAINE, a leader of the group of Governors who sought a more forthright international collaboration plank from the platform committee at the Republican national convention, was born at Bath, Me., June 17, 1897. He was graduated from the Westminster School, Simsbury, Conn., in 1916, and went overseas the same year with the American Ambulance Field Service. He enlisted later in the American Air Service and became a First Lieutenant and an ace, with the decorations of the Distinguished Service Cross with oak leaf, the Legion of Honor and Croix de Guerre with palm (France) and the Order of the Crown (Belgium). After the war he worked in Mexico and Cuba and on a ranch in Wyoming, studied at Yale and helped to organize the Colonial Air Transport, of which he became general traffic manager. He is now a director of the United Air Lines Transport Corporation. A former member of the Maine Legislature and president of the Senate, he has been Governor since January 1941. Pyle on Truck Trip to Tow in German Tanks

Goes Up Dark Road Until Nazi Craft Is Found and Pulled to Pasture.

By ERNIE PYLE
A Special Correspondent to the Post-Dispatch.

SOMEWHERE IN NORMANDY (By wireless).

WE drove slowly across the two pastures in the big M-19 retriever truck with which our ordnance evacuation company was to pick up two crippled German tanks. The wrecker truck followed us. It was just after midnight.

We came to a lane at the far side of the pasture. Nobody was there to direct us. The officers had gone on ahead. We asked a sentry if he knew where the German tanks were. He had never heard of them. We shut off the motors and waited.

I think everybody was a little on edge. We certainly had American troops ahead of us, but we didn't know how far. When things are tense like that you get impatient of monkeying around. You want to get the job done and get the hell out of there.

We waited about 10 minutes, and finally a sergeant came back and said for us to drive on up the road about half a mile. He climbed on to direct us. Finally we came to a barnyard, pulled in, turned around and then very slowly backed on up the road toward the enemy lines. I stood on the steel platform behind the driver so I could see.

It was very dark and you could only make out vague shapes. You could see dark walls of hedges and between them lighter strips of gravel road. Finally a huge black shape took form at one side of the road. It was the first of the German tanks. Just before we got to it we could make out two dark stripes on either side of the road on the ground. They were the size and shape of dead men, but they were only forms and I couldn't tell for sure.

Being tense and anxious to get finished, I hoped our truck would take the first tank. But no. We passed by, of course, and went backing on up the road.

When you're nervous you feel even 12 inches closer to the front is too much and the noise of your motor sounds like all the clanging of hell, directing the Germans to you.

I knew it was foolish to be nervous. I knew there was plenty of

6 Factions Struggling for Power In Argentina With Two Extremely Nationalist Groups Predominant

Any Attempt to Ditch Government Likely to Result in Scramble for Control—Foreign and Domestic Capital Ventures Feeling Pinch of Expropriations.

MONTEVIDEO, July 31.

ANY attempt to ditch the Nationalists from the Argentine Government will be stoutly resisted both by them and by the Army groups which they indoctrinated over a period of years on a platform of patriotism and national pride.

The attempt will resolve itself into a fight for power among the several groups which today have at least theoretical lines on the Government.

In general terms, there are six groups struggling for influence and control over the Government.

1. The most successful is the group headed by Col. Juan Domingo Peron, now Vice President, together with trade unions and the nationalistic Movimiento De La Renovacion.

Police Faction.

2. The police, formerly responding to Brig. Gen. Luis Cesar Perlinger (as Interior Minister) and the extreme Nationalists. They have probably been corraled by Peron after his engineering the resignation of a dozen G. O. U. (Grupo Oficiales Unidos) officers. This clique of Colonels, important at the time of the June, 1943, revolution, is still important and commands troops at Campo de Mayo, near Buenos Aires.

Peron has said that he and Gen. Eduardo Avalos, commander of the military barracks at Campo de Mayo, see eye to eye on everything. The present understanding between them, however, might change as other friendly sentiments have changed.

4. Minister of Education Dr. Alberto Baldrich, an ideologist and major influence in the Government. As an extreme Nationalist he has sought to use church influence to further Nationalist ideology. He represents the closest link with Nazi propaganda.

5. Old-line officers who would like to see the return to a normal constitutional organization. Seventeen Generals signed the letter of March 22 urging a return to the constitution.

6. Miscellaneous officers and civilians who feel that the basic requirement of any revolution in Argentina must change the system of land tenure and that this government has specifically failed to attack this basic need.

In the ascendant, however, are Peron with his supporters and Baldrich with his Nationalists, two factions not entirely harmonious.

Peron swore in his oath of office as Vice President to use "all my energies to re-establish fully the rule of the Constitution."

If taken literally this would mean a return to democratic ways. But if Baldrich has his way it will incline towards a new socio-political organization which is anything but liberal or democratic.

Some Expropriations.

The drive towards nationalism has, during the past year, seen the expropriation of a variety of public utilities for operation by the state, including British, German and American capital investments.

Five electric plants belonging to the American-Foreign Power Co., five small electric plants belonging to Argentine capital, the Buenos Aires gas company and certain grain elevators have been taken over by the government.

In the case of American interests about one-tenth of the value placed on the properties by the company has been paid in the settlement of the expropriation.

While no invariable rule is applied, Argentine authorities have, apparently, used construction cost, less depreciation, to reach the figure of compensation offered. In the case of a plant 10 years old compensation would be very small. Private interests contend that compensation should be based on replacement cost.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Independent Voters' Dilemma

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Is a person who votes in the primary honor-bound to abide by the decision of that election and back the winner, even though the winner may not be the candidate of his choice?

One member of our family will not vote in any primary election because he does not wish to lose his standing as an independent. Voting in a primary means to him that he has signed up as a party member and is obliged to back that party's candidate. In this case, he will not vote in the primary against Clark because he feels, should Clark win, that he would be honor-bound to vote for him in the November election.

I hold the opinion that I owe loyalty to no party. I intend to vote for McKittrick in the primary, but should he lose, I do not feel that I must vote for Clark in November because I voted in the Democratic primary. Instead, I will vote for the man I consider best fitted for the job, regardless of his party.

This is my first opportunity to vote, and I would appreciate knowing just where honor and loyalty enter the picture.

One thing more. By being urged to vote in the primary, are voters being led to give up their political independence? And by voting in the Democratic primary and not voting for the Democratic candidate in November, am I undermining the two-party system which is the basis of our Government?

Soliloquy With Cigar

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

A political boss in the Show-Me State took a puff on his fat cigar and said: "It's a cinch to elect our slate, with half of the voters at war and half of the half who are still around too indifferent to care if our candidate's sound—too careless to check on his qualifications, too anxious to go on their summer vacations.

"So let 'em leave it to us politicians, us boys with political oomph and ambitions, who could have taught Hitler an awful lot about taking a State without firing a shot. We'll give to Missouri, without any fuss, a government perfectly made to suit us."

JOHN ERNEST KNAN.

Who Wants Free Enterprise?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The conventions are over, and between now and election we will hear much talk of free enterprise. We will be told that everybody wants it. But do they?

Do big business men want free enterprise? They most certainly do not. They want agreements, patent pools, monopolies, franchises allowing them the control of production, the flow of distribution and thereby the fixing of prices.

Do farmers want free enterprise? No, not the large farmers. They want to be paid for allowing their lands to lie fallow so they can realize profits for doing nothing and at the same time keep the tenant and sharecropper subservient and in their place.

Does the retailer want free enterprise? No, he wants franchise protection.

Do the politicians want free enterprise? Not on your life! They want powerful blocs such as labor and capital fighting each other. Why? So they can exploit them both by playing one against the other, making promises that at the time they are made they know cannot be fulfilled.

How about the medical profession? Right now one of the candidates for Governor proclaims his opposition to the socialization of medicine, though selective service has shown our manhood between the ages of 18 and 38 almost 50 per cent defective.

Do the great masses want free enterprise? Yes, they do. But not half of them will vote in the primary, the real election. They are not concerned with who is on the tickets. They will vote the same ticket they have always voted at the general election, believing that they will get a square deal after election.

LAWYER.

Advice to Voters

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Voters should not be influenced by the sample ballots put out by committeemen.

A Few Votes May Tell

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

It is well to view as important the value of every individual vote in the coming primary election. Never was it so well illustrated as in the last Missouri gubernatorial election.

Gov. Donnell's 3000 majority was less than one vote per precinct.

How, then, can anyone say, "My vote is not important"?

In the election tomorrow, its importance may be doubled, since such a small percentage are likely to vote. Only 27 per cent voted in the last primary.

Millions of people are fighting today for this very chance to choose their leaders—which 73 per cent of us passed by in the last primary. Certainly this is a challenge to each of us to cast his all-important vote in the primary election tomorrow.

HOWARD C. OHLENDORF.

A Neglected Shook Issue

There is an important issue that has not been sufficiently considered, if at all, in the primary campaign that ends today. It is this:

The next Governor of Missouri is likely to have as one of his first duties the appointment of a United States Senator, to serve for two years.

If the Democrats win the presidential election in November, Missouri will lose the services of Senator Harry Truman, the vice-presidential nominee. Under the Constitution, such a vacancy is filled by appointment of the Governor.

Gov. Donnell's term expires about two weeks before the inauguration of President and Vice President in 1945. Should Roosevelt and Truman win, it is almost certain that the Senator will not resign while a Republican Governor is in office. If Missouri elects a Democratic Governor, Mr. Truman will undoubtedly time his resignation so that a member of his own party takes his seat in the Senate.

This fact—that Missouri's next Governor may have the choice of a United States Senator in his hands—makes the outcome of the gubernatorial race of much more than ordinary importance.

When the voters go to the polls tomorrow, they should consider this fact with utmost seriousness. They will be expressing their will not only as to the State's chief executive for the next four years, but also as to the caliber of the junior Senator from Missouri in two crucial years that may include the making of the peace and the creation of a world security organization.

Two of the candidates for the Democratic nomination, Messrs. Donnelly and Sermon, are affiliated with the old-line politicians, and it is charged that both have unsavory machine support. The third candidate, Edgar Shook, is an independent in the best sense of the word, free from all obligation to party hacks, with no charges of machine support against him.

The voter can decide for himself what manner of Senator would be appointed by Donnelly, by Sermon—and by Shook. The two first-named are heavily indebted to the politicians for help in the campaign. Is it not likely that this fact would exert a great deal of influence over their choice?

Shook, on the other hand, would be free to make an appointment without pressure from the party manipulators. He has made his principal campaign appeal to the great mass of independent voters, and he could safely be counted on to exercise freedom of judgment to choose the most capable man available for the Senate seat.

Edgar Shook has waged a long fight for good government in his home town, Kansas City. To him goes a large share of the credit for ending the rule of Boss Pendergast, for cleaning up the gangster-ridden Police Department, for insuring fair elections in Kansas City by acting, with his associates on the Election Board, to strike 60,000 fraudulent names off the rolls.

He has fought gallantly for the nomination, under the great handicap of having only a volunteer group behind him to rally the voters, while his opponents have the help of the regulars and their powerful vote-getting organizations.

If Shook is to be nominated, the independent voters will have to do the job by appearing at the polls tomorrow in such numbers that the old-line candidatek' advantage is overcome.

This is no ordinary race, for more than a Missouri issue is involved. The issue involves a seat in the United States Senate, the world's most august deliberative body.

A vote for Shook tomorrow holds high promise of giving Missouri both a first-rate Governor and a first-rate Senator.

Vote As You Please

In a letter printed today, a reader wants to know whether voting for one party in the primary obligates her to support the same party in November. The answer is No.

In some states, it has been illegal to switch allegiance from one party to another between primary and general election. It is not illegal in Missouri. It should not be illegal anywhere.

Our two great parties are not exclusive clubs into whose membership one may be admitted only by grace of the members. They are loose and ever-changing coalitions among people of like mind about men and principles.

Politicians themselves shift easily from one party to another. They often enter rival primaries, when their own fences are well-mended, to defeat dangerous rivals.

In this primary, Republicans who feel that the most important job before the voters is to defeat Senator Clark are perfectly justified in voting Democratic for that purpose. Democrats might do the same thing if they regard as most important the defeat of some Republican candidate.

Some politicians like to give the impression that it is a heresy to change allegiance between primary and general election. They would also like to create the impression that it is dishonorable to split a ticket. Our correspondent should vote exactly as she pleases.

Fred Koenig's Candidacy

Voters have an object lesson in "leaving it to the professionals" in the ugly machinations surrounding the candidacy of Fred J. Koenig for the State Senate.

A recently confessed and convicted black-marketer, Koenig cannot vote. If elected, he could not serve. Though the Missouri Constitution says that State Senators must be qualified voters, however, the Election Board took the position that it could not strike him from the ballot.

Koenig knows he cannot serve. In fact, he gave the Republican committee in his district a resignation postdated to take effect after the primary. Even if the committee, too, was without power to effectuate the resignation immediately, its clear duty was certainly to say in no uncertain terms that it wanted none of this candidate.

Instead, according to Claude Tobin, a dissident Republican, Koenig told him that Judge Louis Comerford and other "regular" Republican powers "wanted him to stay in the race because they figured he would win the nomination and then withdraw, and they would be able to appoint someone to replace him in the general election."

To which Comerford replied: "I believe Koenig should have withdrawn. . . . Indorsements are not made by me but by the committeeman and committeewoman, the officers and precinct organization. I shall not support him." If this is denunciation, the language is indeed amazingly restrained.

There, as voters go to the polls tomorrow, it stands. In this immediate instance, the remedy is for Republican voters to turn out in force and vote for Victor B. Harris, Koenig's only opponent. This is the only way to put the committee and future candidates on notice that dirty business will not be tolerated.

Mr. Patterson's Warning

At a moment when an early end of the war in Europe is being predicted even by spokesmen who have previously been cautious, Under Secretary of War Patterson has warned that the time for celebration and relaxing by the home front is not yet here.

The crack-up of German resistance may come faster now than the realists had expected. However, we are only delaying victory if we permit a letdown. As Mr. Patterson says, "The men on the firing line know that the war is not yet won. They know that there is a lot of hard fighting ahead."

On both Eastern and Western fronts, admirable progress is being made by Allied forces. The great gains by the Russians do not necessarily mean, however, that the Germans are finished. According to Hal O'Flaherty, writing in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, Hitler has ordered his forces in the East to abandon Central Poland and withdraw to a much shorter line for defense of the Reich. The Nazis are losing men and equipment as the Russians speedily follow up their retreat, but resistance can be expected when the new defense lines are consolidated.

Great quantities of munitions and equipment still are needed by the Allies to press their present advantages and deal the final blows. There can be no letdown by soldiers of the production front any more than by soldiers of the fighting fronts. Yet the news of the German Generals' plot brought a sizable increase in absenteeism in American factories. Mr. Patterson's warning is needed, and it should be heeded.

An Embarrassment to Clark

In the mail this morning, as a last-minute election-influencer, was a postcard from Don Lohbeck urging support of Senator Clark at the polls tomorrow. No doubt Senator Clark will be embarrassed to find his candidacy plugged by Lohbeck, who happens to be the St. Louis representative of Gerald L. K. Smith, the rabble-rousing demagogue and America-Firster.

Those Incredible Brownies

As the chroniclers of the eventful month of July, 1944, close their books, let them not fail to mark down the momentous fact that our incredible Brownies, having swept a doubleheader yesterday from Washington, are now four-and-a-half lengths ahead of the troublesome Red Sox and five full games in front of the hated Yankees.

The gold and crimson days of October are still far away and the wildest and most pop-eyed fan dare not yet let his mind dwell on that happiest of consummations—an all-St. Louis world series. In baseball, there is woe and heartache and disappointment. Old-timers, gazing fondly on the Browns, recall the tragic events of 1922, when Gorgeous Georges Sisler and his gallant band came so close to the Promised Land, only to fail in those final, electric days.

Nameless is the Brownie rooter who beaned the Yankee outfielder, Whitey Witt, with a pop-bottle on the day the Brownies' spirit broke, nor is his deed to be condoned, yet he symbolized the rage, the frustration, the bitterness and the sorrow of 1922 St. Louis. Yes, on that day, the city drank its cup of gall.

So, 22 years later, as St. Louis peers at the standing of the clubs, with the Cards galloping easily to almost certain victory in the National League and the Browns out in front, the city is not puffed up with that pride which goeth before a fall, but it sure enough is crossing its fingers, knocking on wood, stroking the rabbit's foot in the side pocket and muttering low and fervent sounds of happiness.

St. Louis today is first in shoes, first in booze and FIRST in the American League. Come October, the reaches of Sportsman's Park may echo with the most gladsome din of the century.

"Never," said Hitler's newspaper, "have we been exposed to such trials." Just wait for the one by jury.

Mr. Cochran on the Bond Issue

No member of Congress has ever done a better job of looking out for the general welfare of St. Louis than Representative John J. Cochran. So when Mr. Cochran sends home a message urging the people of his city to approve the $43,527,000 bond issue tomorrow, his recommendation has a force that makes it worth heeding.

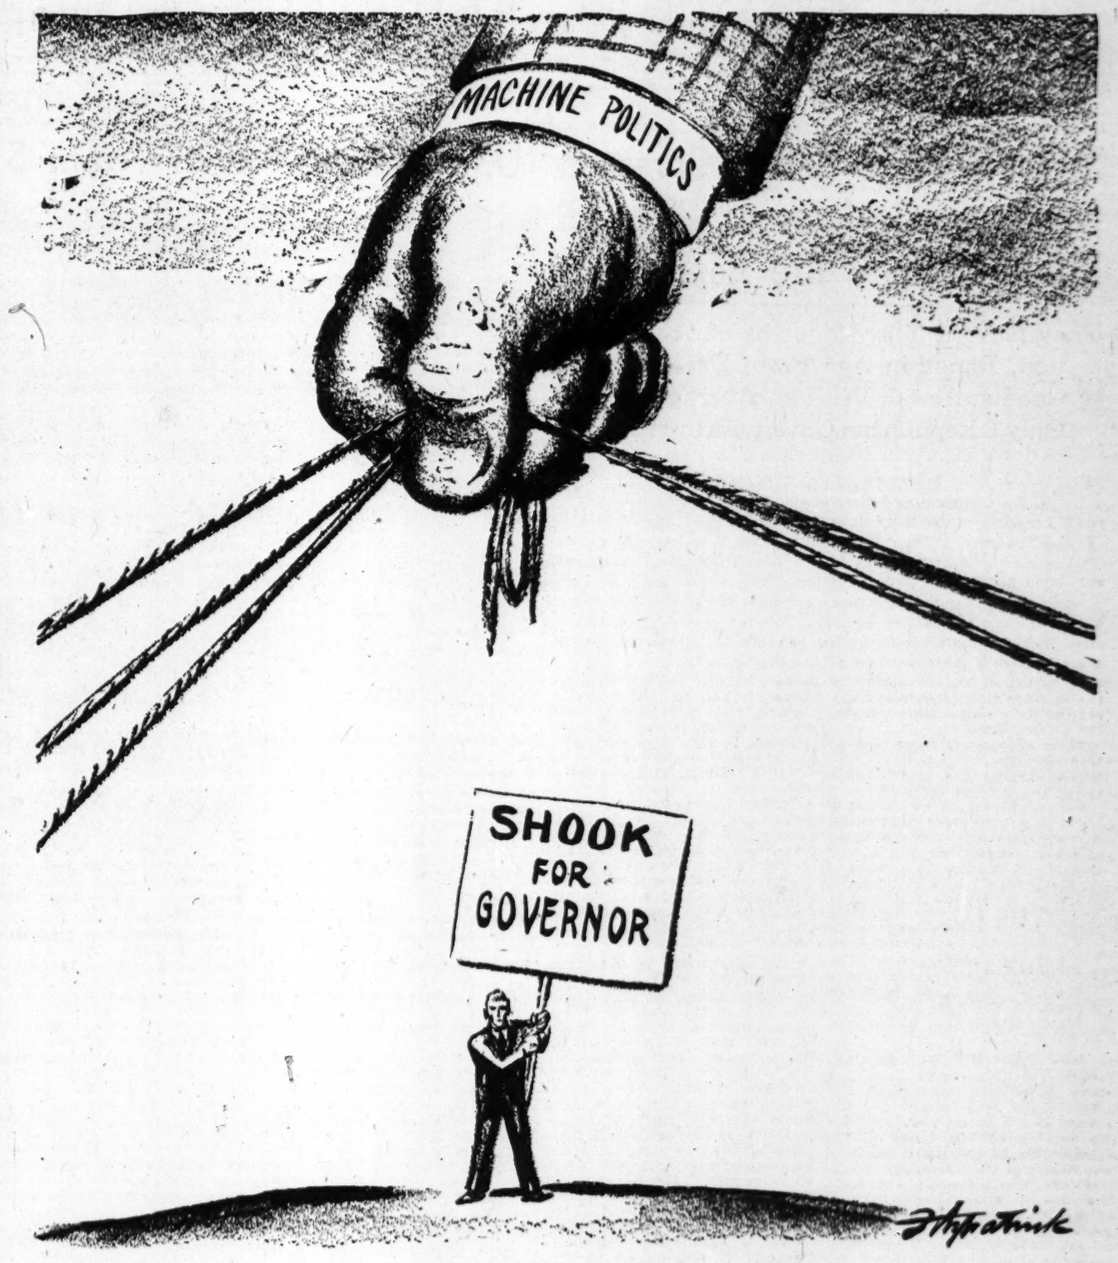

Congressman Cochran calls attention to the fact that the 11 items of the bond issue will give St. Louis many needed permanent improvements, some of them postponed for years, and will provide employment in the postwar period for returning soldiers and persons now in war work.

Congress is sure to make appropriations for public works over the country after the war, Mr. Cochran says. One condition that will be imposed is the requirement that local communities make contributions of their own toward these projects. If St. Louis is prepared to match Federal funds by approval of the bond issue, it will share in the program.

Of particular importance is the example Mr. Cochran cites: the plans for a nation-wide airport-building program. One of this city's vital needs is airport expansion, so that it may take its rightful place as an aviation center in the coming Air Age. So a vote for the bond issue means a vote both for the $9,897,000 airport item (which will be increased to $14,000,000 by addition of funds on hand) and a vote to enable this city to share in the Federal funds to be allotted for this purpose.

Vote Yes, scratch No, on the bond issue tomorrow.

A Plot Against the Income Tax

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Group sponsoring amendment to limit income levy to 25 per cent is denounced by Congressman as "most sordid and most sinister lobby" ever formed in this country; warns that adoption of plan would mean no funds for veterans' aid; urges inquiry by Congress.

From an Address in the House of Representatives by Wright Patman of Texas

I desire to invite your attention to one of the most powerful, one of the most effective, most wealthy lobbies, and also the most sordid and most sinister lobby that has ever been organized in the history of the United States, that is now trying to secure the adoption of a constitutional amendment for the purpose of limiting the power of Congress to tax incomes more than 25 per cent or to tax gifts or to tax estates more than 25 per cent.

They are trying to do it quietly. You probably never heard of this proposal to get the twenty-second amendment to the United States Constitution adopted. I never heard of it until recently, and then I commenced to investigate, and I discovered that 16 states have adopted it.

This very clever group has devised a plan through which they believe they can slip through, by the town-hall method, an amendment to the Constitution doing exactly what I have said. This is the important purpose and immediate objective of that sinister organization.

Group Has Ample Funds

This organization is headed by Frank Gannett of New York, and a former Congressman from Indiana, Samuel Pettengill. They have been going all over the United States getting enormous sums of money under the pretense that they would slip through this constitutional amendment and save rich taxpayers enormous sums of money.

It is not their policy to give publicity to it. They want to slip it through. Through their clever attorneys and experts they have a scheme by operating through Article V of the Constitution to get the Constitution amended, if they can, in a way that you will not know it, and before you know it, through the instrumentality of 36 state Legislatures, no one state assuming much responsibility.

When this war is over we will have a national debt probably in excess of 300 billion dollars. The annual carrying charges for this enormous debt will be a minimum of seven billions and probably nearer nine billions. That, along with the minimum amount required for the operating expenses of this Government, will take up all the tax money that can possibly be raised if this amendment is a part of our Constitution. Nothing willebe left for the veterans, their dependents or the aged.

Appeal for Contributions

You can imagine how one of these people will go before a group of rich taxpayers and say, "Now, we are going to get this constitutional amendment through which will prevent your paying more than 25 per cent income taxes annually."

Take a taxpayer who paid $100,000 last year on a $150,000 income. Perhaps the ratio is not exactly right, but for the purpose of this illustration, it will suffice. He will take the position, "Why should I not pay $1000 or $10,000 on this Gannett-Pettengill plan? It is a good risk. I can afford to speculate with a thousand dollars to save maybe $75,000 per year from now on."

In that way, they are raising barrels of money all over the United States, expecting to slip through this amendment which will stop all aid to service men, all social security and all old-age assistance.

It is something that you had better give serious consideration to, because this is a very effective group.

In support of that group, this woman, Vivian Kellems, is out making speeches to repeal the sixteenth amendment and adopt the twenty-second amendment that is being sponsored by the Gannett-Pettengill crowd. She is out making speeches for them—the woman who refuses to pay her income tax and advises everybody else to refuse to pay their income taxes. She is out making speeches for the proposal which will deny to all veterans, all veterans' widows, all disabled soldiers, all old-age assistance people, one penny in the future, if this sinister amendment becomes the law.

Scrutiny by Congress Needed

This is something, I believe, that should receive immediate attention by this Congress. It is too serious to escape notice. It involves every appropriation that we make.

We might just as well not make an appropriation if we are going to permit our Constitution to be amended in any such fashion as this.

They have already got, or they are securing, according to their own claims, from 1000 to 4000 influential people in every congressional district in this country who will stand up at the proper time and say, "Support the Constitution. The Constitution says no taxes over 25 per cent. Let us stay by it." In the meantime, they are trying to defeat all members of Congress they believe will interfere with their plans.

Whenever you permit the Gannett-Pettengill amendment to become the twenty-second amendment, you destroy this Government.

AN INDORSEMENT OF SHOOK

From the Columbia (Mo.) Daily Tribune.

If the nomination of an independent candidate to head the Democratic State ticket in November was important before the convention, it is a matter of necessity now that Senator Truman has been nominated for Vice President on the national ticket.

As soon as the primary is over, the Republicans will begin using Truman's nomination to fan the flames of the machine issue in Missouri. Democrats can put a stop to this argument by nominating a man for Governor who everybody knows will be more conscientious and vigorous in his opposition to machine domination than any man the Republicans can nominate.

That man is Edgar Shook.

Ed Shook is an able man, a loyal Democrat and a devoted public servant, but there is one aspect of his career that stands out—his independence. When a courageous citizen was needed to purge the election rolls in Kansas City of ghost votes, they turned to Shook. Later, when they needed the same type of man to expel the gangsters and head the new Board of Police Commissioners, they turned to Shook.

The Democrats of Boone and every other county will give a real boost to their party ticket in November and do a real service to the cause of good government in Missouri by nominating Ed Shook by an overwhelming majority in Tuesday's primary.

Essays by Eric Gill, Artist, Are Brilliant, Yet Irritating

"It All Goes Together," by Eric Gill. (Devin-Adair Co., New York.)

Here are 23 essays by a man who spent much of his life crying in a wilderness—a wilderness not only of the false values of crass contemporaries but of his own verbal vaguenesses.

Eric Gill, who died in 1940, was a versatile and talented English artist, a sculptor, a book designer, a typographer and a wood engraver. He was also a profoundly Roman Catholic Christian.

Such a man must find himself uncomfortable in the modern world. If he is a maladjusted personality, he may retreat into his own soul and whine of persecution. If, however, he is well adjusted, he will probably become a critic of the world about him and feel under the compulsion of righting it. Eric Gill was such a man.

These essays are brilliantly written, stimulating, provoking and irritating. There is so much truth in what he says that one who disagrees with him and with his premises puts himself in an uncomfortable position.

Eric Gill's first premise is fundamentally religious: we are the sons and the heirs of God, and all that we do should, therefore, be an emanation from God, should lead us to "holiness." The only end of man is "sanctification."

His second premise is that modern industrial production of objects for salability and profit only has made man, the son and heir of God, an irresponsible tool. If one is a designer, he now has no part in the production of what he has designed; if he is a "hand" in a factory, he has no part in the design. Thus, in modern work, there can be none of the loving care, none of the ennobling responsibility, that should go with all of man's work.

Those premises are, of course, at least partly acceptable to most people. But unfortunately implicit in them is another premise, although Gill tries to deny it. Since his great complaint is against modern commercial and industrial systems, he vilifies the Renaissance and the rise of the mercantile class. In other words, he looks back to the early Middle Ages as the time when man was responsible. But even before the rise of commercialism, not all men lived happy and free lives, rejoicing in the responsibility of their work.

Thoroughly hostile to the teachings of modern psychology and the denial of free will, Eric Gill asserts that man has freedom of will and that in past centuries his consciousness of that fact made him a responsible heir of God. But all such assumptions of the happy past ignore the fact that it was only the superior few and the articulate who have left their works for us to admire, whether they be written monuments or examples of beautiful handicrafts.

The fallacy in such thinking is shown when Eric Gill points out that in centuries past many men suffered for their consciences' sake. That is true; but he makes no mention of those who forced them to suffer for their consciences' sake.

A Key to Bodily Relaxation

"How to Relax—Scientific Body Control," by W. H. "Little Bill" Miller. (A. S. Barnes & Co., New York.)

Here are some simple exercises designed to help a tense and war-conscious public escape from nervous fatigue. The author is credited with "loosening up" more than 10,000 people, including college football and basketball teams, a professional baseball team and Army air cadets. He sees in relaxation the key to a kind of living that gives more in the pinches and wastes less energy at other times.

DOROTHY THOMPSON

Should Germany Be Divided?

THE dangers of an intensified population in a truncated Reich are foreseen by some statesmen. They are comprehended by Sumner Welles. Mr. Welles, in his just published book, "The Time for Decision," hopes to get around this problem by destroying the centralized German Reich, and dividing it into three states, Southern Germany, the Rhineland and Northwestern Germany, including Prussia. Mr. Welles's theory is that Germany's capacity to wage war depends upon her unification in one Reich.

This simple statement is not historically true. The successful Prussian war against France in 1870 led to unification of the Reich and was waged for that purpose, but the Reich itself did not yet exist. The war was waged by a coalition of Germanic states.

Centralization is a good preparation for war. But an overwhelming motive for war, based on deeply popular foundations and permeated by a sense of justice, is an even more certain preparation.

Leaving war potentials out of account, will three Germanys be diplomatically less powerful than one? Three is a misnomer anyhow, for there will remain German Austria—a fourth Germany.

A Quest for Allies.

Diplomacy is the preface to all wars. If Germany ever tries to fight again, she will want allies. Three or four Germanys will seek allies in all directions and with greater chances of success than one would have.

There will be a tendency for Austria to gravitate into the orbit of Southern Germany. Austrians do not like Prussians, but Southern Germans are also Catholic and speak almost the same idiom.

Western Germany, far and away the richest part, will be both a bait to and a prize for France. Northwest Germany is in the orbit of British trade. If it is the intention to keep Germany divided, the tendency will inevitably develop to reward parts of Germany for staying separated, while rival states seek expansion of power through the division.

This picture I am painting is not an invention—it is the record of historical experience. Before Germany became unified Reich in 1870, Britain used Prussia against France and Austria; France used Western and Southern Germany against Russia. Germany herself was weak at that time, but she was the battleground of other European nations and the object of many conflicts. After all, we are trying to prevent war. Not only war by Germany but war over Germany.

Bigger Job of Control.

And can mere force keep a people divided who do not wish to be? What kind of division is there to be? Merely political? Then we shall have to control three administrations instead of one. But can we prevent secret political agreements, treaties and plans between the administrations of Southern Germany and Northern or Western? Can we force the three administrations to move in opposite directions?

How can you divide a people culturally and in the realm of ideas? Can we prevent Germans in Berlin from reading Cologne newspapers, or people in Cologne from reading Leipzig or Munich publications? Won't they all read the same books and listen to the same radio stations? Won't they all live under the same codes of law—or are we to create three separate legal systems? Shall we prevent a student born in Cologne from attending the University of Berlin, or vice versa?

A Few Parallels.

This, again, is a mechanistic concept that leaves out of account all the imponderables which are the organic life of a nation. Two thousand years of dispersion have not prevented Jews from being Jews. A hundred and fifty years of division did not stop Poles from being Poles. Does anyone think that if an outside power broke up the United States, it could ever stop Americans from being Americans? The problem is not one of geography or administration, but of the little gray cells, the minds and emotions of people, and these cannot be changed by geographic gerrymanders.

Shall we divide Germany economically? Shall the Rhineland no longer have free trade with Berlin, or Berlin send its goods without customs to Munch? How could any of this be sustained in justice or human reason? Is it progressive or reactionary?

There is no analogy in modern history to be found for this. After the last war the Austro-Hungarian Empire dissolved from within, out of conflicting races and cultures and inequalities of treatment. But we are here proposing to dissolve not a disparate empire but a unified nation-state.

It is argued that this state has existed only since 1870. This is legally correct but historically misleading. The unification of Germany was in preparation for centuries. It followed the universal European line of development. It was the issue in the abortive 1848 liberal revolution and its foundations have always been deeply popular. Not the feelings of the people, but the interests of dynasties kept Germany divided. When unification finally occurred, it was historically overdue.

In the modern world, we cannot turn the clock back to the seventeenth or eighteenth centuries. We can only go forward.

Argentina: Bad Neighbor

IT would not be useful to speculate on just when and just how there will be a settlement of the accounts with the present Argentine dictatorship. But we may be certain that a settlement will be a necessary part of the pacification that follows the war. For the avowed intentions of this dictatorship, which all its actions verify, look beyond the war.

This is the crucial point, which must be understood, in interpreting the position taken by Secretary Hull and his Latin American colleagues. As regards the war itself, the Argentine Government has already done more injury to our cause and has given more aid and comfort to our enemies than it will ever again be able to do. The Allied defeat of the German submarines, the victories in North Africa, and the invasion of Europe have isolated Argentina from the Axis.

A Long-Term Policy.

If, therefore, Argentina were simply another unfriendly neutral, another political partner of our enemies, we could assume that the Argentine problem would resolve itself when Germany falls. But this is precisely what we cannot assume. For this dictatorship is following a policy which is based on plans which cannot take effect until long after the end of the war. It is a policy which would certainly disturb the peace of this hemisphere, and there is little doubt that it is designed to disrupt the settlement with Germany and her Fascist satellites.

Argentina, under the iron hand of the dictatorship, is being transformed into an aggressive Fascist state just as the European Fascist states are being defeated and destroyed. This would be a preposterous enterprise in view of the military weakness of the Argentine were it not for the fact that the Nazis and Fascists in Europe intend to go underground, and then at some propitious moment, when the victors are asleep or divided, to return to power. South America below the River Plate would provide a useful place of refuge and a base of recovery for European Nazis and Fascists.

In the Nazi Pattern.

The fact that these Argentine Colonels are not themselves men of world stature must not cause us to think that they cannot be the instruments of such a great plan. They have taken their ideology, their methods, their orders from the Nazis: there is no reason to doubt and every reason to believe that they are acting, perhaps unwittingly, according to plans worked out by the Nazis for the postwar period.

The evidence goes much deeper than their conduct during the war. It is true that they were pledged to co-operate with the American republics in the defense of the hemisphere, and that they have broken this pledge and have deserted their neighbors. It is true that, pretending to break relations with the Axis, they allowed the Axis diplomats and agents plenty of time and freedom, before they were repatriated, to reorganize their espionage.

Yet all this would conceivably be tolerable, or a purely Argentine affair, if it were not that this Fascist program at home is the foundation in Argentina, as it was in Italy and in Germany, for preparing and planning external aggression.

On June 10, Col. Peron, who is Argentina's would-be Hitler, delivered a speech on national defense at the University of La Plata.

Like his prototype, Hitler, he announced in advance the aggression which he contemplates, trusting, as Hitler did, that the selected victims would be too weak to do anything about it and that the more distant great powers, the United States and Great Britain, would be not take him seriously or would be too preoccupied to be bothered with him. This speech states the program of the Argentine dictatorship.

Peron's Plan for War.

Col. Peron told Argentina that peace is Utopian and that it must prepare for total war against the days when "the clarion call of war must resound on the banks of the River Plate." Now Argentina did not prepare for total war against the totalitarian states; on the contrary, she befriended them. But Argentina, under Col. Peron, is to prepare for total war in a world in which the democratic states have survived and won. Against whom, then, is Argentina preparing for total war? Against the Soviet Union? It is absurd. Argentina is preparing for total war within the Atlantic community, and specifically against its weaker neighbors in South America.

Argentina has only some 13 million inhabitants. But relatively she is much stronger than her immediate neighbors, excepting only Brazil.

It is against his small neighbors that Col. Peron's military machine is, in the first instance, being prepared; if and when he has devoured and digested them, this greater Argentina will be prepared for greater adventures.

Let anyone who doubts this explain, if he can, why Argentina has supressed freedom, established a Fascist dictatorship, and is preparing for total war.

'IRENE' OPENS TONIGHT IN MUNICIPAL THEATER

Maureen Cannon and Robert Byrn Are Stars—Dancing to Be Featured.

"Irene," which set a record for musical comedy with its record run of two solid years on Broadway, will open tonight at 8:30 as this week's presentation of the Municipal Opera in Forest Park.

"Alice Blue Gown" is the hit song of the show, which centers around the story of a New York shopgirl, who is introduced to Fifth Avenue society through her dress modeling and who finally marries a millionaire. A ballet interpretation of the song is one of the featured dance routines.

Maureen Cannon, as Irene O'Day, and Robert Byrn as the rich playboy will have the leading roles. Other principals are Ruth Urban, returning for her first appearance of this season; William Lynn, in the comic role of the dress designer; Zamah Cunningham, Jack Sheehan, Earle MacVeigh, Al Downing, LeRoi Operti, Trudy Brooks, Inez Gorman and Carolyn Glenn.

3 Quick Tricks — Slick for Summer!

COOK WITH CRISCO! No other shortening does so much to make wartime meals EXCITING and DIGESTIBLE!

Warm days call for "short-order" dishes. Can you whip up quick meals that are exciting to eat? Easy to digest? It's easy with Crisco!

It's True! Crisco does more for your cooking than any other shortening. For Crisco has a special cooking secret. It gives you lighter, more tender cakes. A sure way to get flaky, tender pie crust every time. And with Crisco, there's no need to worry about digestions. Even Crisco fried foods are so digestible children may eat 'em.

Begin Today! Make lighter, mouth-melting Gingerbread with Crisco! Fry those Liver Sausage and Tomato Slices in Crisco and you'll know they're digestible. Any time a recipe calls for shortening—reach for pure, all-vegetable Crisco and be sure!

Fried Liver Sausage

Dip thick slices of liver sausage in seasoned flour. Fry quickly until brown in hot skillet containing enough Crisco to cover bottom. Remove and fry tomato slices. Arrange on platter with liver sausage. No need to worry about digestions when you fry with Crisco! Foods fried crisp and brown in Crisco are so digestible even children may eat 'em!

Skillet Stuffed Peppers

6 medium-sized green peppers
1 cup spaghetti, broken fine
¼ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped left-over ham (or other meat)
3 tbsps. Crisco
2 tsps. salt
1 tsp. chili powder
1 cup tomatoes, pulp and juice
Sliced carrots

Cut tops from peppers. Remove seeds and fibers. Let stand in boiling water for 10 min. Cook spaghetti in salted water. Fry onions, celery and ham in hot melted Crisco. (Use pure, digestible Crisco for all your frying. No heavy smoke or smell. No need to worry about digestions.) Add spaghetti; fry till lightly browned. Add seasonings and tomatoes. Fill pepper cups with mixture. Stand peppers upright around edge of skillet. Fill center with sliced carrots. Cover bottom of pan with water ½ inch deep. Cover skillet and cook slowly 35-45 min. or until peppers are tender. All Measurements Level. Serves 4-6.

Pecan Praline Gingerbread

½ cup Crisco
½ cup sugar
½ cup molasses
½ cup boiling water
1 egg
1½ cups sifted flour
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. soda
¾ tsp. ginger
¾ tsp. cinnamon

Blend together Crisco, sugar and molasses. (Crisco has a special success secret that gives you lighter cakes than those made with even the most expensive shortening!) Beat in egg. Sift dry ingredients together and stir into first mixture alternately with water; beat until smooth. Bake in 8" x 8" Criscoed pan in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 min. Remove cake and sprinkle top with mixture of ½ cup brown sugar, 2 tsps. cinnamon, 3 tbsps. flour, 3 tbsps. Crisco and ½ cup chopped pecans. Return to oven and bake 5-10 min. longer. All Measurements Level.

AIR TRANSPORTS FAIL AS A MARKET LIFTER

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—The stock market tried to promote a recovery today but failed.

Air transports led a selective upswing at the start and, by midday, gains of fractions to a point or so were observed in most departments. Dealings expanded for a while, then relapsed when there was no particular buying follow-through. Toward the finish initial advances had been substantially reduced and losers were plentiful.

Transfers for the full proceedings were 578,880 shares compared with 562,690 shares last Friday.

Of the 803 issues traded in today, 297 were higher, 285 lower and 221 unchanged. Eighteen made new 1944 highs and 1 a new low.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at 54.7, unchanged on the day.

The better action of the list in the morning apparently was based on the idea a sudden collapse of the Nazis, with possible transition troubles for industry at home, may have been partially discounted by the corrective reaction of recent weeks. The majority of customers, however, still showed considerable investment reluctance, although the recent dwindling of liquidation was helpful to sentiment.

Registering peaks for 1944 were American Airlines, Braniff Airways and United Air Lines. In front at intervals—some eventually slipped—were Pan American Airways, Eastern Air Lines, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Santa Fe, International Telephone and Johns-Manville. Rising steam was lacking for du Pont, Great Northern, U. S. Rubber, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Douglas Aircraft.

Trend on the Curb.

Supported in the Curb were Western Air Lines, American Gas, Creole Petroleum and Carrier Corporation.

The flurry in air line stocks was attributed partly to the flow of transport planes from the Government back to the companies for use in private passenger traffic. In addition, the aviation carriers are expected to reap considerably greater profits with the advent of peace.

Viewed as constructive for the share section was the move of authorities to gradually dispose of surplus war goods in an attempt to avoid repetition of the 1918 dumping when, as the OWI put it, "the entire war machine became surplus overnight." This agency revealed that materials amounting to some 400 million dollars have already been sold under the gradual distribution plan.

News in the Market.

Market analysts found scant comfort in the warning of the Office of Defense Transportation that motor carrier transportation may be seriously disrupted as the result of the current tire shortage. It was stressed that a large number of essential vehicles already are out of operation because of lack of tire replacements.

FAIRLY STEADY UNDERTONE TO NEW YORK BOND LIST

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—The bond market maintained a fairly steady undertone today, although changes were generally small and there were indifferent performances in most all groups.

Lehigh Coal and Navigation 5s firmed around a point in late trade. Others attracting buyers at slightly higher levels at the start of the final hour included Commercial Mackay income 4s, Rock Island 4½s and Colorado & Southern 4½s.

An assortment of reorganization and other type rails benefitted from a fair accumulation of week-end buying orders but here too there were a number of losers. Investment interest in the higher priced industrials and utilities was a stabilizing factor.

Making progress most of the time were, among others, Pennsylvania Railroad 4¼s, Revere Copper & Brass 3¼s, Southern Pacific 4½s, Wheeling Steel 3½s, American Telephone 3s and 3¼s, Michigan Consolidated Gas 3½s and American & Foreign Power 5s.

Monon 6s of 1947 were among the more backward issues, dropping more than 2 points at one time. The two International Telephone bonds were in supply along with Rio Grande Western 5s and Hudson Coal 5s. U. S. Governments held steady.

Foreign dollar bonds were narrow.

Atlantic Coast Line bonds firmed in the final hour. The first 4s, collateral 4s and 4½s moved up ⅜@⅞ on fair volume. Other late gainers included New Haven 4½s and 6s and Norfolk & Southern 4½s.

Northern Pacific loans eased.

EASY UNDERTONE TO WHOLE GRAIN LIST

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP).—The grain market was dull today and price changes in the wheat pit were minor. All futures showed an easy undertone with oats and rye leading the decline.

Resting orders held wheat price about steady but any attempt at a rally brought out hedges. Some of the buying was attributed to short covering.

A professional trader was a persistent seller in the rye pit but the trade was the lightest in several sessions. Despite the fact distillers tomorrow will start manufacturing beverage alcohol there was no improvement reported in the demand for cash rye.

Resting orders for September oats at 71 cents checked a decline in that market where weakness was believed to have resulted from easiness in the cash market. Oats are being harvested in a greater part of the country and Minneapolis received 303 cars today.

Wheat closed unchanged to ¼ lower, Sept. $1.55¾. Oats were off ¼ to ⅜. Sept. 71c. Rye was ⅜ to ⅞ lower, Sept. $1.05¼ @ ⅜. Barley was off ⅜ to ⅝, Sept. $1.12.

COTTON MARKET CLOSES 50C TO 75C A BALE LOWER

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—After rallying as much as 60 cents a bale, cotton futures turned easy today on scattered liquidation and hedge selling which met indifferent mill buying. Early strength was credited to a statement of Senator Bankhead (Dem.), Alabama, urging cotton farmers to hold raw cotton for full parity prices.

Late afternoon prices were 30 cents a bale lower to 20 cents higher; October 21.18, December 21.00 and March 20.85.

Futures closed 50 to 75 cents a bale lower.

INVENTION ON FRONT LINE OVERCOMES HAZARDS OF HEDGES

By HOWARD COWAN

ADVANCED COMMAND POST, SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 31 (AP).—Two G. I.s and a lieutenant who saw that Normandy hedgerows were impeding the Allies' advance and did something original about it are going to be rewarded by Gen. Eisenhower.

While details of the contraption they devised must remain secret, the original devices, it was disclosed, were developed from salvaged antitank obstacles strewn by the Germans along the Normandy beach.

Eisenhower was reported to have been pleased particularly with the speed with which senior officers picked up the idea and expedited its execution. It is now being used by both the British and United States armies.

A large order for the manufacture of the new item has been placed in England to supplement the original devices.

CORRECTION ON VOTERS' GUIDE ARTICLE ON HENRY C. O'MEARA

In a Voters' Guide article on Democratic candidates for State Representatives, in last Friday's Post-Dispatch, it was stated erroneously that Henry C. O'Meara, First District, was production manager of a discount company at 4824 Washington boulevard. He said he is an officer of the Aircraft Metal Manufacturing Co., engaged in war work, at that address.

O'Meara took exception to a statement in the article that he failed, in 1939, to pass a civil service test for the position he then held as warden of City Jail. He said an effort was made to hold an examination but none was held for lack of sufficient candidates.

MEAT SUPPLIES MAY FALL OFF 8 TO 10 PCT.

Reduction to Be Offset by Increase in Fruit, Vegetables, Cereals.

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP).—Reflecting reduced supplies and a lower level of livestock production, civilian meat supplies during the fall and early winter may be 8 or 10 per cent below those available in the first half of this year.

This forecast was given by the Agricultural department in a report on the food situation which said that food supplies as a whole would be relatively plentiful during the fall and winter.

Reduced supplies of meats and dairy products will be offset, the report said, by larger supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables and cereal products.

The department said the civilian food supply was being maintained at present levels despite large war requirements because of the "tremendous increase" in total food production since the beginning of the war.

ATTEMPT TO OUST FINNISH CABINET REPORTED IMMINENT

STOCKHOLM, July 31 (AP).—A new attempt to force resignation or ouster of the pro-German Finnish Government in favor of one which could make peace with Russia was reported imminent tonight, as German postiions in the Baltic states deteriorated.

Informants said that throughout the week end, groups opposed to Premier Edwin Linkomies were laying plans to rid the country of the Government which signed up Finland for solid military collaboration with Germany.

Information slipping through the close Finnish censorship to Stockholm said Marshal Baron Mannerheim and President Risto Ryti had held a long conference in Helsinki in the last few days.

HAM FISH ABSENT FROM OFFICE WHEN SUMMONS ARRIVES

Disorderly Conduct Charged Over Injecting Racial Issue in Campaign.

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP).—Former City Magistrate Joseph Goldstein attempted today to serve on Representative Hamilton Fish (Rep.), New York, a summons charging disorderly conduct—an aftermath of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's statement that Fish had injected a racial issue into his campaign for renomination. The primary is tomorrow.

Across the back of the summons was this notation: "Used offensive, disorderly, threatening and abusive language, conduct or behavior and language offensive to others."

Fish was quoted in an interview last week as saying "the Jews are more or less for the New Deal, unfortunately."

Goldstein appeared at Fish's downtown Manhattan office with the summons signed by Magistrate Raphael R. Koenig in Bowery Court and returnable Aug. 4. Told by a secretary that Fish was in Newburgh, Goldstein tried unsuccessfully to reach him there by telephone, then announced he would wait 24 hours and apply for a warrant.

Fish, at Newburgh, termed the attempt to serve a summons at his Manhattan office "political buncombe," asserting that "everyone must know that I would be in my district the day before the primary."

Meantime, Maxwell Anderson, playwright, called "all bluff and blather" Fish's declaration that he would file libel actions against Anderson and other signers of an anti-Fish political advertisement.

Solution Of Saturday's Puzzle

Have a "Coke" = What's the hurry?

...a way to be carefree in the Caribbean

Between spells of duty at our southern outposts, the American soldier knows how to relax. Have a "Coke", says a thirsty Yank, and it's like a friendly invitation to fun or a chin-fest...the same as when you serve Coca-Cola in your home. From the Caribbean to the Arctic, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a high-sign of friendliness many places overseas.

"Coke" = Coca-Cola

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

PYLE ON TRUCK TRIP TO TOW IN GERMAN TANKS

protection ahead. And yet there are times when you don't feel good to start with, you're uncomposed and the framework of your character is off balance, and you are weak inside. That's the way I was that night. Fortunately I'm not always that way.

Second Tank Found.

FINALLY the dark shape of the second tank loomed up. Our officers and some men were standing in the road beside it. We backed to within about five feet of it, and the driver shut off his motor and we climbed down.

A layman would think all you have to do is to hook a chain to the tank and pull it out of the ditch. But we were there half an hour. It seemed like all night to me.

First it had to be gone over for booby traps. I couldn't help but admire our mechanics. They knew these foreign tanks as well as our own.

One of them climbed down the hatch into the driver's seat and there in the dark, completely by feel, investigated the gadgets of the cockpit and found just what shape it was in and told us the trouble.

It seemed that on this tank two levers at the driver's seat had been left in gear and they were so bent there was not room to shift them out of gear.

One man was sent back up the road to get a hacksaw from the wrecker truck so they could saw off the handles. After five minutes he came back and said there wasn't any hacksaw. Then they sent him back after a crowbar and that finally did the trick.

During this time we stood in a group around the tank, about a dozen of us, just talking. Shells still roamed the dark sky, but they weren't coming as near as before.

There would be lulls of many minutes when there was hardly a sound but our own voices. Most everybody talked in low tones, yet in any group there's always somebody who can't bear to speak in anything less than foghorn proportions.

And now and then when they'd have to hammer on the tank it sounded as though a boiler factory had collapsed. I tried to counteract this by not talking at all.

An officer asked if anybody had inspected the breech of the tank's 88 gun. It seems the Germans sometimes leave a shell in the gun rigged up so it goes off when the tank is moved. Another officer said the breech was empty. So we started.

Slowly we ground back down the road in low gear, with our great, black, massive load rolling behind us. One soldier rode in the tank to steer it.

WE'D planned to pull it a long way back. Actually we pulled it only about half a mile, then decided to put it in a field for the night.

When we pulled into a likely pasture the sentry at the hedgerow gate wanted to know what we were doing and we told him, "leaving a German tank for the night."

And the sentry, in a horrified voice, said, "Good God, don't leave it here. They might come after it." But leave it there we did, and damn glad to get rid of it, I assure you.

We drove home in the blackout, watching the tall hedgerows against the lighted sky for guidance. For miles the roads were as empty and silent as the farthest corner of a desert. The crash of the guns grew welcomely dimmer until finally everything was nearly silent and it seemed there could be only peace in Normandy.

At last we came to our own hedgerow gate. As we drove in the sentry said, "coffee's waiting at the mess tent." They feed 24 hours a day in these outfits that work like firemen.

But my sleeping bag lay unrolled and waiting on the ground in a nearby tent. It was 3 a. m. With an almost childish gratitude at being there at all I went right to bed.

SIX ARGENTINE FACTIONS SEEKING TO EXTEND POWER of Buenos Aires are fighting expropriation, contending that payment should be made before the properties are taken.

Thirteen German firms have been "intervened" by the government in fulfillment of the Rio de Janeiro conference agreements to control Axis commercial activities.

There is much talk of nationalizing the British-owned railroads, and a 60-million-peso fine has been imposed for several alleged misdemeanors. But this is a very tangled topic. Most arguments are against expropriation. (The Argentine peso is now quoted at 24.85 cents American.)

National sentimental satisfaction at saying that the railroads are Argentine instead of British is balanced by Nationalist opinion that the continued existence of British investments in railroads is an earnest of British purchases of Argentine products after the war.

Temporarily, at least, Argentina is no market for investment in view of State expropriations, some of which have been rather high-handed. There is, however, a school of thought among American businessmen which foresees that 100 per cent subsidiaries in Latin America—and in Argentina in particular—no longer is a satisfactory method of investment. They feel that mixed investments, part Argentine, part American, provide a sounder basis of doing business in the long run.

Claudette Colbert is now the favorite to play the Louella Parsons role in "The Gay Illiterate." . . . Tyrone Power has transferred to the Marine Transport Command. . . . The characters in "Since You Went Away" are so goodie-goodie that Nunnally Johnson says that picture makes the people in "The Human Comedy" look like a pack of snarling wolves.

Jack Wagner and John Steinbeck have written another story together; it is called "Mejicano" and will be offered to the movies soon. . . . There is a scene in "To Have and Have Not" in which Lauren Bacall looks seductive enough to—well, seductive enough. BROADWAY

By WALTER WINCHELL

THE Magic Lanterns: The stars of "Dragon Seed" are the dauntless Chinese people who refused to succumb to a ruthless, well-armed enemy when their sole weapon was courage. This isn't the kind of drama you can forget when you leave the theatre; it follows your conscience home. As the Chinese Mrs. Miniver, Kate Hepburn has the unique distinction of being an actress who can act. . . . The juke box set will consider "Step Lively" wonderful. Frankeeeeee is the star. But those who aren't in a Sinatrance will see a tidy musical with every little cliche on its best behavior. . . . Benny Fields' warbling rings true in "Minstrel Man," otherwise it is a false, weepy tale that audiences will cut off without a sentiment. . . . "Return of the Ape Man" sells gooseflesh wholesale. Lugosi is up to his old bogeymantics —but the yarn is haunted by the ghosts of dead scripts. . . . The most merciful verdict for "Sundown Valley" is that it improves as it unreels: It goes from worse to bad. . . . "Since You Went Away" is a four-handkerchief picture.

BETWEEN THE Book Ends: America's favorite indoor sport nowadays must be military-experting: A book of maps is a best-seller. . . . The cream of Raymond Clapper's colyums makes an exciting literary dish: "Watching the World" (Whittlesey). It disproves the theory that yesterday's newspaper lacks interest. His opinions are still timely, especially his thoughtful essays on Congress. . . . The popular new novel, "Colcorton" (Scribner's), took seven years to write. And you want to be an author? . . . Bob Hope's eloquent introduction to his tome, "I Never Left Home," is a bit of serious writing few editorialists can match. . . . C. Michelson's, "The Ghost Talks," informs that Sen. Wheeler has been in a huff because he wasn't chosen as FDR's running mate in 1932. And because of that personal peeve he has opposed the President on vital issues that affect the future of the world. Fine thing.

THE MAGAZINES: It was Hemingway Week over at Collier's for one issue. Ernie and his talented frau (Martha Gellhorn) dominated the mag with two warticles right out of literature's top drawer. . . . Life's editorialist is gifted with the knack of taking the jig-saw puzzle of current events and fitting them into a clear picture of today's problems. The opinion boy stressed that the U. S. and the U. S. S. R. may have different types of governments but their international aims are twins: Both desire victory and lasting peace. . . . The Nation was pained by the paradox of the Allies knocking out military home-runs and then fumbling diplomatic pop-ups. . . . Senator Kilgore is represented in Scope with a pithy essay. Americans can no longer dawdle in the isolationist kindergarten, he reminds.

QUOTATION MARKSMANSHIP: H. Ainsley: Home is where you oan scratch any place you itch. . . . B. Radcliff: Many people who wouldn't dream of speaking with their mouths full, insist on talking with their heads empty. . . . Raymond Clapper: We have thousands of men now acting with courage. We have too few who think with courage. . . . J. Senns: A man's opinions will all change except the good one he has of himself. . . .K. Lorimer: Many an argument is sound, but most of them are just noise. . . . L. Conrad: No man ever got lost on a straight road. . . . W. J. Boetcker: If you want to know how rich you really are, find out what would be left of you tomorrow if you should lose every dollar you own tonight. . . . A. Asquith: I have the sort of face that bores me when I see it on other people. . . . Martin Lawrin: The surest way to lose your health is to keep drinking to other people's.

CASE RECORDS

By Dr. George W. Crane

CASE D-213: Clyde V., aged 39, is an unusually successful dentist. "My office is so crowded with patients that I have had to limit myself to a 15-minute lunch hour," he admitted. "It isn't that I have so much technical skill, either, but only that I have learned the art of motivating people. When I was in college, I became interested in magic and indulged in sleight-of-hand tricks as a hobby. Furthermore, I won a couple of letters in track. After I opened my office, I found that the general public never asked a word about whether I had made an 'A' average versus a 'C' average in dental school. They didn't inquire where I stood on the State Board examinations. Most of them don't seem to know or care whether I attend post-graduate clinics.

"I COULD HAVE studied in European clinics and have had twice the technical training of my colleagues in this city, but I could still have starved for lack of patients. But I soon found that my sleight-of-hand tricks did me more good than my year of graduate study in dentistry. When children came to my office, I casually performed a couple of magic tricks. They liked a doctor who would thus appeal to their basic interests. Soon they began stopping at my office with their schoolmates, even though they weren't scheduled for any dental work. But they would ask me to please show their friends some of my tricks. Then when the latter needed dental care, they asked their parents to let them come to my office. In this manner, I soon recruited a large practice. Some of my colleagues think it is because I studied in post-graduate clinics more than they did, but most of my patients don't know that fact. With the high school young fellows, I can discuss athletics and show a he-man set of muscles. It impresses them, and they like me. Dr. Crane, I am in hearty agreement with a statement you formerly made in your column. You said that success in this modern world demands technical training, plus. And that plus value you defined as an understanding of Applied Psychology. It is true."

DURING THE DEPTHS of the depression, I addressed the Brooklyn Dental Society. Its president informed me that 200 dentists in Brooklyn alone were on relief at that time and an even greater number of physicians. These professional men had graduated from first class dental and medical colleges. They had creditably passed their State Board examinations. They were thus very well trained as far as technical dentistry or medicine is concerned, but they had not been taught Applied Psychology. It would be a great boon to professional men if their colleges offered them at least one semester of practical psychology, included in which might even be a few magic tricks and other attention attracters for use on children. Our professional schools still are woefully myopic, believing that if you are a good dentist or physician in technical skill, your office will be flooded with patients. The Brooklyn situation just described, refutes this old "mousetrap" theory.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long three-cect stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing or printing costs when you seek personal advice or one of his psychological charts.

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

DRY weather interferes much with the normal development of vegetation. Lack of moisture causes tough and misshapen vegetables. Since the quality of the vegetable is brought about by natural causes, we need to think about what we can supply in our cooking to make up for any deficiency in flavor or texture. Such vegetables should be cooked as soon as they are gathered or purchased. As a rule, they need more cooking and require more water for cooking. Vegetables such as green beans may be cooked in less time, simply by slicing the beans very thin. When this is done, however, there is danger of losing some of the vitamins and minerals if any of the water is drained off. Add the water as needed and allow it to evaporate carefully so there will be no scorching.

Green Beans and Mushroom Sauce.

Two cups boiling water, one-half pound green beans, washed and tips cut off; one teaspoon salt, one-half pound mushrooms, diced; one and one-fourth cups milk, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one teaspoon onion juice, one-fourth cup flour, two tablespoons butter. Wash beans thoroughly. If tough, cut fine; add salt and cook quickly 15 to 20 minutes or until tender. Drain off liquid and save. Cook the mushrooms in the milk for three minutes. Add salt, onion juice and bean liquid. Blend flour and softened butter, add part of liquid, stirring constantly. Combine with the hot mixture and cook until mixture bubbles and thickens, stirring constantly. Four servings.

MENUS FOR TUESDAY.

Breakfast.

Pear juice, juice drained from pears on Monday. Add juice of 1 orange and 1 grapefruit. Chill and serve. Soft boiled eggs, four to six; bacon, one-third pound; toast, eight slices.

Luncheon.

Jellied tomato bouillon — Soften two tablespoons gelatine in one-fourth cup cold water. Cook together four cups diced fresh tomatoes, one cup water, two tablespoons chopped onion, two branches celery leaves, one-half teaspoon salt, four whole cloves, one small piece bay leaf for 15 minutes. Puree through a sieve. Add hot water to make four cups liquid. Dissolve gelatine in the hot puree. Add two teaspoons tarragon vinegar. Cool; set in refrigerator to congeal. Serve with a thin slice of lemon and a sprig of parsley. Peanut butter sandwiches — Eight slices bread, one-third cup peanut butter, minced pickles or mayonnaise. Ambrosia — Three bananas, sliced; two oranges, diced, and grated cocoanut. Sugar to taste.

Dinner.

Ham and potato casserole—Pan fry one-pound ham, sliced one-half inch thick, in one tablespoon bacon drippings. Place in bottom of buttered baking dish. Melt two tablespoons margarine in the skillet; blend in two tablespoons flour. Add one and one-half cups milk, add salt and pepper as needed and stir over direct heat until sauce boils and thickens. Have peeled and sliced five to six medium potatoes and arrange over top of ham. Add sauce. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Uncover and continue baking until tender, about 30 minutes. Green beans and mushroom sauce—See recipe above. Lettuce salad—Small head lettuce, Thousand Island dressing. Bread — Eight slices. Stewed or fresh plums—One and one-half pounds fresh plums, one-half cup water, sugar to taste, simmer over low heat, about 10 minutes. Chill and serve. Butter or fortified margarine used on all breads. Include in today's menus, milk to drink: seven cups for children, three cups for adults.

My Neighbor Says:

July and early August are considered very good times for sowing grass seed on terraces. Cooler nights and warm days encourage the greatest amount of growth.

Now is the time to cultivate vegetable gardens. Since soil packs so quickly in summer, the hoe should be used on it every 10 days.

A teaspoon of curry will do things for a dull French dressing. A sprinkling of chopped hard-cooked egg can be added too.

Teen-Age Makeup

By Patricia Lindsay

FOOLISH is the young lady of teen-age who uses too much make-up, or beauty aids mixed to treat older skins.

Youthful beauty is flowerlike; fresh looking and delicate and far more attractive than a face covered with cosmetics. From thirteen on the question whether Miss Teen-age should or should not use cosmetics is a family problem and very debatable.

The teen-ager should be first concerned about a clean face. A bar of soap should be her chief beauty aid. If her skin is clear and soft and fair she requires no cream whatever other than a sun cream during summer. She is better off to do without all face creams and make-up foundations unless she has a skin problem such as too dry, too oily, too sensitive, blemished. Then she needs a corrective aid not a beauty cream.

There are two schools of thought regarding make-up, but I hold to this one. From 13 to 16 a girl should not use any make-up other than finger and toe nail polish and a bit of face powder for parties. From 16 on she can use face powder (the same tone as her current skin color) and lipstick. But she should be sparing with both. No exaggerated Hollywood lip outline; no pasty effect on her skin from too much powder.

Once a week she can give her face a good creaming. But every day it should have a good washing and chilled water splashed on the face as a final rinse does much to keep the face skin young and clear and sparkling. Why cover natural, lovely beauty? Accent it slightly if you wish, but do not cover what is so rare and so mourned by girls and women who have lost their youthful loveliness!

The Pugnacious Phase

By Angelo Patri

FEW children under 5 reach that age without having gone through a period of battle, punching, hitting, biting, seemingly without cause. It is not uncommon to find them having had this development rather late, or having dwelt in it overlong.

There is nothing to be alarmed about. It is one of the periods of growth that carries this bit of unpleasantness with it. In most children a few cautions, a few separations, a redirection of interest and strongly expressed disapproval of such behavior, settles the matter. In a few extreme cases the child carries the practice longer.

Don't be frightened. Don't slap, shake and scold. Remove him gently and firmly from the company, keep him alone for the remainder of the playtime, saying: "You did not play nicely. When you can play nicely, you can go back. Maybe tomorrow, if you try." If tomorrow he forgets, repeat the routine. In time the idea takes hold.

Don't bite the child who bites. Children believe that what grown-up people do is the right thing to do and copy it. When the slapper is slapped in return, the biter bitten, the kicker kicked, he is taught that his mistake is accepted as the right thing to do by the adults. He will not hear what is said to him, but he will remember what was done to him, and do it to others as soon as he finds opportunity.

Some children take up weapons at this time and endanger their playmates. They are not potential murderers. They are hitting with all their might and the shovel helps strengthen the blow. The same impulsive force that is behind the slap, the punch or the bite is behind the shovel, and it has no deeper meaning than the undisciplined growth of a child ever has.

There is nothing to do with a child who has this impulse but to stand guard over him during playtime. A blow on the head with a sturdy shovel wielded by a sturdy arm, can work grave mischief. Stay by and be ready to catch the first gesture of assault and remove the attacker immediately. No second chance for that day. Isolation will impress him more than words.

Don't make the mistake of giving him a rubber shovel so that it won't hurt. That will teach him that hitting with the shovel is all right, only the result is questionable. He might mislay the rubber shovel and find the iron one, and continue on his course with it.

A period of patient watching, of praise for good behavior, stern disapproval for roughness, and the stage passes.

Vegetables in Sour Cream

One bunch radishes, one bunch scallions, two carrots, one cucumber, freshly ground black pepper, lettuce, one-half pint sour cream.

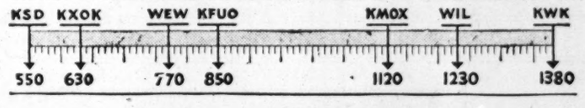

Cut the radishes into roses, cut the carrots and cucumber into strips and clean and trim the scallions. Arrange the vegetables attractively on a bed of lettuce and sprinkle with the freshly ground black pepper. Pass the chilled sour cream in a separate bowl.

Fencing will help to develop the calves of the legs and is good for the bean-pole type of girl.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM a 17-year-old boy working at an Army camp selling newspapers. I write to some of the fellows who leave the field, telling them news of the field, about friends they've left here. Now the fellows back in town think this is a sissy job, that it's up to the girls to do the writing and cheering up, but most of the fellows seem to enjoy it and one of them goes as far as to call me his brother. Also, I have gone out with a number of girls and tell them I like them, then only to wake up and find I don't care for them, and wander off to another girl. I like to dance, but what I really want is companionship. How do I go about finding that certain one and only?

JUST PLAIN BILL.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest, but of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

In answer to your first question, I see nothing wrong in writing to friends you've made at the Army base after they have left. Most of the morale building and letter writing is done by girls, but that does not mean boys can't write letters to members of their own sex, if they like to write letters. As for finding the one and only, give yourself some time. You're only 17 and wouldn't want to get too serious about any particular girl as yet. Keep on going out and dancing with a wide variety of girls, so that you'll be a better judge, and can best select a congenial companion for life.

Dear Martha Carr:

MY SISTER AND her husband recently gave up their home to come and take charge of our home, as my mother is failing in health, and I am employed. Their children are grown and in service. It will be necessary for my sister to accompany my mother to a health resort for a short time. My mother suggests that my cousin should come and stay during their absence. I feel it to be unnecessary. What is your opinion?

PERPLEXED.

The answer to a question of this kind depends so much on the circumstances. If the sister and her husband are either much younger or much older than you, or if the circumstances are such that even the most gossipy of Mrs. Grundys could see nothing wrong in your brother-in-law and you staying in the house alone, it would be all right. However, I would bend over backwards in an effort to avoid gossip. In every neighborhood there are people who are able to speak maliciously of the most harmless of situations.

IN ANSWER TO "Etta Mae": I'm afraid I can't be of much help in starting the correspondence club, as I feel it's quite risky to write letters to people you do not know, and whose names you pick out of thin air, as it were. If you would like to have the club sponsored by your school you might talk to one of the teachers, get her to write to schools in other large cities and secure lists of interested correspondents that way.

IN ANSWER TO "M. J. M.": If the person asks you to go very often, you should expect to pay your own way both for the show and refreshments. If the older person specifies that you are to be his or her guest and insists on paying, that would be all right, but only on occasions.

IN ANSWER TO "M. H. M.": I am not permitted to recommend any particular schools. I would suggest that you call the Art Museum here, or look at the advertisements in the magazines at the Art Room of the Public Library.

IN ANSWER TO "E. G.": Send a stamped addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Gaining and Developing," for exercises on developing the bust.

IN ANSWER TO "A Friend": If the soldier's wife who needs to add to her income by sewing will consult the Red Cross they may be able to help her obtain a sewing machine.

IN ANSWER TO "Three Pals": Send a stamped addressed envelope for my leaflet on "Blackheads and Pimples."

Social Problems

By Emily Post

SOME time ago, to a reader who asked me whether or not it was proper to replace a blue star on the service flag which hung in her window with a silver one when the person for whom the flag was hung had gone overseas, (because people in her community were doing this) I answered that I had never heard of it, but that if I heard of a definite ruling on that subject I would be very glad to print it. This morning I have received a clipping from the column of the Military Service Editor of an eastern paper which says:

"There is no such thing as a silver star according to the act of Congress creating the service flag. Only two types of stars are officially recognized. The blue star for men and women in service and the gold star for those killed in action. The unauthorized silver star was created by an alert salesminded manufacturer who has been selling it as representing men overseas, women in service, wounded men, Seabees, air force personnel, and lately Cadet nurses—all designation, of course, being incorrect."

DEAR MRS. POST: If it is necessary to provide one for a wedding what directions could you give for the white runner on the aisle in church? How is this put down and when taken up? And how wrong would it be not to provide one. The bride is wearing a white bridal dress which has a train and a veil.

Answer: It is not at all necessary that a runner be provided. As a matter of fact, I have never even seen one! The bride's train always drags on the carpet or the bare floor according to whether the aisle is ordinarily carpeted or not. The church is always brushed and the aisle swept before a wedding, and even if it is a rainy day not many people go up the aisle in wet shoes. If the under edges of her train become damp or dusty it can't be helped! After all, this is the only time the bride can ever wear the dress with train attached. Also, there is plenty of time to have it cleaned after the wedding, before putting it away or making further use of its material.

DEAR MRS. POST: Is it permissable to write invitations to an "at home" on a penny post card? If so, will you tell us how to word them?

Answer: Even in this day of paper economy, it would be very shoddy. You may write across your visiting card "At home from 4 to 6 or, from 8 to 10" and the date. Or you may of course ask people verbally.

Doctor on Injuries of The Hands

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

THERE is a highly respected school of biological philosophers who maintain that it is not the massive size of his brain which has lifted man above the brutes, but his hand. The fact that we can appose our thumbs to each of our fingers has done more for us than the fact that we can define an isosceles triangle.

"Nature has developed in the hand a finely co-ordinated motor and sensory organ which has made possible our present civilization," wrote Dr. Michael Mason. "The hand is composed of compact and efficiently balanced muscles, tendons and joints, motor and sensory nerves and specialized nerve endings. Bulk and protection are sacrificed to efficiency, there is nothing to spare, each part is reduced to a minimum."

The human hand having this marvelous efficiency and also insatiable curiosity, sticking itself into all sorts of machinery, giving here the flywheel a little extra spin, and trying to pry open a sticking screen door, naturally quite often gets itself into trouble. And since, as Dr. Mason points out, it has nothing to spare, when an injury occurs it is the problem of the surgeon to make as complete a restoration as possible.

THE GREATEST danger to the hand after injury is infection. A cellulitis, what used to be called blood poisoning, with inflammation running up the tendon sheaths and lymphatics of the hand and arm may cripple such a member forever. Any injury to the hand then must be examined and treated under the strictest possible conditions of surgical asepsis.

A splinter or any penetrating body should be removed provided the removal does not cause too much tissue destruction and open the liability to more infection. If there is the slightest tendency for one of these wounds to "fester," the hand and arm should be smothered in wet dressings of boric, alcohol and a few drops of phenol and kept hot and moist until the inflammation subsides.

INDUSTRIAL SURGEONS have this to say about various types of hand injuries:

Human Bites—These are usually incidental to fist fights and hence thewound is usually on the knuckle and tooth penetration often enters one of the tendons. "Experience leads us to believe," writes Dr. Vinton E. Siler, of Cincinnati, "that doctors, hospital residents and interns do not have enough respect for this injury. Many patients are examined in the admitting ward, given first aid, discharged and told to return if the wound does not heal. A human bite injury, if not treated properly at the time, will usually lead to serious infection. Splinting and moist heat are indicated in all human bite injuries. In a series of hand injuries, the cause was a human bite in 10 per cent.

Wringer injuries—These are not limited to people working in laundries. Children suffer them frequently. Since the rollers of the wringer produce equal pressure on two sides the injury is usually limited to soft tissues. Fractures do not occur very often, but there is contusion and bleeding into the tissue spaces. Unless the skin is injured they are treated by splinting and a pressure dressing.

Blood clot under the fingernail —This common injury is very common and very painful, but not serious. No treatment needs usually to be instituted. There is a great temptation to drill an opening through the nail to let the clot out, but this procedure is usually not successful and invites infection. The throbbing pain is bad for 24 hours, but can be controlled by heat and aspirin, or at the worst by codeine. Sometimes the blood clot gets so large that it is necessary to remove part of the nail, but this is the exception and very rare.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Ignorance": Would diabetes, ovarian or kidney disease show up in a blood test? If so what other diseases?

Answer: Tests for the chemistry of blood are now quite scientific. In diabetes the sugar in the blood is increased over normal. In kidney disease if sufficiently advanced that the kidneys do not get rid of the waste products at the rate they normally do, these products accumulate in the blood and can be detected—urea, creatinine and other nitrogenous products. There are no changes in the blood in ovarian disease. Other diseases detected by blood chemistry tests are gout and certain bone diseases, in which latter the blood calcium and phosphorus are changed from normal.

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

MASCOUTAH, Ill., July 30.

FOR seven years Dorothy Mary Louise Jung has not walked and the doctors say she never will walk, but she is not unhappy. She laughs in the face of fate and never complains. Life is good, she says. She has more than a lot of other girls have. She is quite content.

Until Dorothy was nine years old she was like other children, more agile and active than most girls of her age. She helped with the chores at the farm home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Xavier Jung, six miles south of here, and went to school at Fayetteville. On a Wednesday she said she was not feeling well. She was taken to a doctor and he said it was nothing but a cold. She would soon be all right. But two days later she was unable to stand or move her head and hands. She had been stricken with infantile paralysis.

For three years she was almost constantly in bed and no attempt was made to continue her education. By the end of that time she was able to move her head and body and hands, but her legs remained useless. Yet her mind was active and despite the absence of formal instruction she developed an understanding rather beyond that of children of her age. Her mother and grandmother read to her and that helped.

THE problem of her education was solved by the assignment of grade school teachers to give her instruction at home. They came five days a week after dismissal of their school classes. She had been in the third grade when she was stricken. She was able to take up fifth grade lessons when her home instruction began. She finished grade school and now, under the same system of home instruction, is a student of the Mascoutah high school and holding her own with students of her age.

It was not until she was 14 that Dorothy knew she would not walk again. For the third time she was taken to the Shriners' Hospital in St. Louis. Her parents had given up hope but they had not told her. She had cherished a hope that an operation would help. On this third visit she determined to find out. She asked the doctor to tell her whether she would ever walk again. She was so forthright that he could do nothing less than tell the truth.

"The way it looks now," he said, "you may never walk again, normally. But don't let it discourage you and above all don't feel sorry for yourself. That's the main thing. You can make something of yourself, I know that."

He said more but that is all that she remembers. She turned away to hide her tears.

Telling about it now, as she sits in her wheel chair, Dorothy says: "It took me quite a while to come through that shock. Everything was so much mixed up, and I must admit things didn't make very much sense to me just then. I tried so hard to think it out, but the overwhelming force of the doctor's words kept ringing in my ears. How on earth could I pretend it didn't matter? How could I keep from letting my friends know. If they knew they'd feel sorry for me, and above all I didn't want that.

"I can't put my finger on the thing, or things, that pulled me through this disappointment. Maybe it was pride, or stubbornness, or determination; maybe all three. At any rate, I put my mind on school work and finding a place for myself."

Ever since the doctor gave his verdict that she would never walk again, Dorothy has been adapting herself to the life that lies before her. Mostly reading and writing have engaged her mind. With the recovered use of her fingers she learned typing. As she sits in her wheel chair at the library table that serves as her desk, her typewriter, on a specially built support, is within her reach. Also within her reach are books, the radio and the telephone. She writes so well that she won, in May, an honorable mention from the Scholastic Magazine for an autobiographical sketch of herself. She smilingly mentions as an accomplishment her ability to fix her hair to her own satisfaction. She sews, knits and embroiders and won a blue ribbon for the soldier's sweater that she knitted and exhibited at the Farmers' Institute. And her mother proudly adds that she can patch clothes and peel potatoes.

DOROTHY TYPES A LETTER TO ONE OF THE 24 SOLDIERS WITH WHOM SHE CORRESPONDS.

Now it is correspondence with men in the armed services that keep her occupied and happy. It started with a letter she sent to Orville Rosen, who was a neighbor's hired hand before he went away. That suggested to her that she could be useful in cheering up the men at the front. She wrote to others who had gone from the neighborhood and some of them told comrades about the little shut-in and the letters that she wrote. In that and other ways the word spread and her list of correspondents grew. Now there are 24, scattered all over the world, and she writes two to six letters a day.

IRVIN LEMPKE, the rural mail carrier, says she sends and receives more letters than anybody on his route.

Her only fault, she says, is that she writes too much. Her letters are usually so long that she has to pay double postage on them. The reason for her long letters is that there are not many visitors to the farmhouse half a mile from the highway and, lacking somebody to talk to, she talks to her heart's content in her letters to the soldiers.

At home Dorothy says she finds all sorts of ways to amuse herself. When she tires of reading and writing, her little brothers push her chair out into the yard or to the tool house, where she can reach and handle the tools that her father uses, rejoicing in the feeling of strength that she gets from them.

"It's a pretty good world," says Dorothy, "if you take it in your stride. It isn't so hard to live in a wheel chair. I can't change it and I'm not complaining about it. Does it matter whether I ever walk again? Yes, I suppose it does in a way, but I am not going to let it bother me. I have a sound mind. I can make out of my life what I choose. I have my school work, my many friends, my correspondents, my books and my ambitions. So you see I'm quite content."

Her ambition is to be a writer. "I don't aspire to be famous," she says. I just want to write for my own pleasure. A quiet, useful life without too much praise is what I want, and I am confident I can have that."

Such contentment seemed so unusual, under such circumstances, that the stranger who visited Dorothy that day wondered whether she is always really happy. It could be a defensive mask that she puts on when visitors come. Something of what the visitor was thinking must have communicated itself to Dorothy's father, for as he helped pack the camera in the car he said with a sort of awe: "I never in all the time since she was stricken have heard that child complain."

South Says North's Bid Too Obtuse

By Ely Culbertson

A SLAM was lost in this deal because one partner could not figure out just what it was that the other partner needed to know.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠8762 ♥Q ♦AKQ965 ♣A3
♠105 ♥8432 ♦J82 ♣7642	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠J ♥AKJ1076 ♦1043 ♣J109
	♠AKQ943 ♥95 ♦7 ♣KQ85

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	1 heart	1 spade	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 clubs	Pass
5 clubs	Pass	5 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

Obviously, East-West could take only one trick, a heart. Thus the 750-point slam bonus had escaped North-South.

In discussing the deal North said that he had done all he could do when he jumped from one spade to three spades and later implied that he had the club ace by raising South's four club bid. He said that when South then bid only five spades, he (North) was afraid that South already was counting on him for something like K-x-x-x of trumps, and that his actual eight-high holding had made him fear the loss of a trump trick as well as a heart.

South answered that all this did not alter the fact that he (South) had had to fear the immediate loss of two heart tricks. He pointed out that North's bidding would have been equally sound if he had held ♠J10xx ♥xx ♦AKQxx ♣AJ and that with this holding the slam would be hopeless.

There was logic in both positions. The real point, however, was that North overlooked the opportunity to make a better, i. e., more revealing, bid than five clubs over four clubs. He should have bid four hearts, on the sound analysis that South could not venture to the slam without knowledge of a first or second round heart control.

My Day -o- By Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Sunday.

ON the afternoon of the 26th, after leaving Lake Junaluska, we drove to Moore General Hospital, a military hospital where there are nearly a thousand patients. Many of them are able to be up and about for at least part of the time, so these were gathered in the Red Cross recreation hall, where I had a chance to talk with them.

The policy of getting our wounded into hospitals as near home as possible is well exemplified here. I found only one boy whose home was in California. All the others lived within a radius of a few hundred miles, and some were very near to their families. The boys here are back from all the different fronts, and I think it must be a great joy to them to find themselves in this delightful climate after the many months spent on the Anzio beachhead, in the mountains of Italy or on the islands of the Pacific.

I was able to go through only three wards where there were bed patients, but at the end of one of these wards I came upon four wounded German prisoners. The German type is not very different from some of our own men, and these four had begun to lose the gauntness and drawn expression which characterize fighting men when they first come out of battle zones. Their wounds were being treated, and one boy, who had tuberculosis of the spine, was in bed. I am sure that in every way we live up to the Geneva Convention, and I only hope our enemies will do the same for our men.

Dr. Guy Snavely, who has a summer cottage at Lake Junaluska, traveled back on the train with me and helped to find my grandson, who joined me at Greensboro, N. C. The train was late and made only a brief stop at the station, so that all of us were rather breathless when, after hasty farewells to the kind people who had brought him down, we finally got my grandson aboard for the last lap of our journey.

I did not have time, while in Waynesboro, to stop at the little gift shop which had sent over some lovely hooked rugs and brightly colored Indian baskets as decorations for one of the rooms in the hotel. I can never resist baskets, so perhaps it was just as well I could not stop. Otherwise, I should probably have found myself traveling home burdened down with more of them, when I already have samples from many parts of the world which I rarely use.

As usual, we have a succession of guests. This is the nicest part of living in the country—people can drop in on you. I have almost caught up with the mail which accumulated while I was gone, and by next week I will be back, feeling really leisurely again.

Your Stars

WHAT TO EXPECT TOMORROW.

Sun in Leo.

General Tendencies—This is a day for serious thoughts, careful planning about finances and the exercise of self control when impulsive ideas may arise. Doubtless business matters will be favored, but there may be some let-down in physical health or ambition. A very busy period will begin tomorrow, and for the next three weeks there will be many unexpected and difficult tasks for the majority. Try to delay travel until after the middle of the month.

If Tomorrow Is Your Birthday.

You enter upon your next year with high ideals of value given and received, an attitude which is bound to bring success in work if you persist in it. Marriage seems quite possible, supposing that you are eligible for this step, and apparently attracts a partner of careful temperament and some accumulation of this world's goods. You are most apt to make these new contacts in the Spring of 1945—say about April.

For clear, sparkling windows, wash first with soapy water and rinse with clear water to which a little vinegar has been added.

"Gung Ho" FOR PARTY LINE NEIGHBORS

It helps you when your telephone neighbors use the party line sharingly.

You appreciate their keeping conversations brief, allowing plenty of time between calls, and always replacing the receiver after talking.

And when you are thoughtful in the same way, it's a break for them, too.

The Chinese have a word for it: "Gung Ho"—that means "working in harmony."
